TESTIMONY AS TO CHARACTER HEARD IN TURNER DEFENSE

State Permitted to Ask His Witnesses if They Had Heard of His Indictments by a Federal Grand Jury.

HALLIDAY REFUSES TO TESTIFY FOR TURNER

Bankrupt Broker and Convicted Embezzler Stands on His Constitutional Rights and Is Excused.

Character witnesses for the defense were heard today in the trial of Harry Turner of 4111 Washington boulevard, in Judge Grimm's court, on the charge of third-degree forgery in connection with the counterfeiting of $1,500,000 interim certificates of J. P. Morgan & Co. for French Government bonds.

By permission of the Court, and over objections of Turner's counsel, the prosecution was permitted to ask the character witnesses, after they had testified that Turner's reputation for "truth and honesty" was good, if they had heard of Federal indictments returned against Turner in 1917, one under the espionage act and one on a charge of mailing obscene matter.

No conviction resulted in either of the Federal cases, but the citing of them, in the questions of the prosecution, served to bring before the jury the charges made against the defendant several years ago. The witnesses said, in most cases, that they had heard of the 1917 indictments.

Character Witnesses Heard.

Testimony of the character witnesses followed that of Alice Martin of 4505 Olive street, owner of Turner's publication, "Much Ado," and signer of checks used by Turner in paying for the engraving work which was the first part of the counterfeiting of the Morgan certificates.

Before Miss Martin testified George V. Halliday of 3154 Magnolia avenue, bankrupt broker, indicted with Turne on the forgery charge, was called as first witness for the defense, but he stood on his constitutional right and refused to testify, and was excused by the Court.

Halliday was served with a subpena as a defense witness, shortly before the opening of court, when he appeared in the courtroom on a matter connected with his own case. Halliday is under a three years' penitentiary sentence for embezzlement from a client growing out of his $100,000 brokerage failure.

Halliday, after stating his name, answered one question of Turner's lawyer, by saying that he had known Turner three years. He then said, "I refuse to testify in this case. I stand on my constitutional rights. I am also indicted." He was told to step down, and remained in the courtroom.

Mentioned in Defense Statement.

Turner's lawyer, in his opening statement to the jury Tuesday, endeavored to place the entire burden of guilt in the case upon Halliday.

Miss Martin testified she had been owner of "Much Ado" since 1918, and that she had given to the publication such time as she could spare from her dancing classes and from the direction of the Junior Players, an organization which she said included about 150 children. Her duties with the publication, she said, were "to receive and disburse moneys, sometimes to read proofs, and sometimes to get out the paper." She said she had part in all business of the paper except the writing.

She told of being taken to the Federal Building at the time of Turner's arrest on Thanksgiving day, 1921, and being held there several hours.

Heard Talk About Bond Engraving.

She said she first saw Halliday in July, 1921, though she had previously known of him as an advertiser in "Much Ado." She said Halliday called on Turner at the office of the publication, 4111 Washington boulevard, which is also Turner's residence, and that she then and there heard Turner and Halliday talk about the engraving of a border "for a bond." This was objected to as hearsay, but the Court ruled that she could testify to a conversation in her presence.

"I was sitting at my desk when Halliday came in," Miss Martin said. "He thanked Turner for the courage he had shown in printing a certain article, and Turner then introduced him to me. He then asked Turner if he would execute a commission for him, in having some engraving done, and said he would pay $150, and Turner said it would be all right, that he could see no harm in getting the work done for Halliday.

"I saw Halliday later, in the of-

Money Given Away in Jokes Aboard Ship Was Genuine

Bills, Collected by Passenger in Glasgow, Were Delt Like Cards in Poker Game—$1500 Tossed Overboard.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Michael J. Sullivan, general manager of the Canadian Shipping Company of Salem, Mass., and Izzy Jacobs of this city, who were detained upon their arrival on the steamship Homeric yesterday on charges of passing counterfeit money, which they had been passing around as "souvenirs" today learned the money was genuine.

"And I threw $1500 of it overboard!" Sullivan said.

Sullivan still had 28 of the bills, of $10 denomination, in his possession when he was detained. Federal authorities, upon examination pronounced them genuine, and he and Jacobs were ordered released. Sullivan declared the bills he had given away and thrown overboard were of the same series as those pronounced genuine.

Got Money in Scotland.

Sullivan declared he had brought some of the money home with him to show his friends "how the American rum runners were putting it over on English liquor dealers."

He said he received $1800 in Glasgow, Scotland, as payment for a freight shipment on one of the ships of his line from Nova Scotia to Glasgow. Discovering that one or two bills, bearing the name of the First National Bank of Ozone Park, Long Island, were counterfeit, he said, he investigated and found they had been put into circulation on Rum Row, off the New Jersey Highlands, in payment for liquor.

There were only a half dozen of the Ozone Park bills, Sullivan said, but as the rest bore the name of the First National Bank of Amityville, L. I., he suspected their genuineness and tested them both by washing the signatures with tea. When the signatures faded he concluded these were counterfeits also.

But experts of the Secret Service who examined the Amityville notes said they were good.

Sullivan said he had first flashed the counterfeit notes during a friendly poker game on the Homeric, dealing them around as he would a pack of cards, with the announcement that they were counterfeit.

Jacobs, who was in the party, asked for two of them to play a practical joke, he said. Jacobs had the misfortune to get two of the bad bills. He tossed them on the tray of a steward, making the eyes of that individual grow large with gratified surprise.

Radio Message Sent Out.

But the steward's gratification subsided a little later when attempting to pick the bills up from his tray, which happened to be moist, the bills separated, having been made in two pieces. He notified the purser, who in turn notified Federal Secret Service agents by radio. The Secret Service men were waiting when the boat came in.

Thomas J. Tucker, chief of the local secret service, said the Government would regard the escapades on the Homeric as nothing more than "a dangerous joke," which he was sure neither man wished to repeat.

"Just the same, even if the most of those bills were good, thousands of dollars in counterfeit bills have reached England in payment for liquor," Sullivan declared, and "the American bootleggers who are vacationing over there are boasting how they put it over on the English."

TREASURY DRAFTS RULES ON SHIP LIQUOR BAN

New Regulations Expected to Reconcile Court Findings With Foreign Laws.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Indications were given at the Treasury today that Secretary Mellon had found a way for reconciling the Supreme Court's recent prohibition decision with foreign laws requiring ships of their nations to carry liquor as crew rations.

The belief was expressed that the regulations necessary to carry out the high court decision barring liquor within the territorial waters of the United States would be actually promulgated within a few days. Officials refused to disclose the course which the Treasury appeared to have adopted in dealing with the situation developed by the court's ruling.

The belief has gained ground that the regulations would provide flatly for the barring of all crew rations as such at the three mile limit, but that the ships would be permitted to place such liquor as was required by their home laws under the jurisdiction of the ship doctor as for medical purposes.

Thus far there has been no limitation fixed as to the amount ships may carry for medicinal purposes. Secretary Mellon declined to discuss the new regulations, but it was confirmed elsewhere that government lawyers had been studying the medicinal sections of the Volstead act in their search for a means of eliminating probable international conflict.

The Secretary probably will talk over the whole question with President Harding and Secretary Hughes before the regulations are made public.

A Home Has More Than Money Value

Home ownership means getting more out of life. It means greater freedom for yourself and your family, and future financial independence. All this in addition to its money value, which is also noteworthy.

Well-located property constantly increases in value. It is therefore a wise investment to put money into one of the charming homes or homesites to be found in and around St. Louis.

Think about this today and read the real estate offered for sale in the Post-Dispatch. Resolve to see the properties advertised and to talk over terms with the agents or owners.

This is the most important step you can take and it is one which will prove of infinite value to you and your family.

'IMPERIAL WIZARD' SUES SIMMONS FOR $100,000

H. W. Evans Charges Libelous Statements Were Made by 'Emperor'—Action in Little Rock.

By the Associated Press.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark, May 24.—Dr. H. W. Evans, "Imperial Wizard" of the Ku Klux Klan, filed suit here today against William J. Simmons, "Emperor' of the Klan, asking for $100,000 damages for alleged defamation of character.

The basis for Dr. Evans' suit was a telegram which "Emperor" Simmons is alleged to have sent to local newspapers for publication May 13. Acording to the petition filed today the telegram charged that Dr. Evans, during a period six months prior to the telegram, received fees in excess of $100,000 belonging to the Klan and deposited them to his personal credit and appropriated to his own use.

The telegram, it is set forth, was an answer made to charges against Emperor Simmons by James A. Comer, "grand dragon" of the realm of Arkansas Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, that the Kamelia, a woman's organization, founded by Simmons, was "a fee grabbing scheme."

Another statement in the telegram, the petition sets forth, alleged that Dr. Evans charged to the Klan his personal living expenses, including house rent, grocery, light and fuel bills and that he was splitting fees with his personal representatives in several states.

Dr. Evans, in his petition, states that the charges made against him by Simmons are false and alleges that they were composed with the intent of injuring his character and attacking his reputation for honesty and integrity.

ST. LOUISANS 'PLAYING HEARTS' ROBBED IN LOUISVILLE HOTEL

Four Armed Men Hold UP 10 and Get Cash Said to Have Totaled $4300 and Their Jewelry.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 24.—Four men entered a room at the Watterson Hotel last night at 11:30. One was masked and all had revolvers. The room was occupied by men who gave the names of C. W. Marks, 503 Pine street, St. Louis, jeweler, and Ben Gribinsky, fur dealer, 6309 Delmar, St. Louis. Gribinsky was out. Marks had 10 friends, and they were playing what Marks says was a "little social hearts."

The four men lined up the 10 and departed with $4303 cash, according to estimates, and all the watches, diamonds, rings and tie pins in the crowd. Marks lost $700 cash, three watches valued at $325, a pin at $212 and a ring at $225. Other losers from St. Louis were James Carroll, $225 cash; "Judge" Hertsch, $110; Vic Goldstein, $150; Eugene Epstein, $1500; a man known as "Red," $18. The robbers tore out the telephone, then they locked the 10 in and got away.

BRITISH CLAIMANT READY TO CONTEST FOR DAVIES ESTATE

ORIGINAL DECLARED TO BE IN ST. LOUIS

London Publisher Says He Will Demand That This Document Be Produced in Court.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 24.—Capt. Harry Lello Zeitun of London, who has been called an Egyptian soldier of fortune, is ready to begin his fight for the $500,000 estate of the late Mrs. Julia Woods Davies of this city.

In Excelsior Springs yesterday, W. B. Tattersall, London publisher, who is in the United States in Zeitun's interest, announced he will demand that the will in Zeitun's favor, alleged to have been made by Mrs. Davies after she had made a will giving virtually all her fortune to her fourth husband, George Westlain Davies of St. Louis, tenor singer and known in grand opera as "Salvatore," be brought into court at Excelsior Springs immediately.

Produces Alleged Copy.

Tattersall produced a copy of the alleged second will and asserted that the original now was in St. Louis. It is said to have been executed in London by Mrs. Davies on May 8, 1922. The other will, which was filed for probate at Liberty, Mo., Dec. 23, 1922, was drawn in October, 1921. Tattersall said he had talked last week in St. Louis with Thomas O. Stokes, attorney for Davies, who has the second will. The inference was drawn that the English claimants believe the will found its way into the hands of friends of Davies, and that the demand that it be produced in court immediately will take the form of a Court order.

The will is said to have been sent to Excelsior Springs by Zeitun's solicitors in London, when announcement was made nearly two months ago that the document would be filed for probate.

By the alleged second will, according to the copy Tattersall made public here yesterday, Hugh Wilhite, banker; Dr. Joseph Edward Baird and William N. Pittman, banker, all of Excelsior Springs, are named executors. The will not only charges that none of the estate shall go to Davies, but that efforts shall be made by the executors to regain certain articles of jewelry now in the husband's possession.

Capt. Zeitun claims that he was secretary to Mrs. Davies, who was a daughter of W. S. Woods, multimillionaire banker of Kansas City and Excelsior Springs, now dead. He met her when she was in Italy with Davies.

Tattersall's Statement.

Tattersall, who has been in Excelsior Springs nearly a month, declares Capt. Zeitun knew nothing of a will having been made in his favor until its recent discovery, and vigorously repudiates allegations that the Captain is "an Egyptian adventurer," as he had been described by friends of Davies.

The clause in Mrs. Davies' alleged second will, as made public by Tattersall, in which she disinherited her husband, follows:

"I desire to put on record that it is my wish that my present husband, George Westlain Davies of St. Louis, Mo., shall have no claim whatsoever to any portion of my real or personal estate. I direct my executors (but without imposing on them any responsibility for not complying with this direction if they shall think that such direction in the circumstances is impracticable or not to be complied with except at disproportionate expense) to recover from my said husband the following personal effects and family heirlooms belonging to me, in case they shall not have been handed over to me before my death, namely, one large cameo locket with small pearls and diamonds on a black ribbon with gold and diamond sides; three gold rings set, respectively, with diamonds, rubies and sapphires, and one scarfpin set with diamonds and sapphires."

Clause Relating to Zeitun.

Mrs. Davies made Zeitun heir to all her property remaining after various specific bequests were paid, in the following clause of the alleged second will:

"All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real, personal and mixed, in possession or in remainder, and wherever situated in the United States of America, including all property over which I may have a general power of appointment or disposition by will or otherwise, I give, devise and bequeath to Harry Lello Zeitun of 111 Southerland avenue, Maida Vale, in the county

Lady Astor Requests Well-Dined Banqueters Not to Laugh at Us

Makes Fervid Prohibition Talk at Dinner in Honor of Nicholas Murray Butler.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 24.—Lady Astor, American-born member of the aristocracy, appealed to the people of her adopted country to treat America fairly on the prohibition question and to cease making a joke of it, in a speech today at a luncheon given in honor of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University.

It came as a surprise to the gathering, which had been served with rare wines from the cellars of one of London's century-old guild halls, when, in reply to a toast to Anglo-American relations, offered by Dr. Inge, dean of St. Paul's, Lady Astor arose and immediately launched into a fervid prohibition talk.

"It is very galling to have somebody always making fun," she said in her broad Southern tones, "and it has got to stop." If British relations with America were to be continued at their best, she continued, England must look kindly on the great experiment which the American people were conducting, for this, she said, was America's contribution to civilization just as the formation and administration of the British empire was Britain's contribution.

SIR AUCKLAND GEDDES HAS EYE AFFLICTION

British Ambassador Ordered to Bed, to Remain for Some Time—Vision Nearly Gone.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Sir Auckland Geddes, Ambassador of Great Brtain, was stricken Tuesday with a serious eye affliction, it is learned, and as a result he is nearly blind. The affliction is the result of a gas attack during the World War, and from time to time has suffered from this trouble.

Dr. Wilmer, famous eye specialist, ordered the Ambassador to bed in a darkened room. It was said he might have to remain there for weeks, if not months.

The strict orders under which Ambassador Geddes was placed may prevent him from signing the papers in the British debt settlement as early as has been expected.

Dr. W. Holland Wilmer, an eye specialist, who is treating the Ambassador, today made this statement: "The patient is suffering from an acute condition of one eye, (the left) which will oblige him to lie by for several weeks."

SUICIDE HEARD OVER PHONE

While Wife Listens, Man Fires Bullet Into His Brain.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 24.—His plea of reconciliation spurned Vincent McArdle, 23, an automobile salesman, 610 West 152d street, committed suicide yesterday afternoon under dramatic circumstance. Mrs McArdle, 18, was at the home of her parents at Liberty, N. Y. "Will you come back to me?" asked McArdle, when she answered the telephone. "No, I can't," she answered. "Forgive me what I am going to do," said her husband. "What do you mean?," asked Mrs. McArdle. 'Listen to this, sweetheart," said McArdle. While Mrs. McArdle listened at the other end of the wire her husband fired a bullet into his brain.

The McArdles were schoolmates at Liberty. They eloped a year ago. Last week Mrs. McArdle went to her parent's home, telling her husband she could not live with him on account of his being subject to epileptic fits.

ZITA LIVING LIKE AN OUTCAST

(Copyright, 1923.)

PARIS, May 24.—Former Empress Zita of Austria is living almost like an outcast near Vienna. She went there from Spain, where she accepted for a time the charitable hospitality of King Alfonso, the only one of her royal relatives who has come to her assistance. Zita's entire resources are now less than $5000 and that was obtained by selling what remained in Hungary of the imperial wine cellars. When that is exhausted she may have to turn to dressmaking like the Russian Grand Duchesses.

However, there is a movement on foot to have France do something for her and her children, because of her outspoken French sympathies in the war. She assisted French prisoners and inspired Charles to make an unsuccessful peace offer.

MUSTACHE AHEAD OF JURY

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 24.—While waiting for a jury to be completed for the trial of Fred Lundin and 21 codefendants on school graft charges, one of the eight jurors has grown a mustache. The Judge failed to recognize him yesterday when the eight men took their seats in the jury box for the examination of the twelfth venire of 100 men since the trial opened on April 23.

"Are you a member of this jury?" Judge McDonald asked.

"Yes, I have grown a mustache since you last saw me," replied the juror.

"I only hope you don't grow a gray beard before this trial is started," an attorney interjected.

BANDITS' CAPTIVES BELIEVED TO BE POLITICAL PAWNS

State Department Informed 'Chinese Politics' Is Complicating Situation Looking to Hostages' Release.

POWELL IS PAROLED TO JOIN CONFERENCE

Former Missourian Said to Have Been Released by Brigands — Soldiers Have Begun to Withdraw.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—A delayed message from Minister Schurman in Pekin, received today by the State Department, expressed Schurman's belief that the task of obtaining the release of American and other captives held by Chinese bandits was "now complicated by Chinese politics."

The message said it did not seem "probable that the bandits would kill the foreign captives," but that there was danger that during the prolonged negotiations and compromises some of the prisoners might die of exposure, starvation or disease.

The Minister said that "certain hostile factions" were using the bandit outrage to discredit the Chihli party, the Pekin Government and Tsao Kun, who had been a "hopeful candidate for the presidency."

Schurman's View of Situation.

The text of the State Department's summary of Schurman's delayed message, which bore the date of May 23, follows:

"The minister's estimate of the present situation is as follows: For some days there have been no negotiations with the bandits, and no fighting, although there has been occasional firing, which led the diplomatic bodies on May 21 to protest to the Chinese Government against its failure to withdraw the troops in accordance with the conditions laid down by the bandits as indispensable to negotiations and previously accepted by the government.

"The minister feels, from various indications, that the matter is now complicated by Chinese politics. The politicians were quick to see in the work of the bandits available means for attaining their own purposes. Certain hostile factions are using the outrage for the purpose of discrediting the Chihli party, the Pekin Government over which it exercises considerable influence, and its leader, Tsao Kun, who has been a hopeful candidate for the presidency. The politicians of the Chihli party are likely to have the Pekin Government, as well as the Shantung authorities, share with them the responsibility and the blame attaching in the matter. If left to themselves, they doubtless would arrange after prolonged negotiations and compromises among themselves, and a display of military force, for the satisfaction of the bandits and the saving of everybody's face.

Danger in Long Discussion.

"The danger is that during the time required for arranging such a solution some of the foreign prisoners on Paotzuku might die of exposure, starvation or disease. It does not seem probable that the bandits would kill the foreign captives, who would be of no value to them in that case; but the lives of the foreigners would be endangered should the bandits be fiercely or continuously attacked by the Chinese forces or if an attempt were made to starve them out.

"Although Americans and Europeans in China are greatly stirred up over the situation, and demands are being made for direct negotiations with the bandits and for the use of foreign troops to effect the release of the captives, the minister continues to be of the opinion that the foreign representatives must work through the Chinese authorities, with the constant pressure of insistent demands.

"The minister has suggested that the diplomatic body at Pekin should send such an international commission of investigation as was established last autumn in the case of capture of certain missionaries captured in Hohan; but in the present case has suggested that the commission should be composed of the commanders of the several foreign military forces which maintain headquarters in Pekin for the purpose of keeping open the railway from Pekin to the sea, in accordance with the Boxer protocol of 1901."

Communists Take Police Headquarters at Gelsenkirchen in Ruhr Industrial District After Fighting in Which Five Persons Are Killed, 61 Wounded.

DORTMUND, BOCHUM, IN AREA OF UNREST

Conflict in Former City on Tuesday Resulted in Five Killed; Effort to Extend Strike Throughout Ruhr and Rhineland.

By the Associated Press.

ESSEN, May 24.—The communists have taken possession of police headquarters at Gelsenkirchen and have hoisted the red flag over the building.

Reports from German sources say that five persons were killed and 61 wounded in the fighting for possession of the building. The struggle began late last night and continued until early this morning.

The building is said to have been defended by the civilian defense organization, which was finally forced to quit when one wing was set on fire by the attacking mob. The fighting was not restricted to the building, but spread through the streets, and many street cars were shattered. A number of nonresidents were wounded.

Housewives Clean Out Stores.

A communist "commission of control" visited the shops, yesterday, demanding that the prices of foodstuffs be cut in half. The housewives of the city, hearing that the stores were complying with this demand, swooped down upon them with market baskets and exhausted the supplies.

The streets began to fill with people and a general scramble ensued. As the security police had been expelled in February, the town was without protection except for a force of firemen which had been doing some patrol duty.

The firemen were called upon to make an effort to disperse the crowd. It was aided by the newly formed civilian self-defense league, the members of which are armed with clubs but not guns.

Germans Cheer French Troops.

The interference of the firemen and the self-defense league force added fuel to the fire, and the crowd began counter-attacking. In one instance the demonstrators attacked a squad of firemen who were occupying a fire truck, wounded several of them and turned over the truck.

The firemen began using their revolvers, this resulting in several persons being killed and others wounded. At least 40 wounded persons are reported to have been treated in the hospitals.

Additional French troops were ordered into Gelsenkirchen, but it was announced there was no intention on the part of the French to interfere. When the French troops appeared they were cheered by the Germans, who thought the military had come to suppress the demonstration.

French Say Moscow Has Sent Money to German Communists.

By the Associated Press.

DUESSELDORF, May 24.—French official authorities here declare they have knowledge that Moscow has sent to the Ruhr Valley more than 20,000,000 Swiss francs to further the effort to create a Soviet Republic. In addition two shiploads of wheat, they declare, have been sent from Moscow intended for the use of the Communists, particularly at Bochum and Dortmund, with promises of more if needed. This declaration was made today as a reply to the recent German newspaper charges that the Communist trouble was being fostered by the French.

BRYAN ELATED BY CHURCH REBUKE OF FOSDICK SERMON

REINSTATEMENT FOR REV. IRWIN

Punishment of Oklahoma Pastor, Who Performed "Bathing Suit" Marriage, Declared "Too Severe" by Assembly.

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 24.—Action of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America, in adopting the resolution on the Harry Emerson Fosdick case, sponsored by the fundamentalists, and rejecting the recommendations supported by the liberalist element, was hailed today as the greatest victory of the convention by the former group.

The fundamentalists opposed to the liberal interpretation of the Bible, as expounded by Dr. Fosdick, succeeded in forcing the adoption of a minority report of the committee on bills and overtures, which directs the New York Presbytery, to require the preaching, in the First Presbyterian Church of New York City, where Dr. Fosdick delivered his famous "Shall Fundamentalists Win" sermon, to conform to the Presbyterian doctrine. The committee in its majority report, which the liberals sought to have adopted, rejected an overture from the Philadelphia Presbytery denouncing Fosdick and his teachings, and recommended that the issue be deferred for another year.

Bryan Highly Elated.

William Jennings Bryan, who, with two Philadelphia ministers, the Rev. Gordon A. McLennan and the Rev. Clarence E. MacArtney, led the fight against the majority report, was highly elated at the result.

The Rev. Thomas J. Irwin of Lawton, Ok., who was suspended by the El Reno Presbytery a year ago when it was charged that he had performed a marriage ceremony with the principals in bathing suits, was ordered reinstated today by the Assembly.

The Assembly concurred in the report of the judicial committee which found that the punishment meted out to the Rev. Mr. Irwin was "too severe and unwarranted by the facts in the case."

Pastor Was Beaten.

While the controversy between the Rev. Mr. Irwin and the El Reno Presbytery was at its height, the church in Lawton, Ok., of which Mr. Irwin was pastor, was partially destroyed by fire, and Mr. Irwin, on two occasions, was attacked and beaten by masked men.

The Rev. Mr. Irwin was at one time pastor of the late Jake Hamon, former Republican National Committeeman from Oklahoma, and attracted attention when he defended the private life of Hamon after the latter had been killed by a young woman, who also was his secretary.

The Judicial Committee said the bathing suit wedding "violated all sense of propriety" and should not have been performed, and that Mr. Irwin should not have used civil courts to fight ecclesiastical discipline.

"We are of the opinion, however," the commission said, "that the facts do not justify permanent or indefinite suspension, which is the ecclesiastical capital punishment, and that a reprimand or suspension for a short time would have been sufficient punishment. As Mr. Irwin has now been suspended for more than a year we recommend his reinstatement."

General Council Organizes.

The newly created general council of the church, which replaces the New Era Committee and Executive Commission, organized last night by electing Dr. Charles F. Wishart, the moderator, as chairman; and the Rev. Lewis Mudgem, stated clerk, as secretary.

The 136th general assembly in all probability will be held in Grand Rapids, Mich., it was indicated, after the committee on the next meeting place had reported that San Francisco and Grand Rapids had sought the meeting for next year and that it had not been able to find means to finance taking the assembly to San Francisco.

Dr. Fosdick, on whose sermon the fight of the fundamentalists centered, is not a Presbyterian, but a pastor of the Baptist Church, filling the First Presbyterian pupit occasionally as supply minister.

The minority resolution, adopted by a vote of 439 to 359, says:

"The 135th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of the U. S. A., in answer to the petition of the overtures presented by the Presbytery of Philadelphia regarding the public proclamation of the word in the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church of New York City, expresses its profound sorrow that doctrines contrary to the standards of the Presbyterian Church, proclaimed in said pulpit, have been the cause of controversy and division in our church, and therefore would direct the Presbytery of New York to take such action (either through its present committee or by appointment of a special committee) as will require the preaching and teaching in the First Presbyterian Church of New York to conform to the system of doctrines taught in the Confession of Faith; and that said Presbytery report its action in a full transcript of its records to the 136th General Assembly of 1924."

The resolution then reaffirms the deliverance of the General Assembly of 1910, that it is the reverential doctrine of the church that the Holy Spirit inspired the writers of the Bible to keep them from error; that Jesus Christ was born of the Virgin Mary; that He offered Himself as a sacrifice to atone for the sins of His followers; that He arose from the dead with the same body in which He suffered, and that He showed His divine power by working miracles.

Virtually the entire leadership of the assembly lined up against the Fosdick resolution and in favor of the majority report of the Committee on Bills and Overtures, which merly asked the New York Presbytery to investigate the charges of the Philadelphia Presbytery and rebuked the latter with the assertion that it was deemed "needless, if not fairly intrusive, to transmit to the Presbytery of New York any instructions as to the manner and method of this new pending investigation."

Among the important business yet to be taken up is the report of the judicial commission, which has been reviewing appeals from the verdicts of church trials.

GROUP FOUND GUILTY OF GIVING IMMORAL DRAMA

NEW YORK, May 24.—A group of persons were convicted yesterday by a jury of violating the penal laws forbidding presentation of an immoral drama.

The play is "The God of Vengeance," written by Sholem Ash, well-known European playwright, and produced in English at the Apollo Theater last February after it had received one showing in Enlish at the Provincetown theater, and several in Yiddish and other languages here and abroad. It deals with life in a brothel. The contention of those connected with it is that the presentation is justifed by the fact that the play depicts such life in a manner to make it extremely unattractive.

Those found guilty are Harry Weinberger, radical lawyer, who was making his debut in the theatrical world as producer of the play; Rudolph Schildkraut, referred to as "Germany's greatest living actor," who played the principal role, and Virginia MacFadden, Esther Stockton, Marjorie Stewart, Mae Berland, Dorothe Nolan, Lillian Taiz, Aldeah Wise, Irwin J. Adler, Sam Joffe, Morris Carnovsky and James Meighan, members of the cast.

After the verdict Judge McIntyre of General Sessions said he felt it should prove a "wholesome example." He said the time had come when "the drama must be purified." He declared he particularly resented references in the play to the scrolls of the Torah, which he said had offended many Jews.

He added, however, that in imposing sentence he would be as lenient "as any Judge under the circumstances can be."

Judge McIntyre allowed all defendants to be continued under bail of $300 each until June 22, when they must appear for sentence. Under the law the maximum penalty is a three-year term in the penitentiary and a $500 fine, but even if maximum sentences are imposed all could obtain early release on parole.

The following specific bequests were made in this document: St. Dunstan's Institute for Blinded Soldiers and Sailors, London, 2000 pounds sterling; Foundling Hospital, London, 1000 pounds; Mary Margaret McBride of Paris, Mo., a cousin, who has been interviewing European notables in England for a New York newspaper, $5000; Anne Olden of Kansas City, Mo., a former companion, "in token of her affectionate care," $2500; Mercelle Landell, "my faithful servant and maid," 1000 pounds; Berthe Fornarassi, another maid, 500 pounds; Mrs. Gladys Wood Kemper and Miss Ruth Ruby, daugthers of Mrs. Davies, Kansas City Mo., "such of my jewels and other personal effects as they shall choose out of my estate."

The document named Hugh Wilhite, banker; Dr. Joseph Edward Baird and William N. Pittman, banker, all of St. Joseph, Mo., as executors and directed them to have a memorial erected at Excelsior Springs Mo., to the memory of her father, William Stone Woods, a Kansas City banker. For this $30,000 was provided and it was stated that Mrs. Davies would send the executors the inscription for the monument during her lifetime or leave it at her death.

The document was dated May 8, 1922, and witnessed by a barrister and two sollictor's clerks of London.

NEGRO ROBS 2 MEN ON STREET

Physician and Another Pedestrian Resist Attempted Holdup.

A negro armed with a revolver was successful in two street holdups last night and was routed without obtaining anything in two other attempts. John Adcock of Eldon, Mo. visiting at 4113 Easton avenue, was robbed of $5.15 in a holdup at 8:30 p. m. in front of 523 South Vandeventer avenue. An hour later a negro stopped John Carlin, 1953 Arlington avenue, near Leffingwell avenue and Washington boulevard, and robbed him of $5 and his watch.

At 10 o'clock Dr. Joseph Scharf, 3134 Bell avenue, was stopped by a negro at Bell and Channing avenues and told to throw up his hands. He resisted and called for help and the negro fled.

Peter M. Court of 3802 Washington boulevard reported he was stopped on Channing avenue south of Olive street by a negro and when told to throw up his hands hit the negro in the jaw and ran.

BRITAIN'S REPLY TO SOVIET TO BE DELAYED

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, May 24.—With the Cabinet unformed, Foreign Secretary Curzon had to tell Leonid Krassin that the British reply to Russia's latest conciliatory note would have to be delayed.

The soviet note is full acceptance of one of the four British demands—withdrawal of the two notes Acting Foreign Minister Weinstein tried to hand to the British in reply to their protest against persecution of priests.

The demand for permission to fish within the 12-mile limit off the Murmansk coast is admitted pending a conference on the subject.

Russia agrees to compensation for two British subjects, Davison, shot as a spy, and Mrs. Stan Harding, who went to Russia for the New York World and was imprisoned on the same charge. The note, however, reiterates that there is definite proof of the guilt of both.

On the demand for cessation of anti-British propaganda in the East, full acceptance is withheld. The note insists a conference is necessary to solve this problem and suggests that Foreign Minister Tchitcherin meet British representatives for that purpose. This may prove a stumbling block to settlement of the dispute, as the British see in it a soviet attempt to engineer a meeting that will extract full diplomatic recognition.

The note explains these concessions are made because the soviet government does not desire to give ground for placing even the smallest degree of responsibility for the results of a possible breach between Russia and England upon the soviet government, even indirectly.

SEVERAL HOUSES ON HUMPHREY STREET STRUCK BY BULLETS

Residents in the 3400 block of Humphrey street, in a letter to the Post-Dispatch, complain that at 10:30 p. m. Sunday, bullets fired promiscuously from two cars speeding east from Grand avenue struck their houses. The pursuing car, they believe, was occupied by police.

No one was injured as, luckily the residents, who customarily sit out on their porches during the cool evening hours, had gone into their homes about 30 minutes before the shooting. Emmet Dewes, 16 years old, a student at Cleveland High School, was within a few steps of his home at 3453 Humphrey wher the first shot was fired. He dropped to the ground hurriedly, cutting his knee on the edge of the sidewalk.

"If they had been trying to bring down a butterfly, their shots couldn't have been any more erratic," said one woman whose house was hit four times.

Captain Chrismer of the Magnolia District Police Station, said he had had no reports on this case and that his men were not in it. Chief of Detectives Hoagland said he knew nothing of the affair.

Bullet marks were found by a Post-Dispatch reporter on the walls of residences at 3455, 3453, 3451, 3449 and 3447 Humphrey street.

CURRIE NAMED HEAD OF NEW MISSOURI DEMOCRATIC CLUB

President Authorized to Solicit Fund of $150,000 for Purchase of Permanent Quarters.

Dwight D. Currie, defeated candidate for the presidency of the Board of Aldermen at the recent municipal election, last night was chosen president of the new Missouri Democratic Club by the Club Directors at a meeting at Hotel Jefferson. Jerome F. Duggan was chosen secretary.

Plans for carrying out the purpose of the club, which is to stimulate interest among Democrats, were discussed and Currie was authorized to appoint a committee of five directors to select quarters for the club, preferably on Grand boulevard between Pine and Delmar boulevards, and to solicit a fund of $150,000 to purchase a building and equip it. Election of officers other than president and secretary was postponed until a later meeting.

The expected reorganization of the Board of Directors, from which two men are to resign, and on which several women are said to be unwilling to serve, was not carried out, but probably will be at the next meeting. Only a few of the 10 women members attended the meeting last night.

Miss Marion Lindsay Receives Gold Cross for Aid to Nuns.

The gold cross of the Order of the Good Shepherd has been conferred upon Miss Marion Lindsay by the Vatican in recognition of her services in caring for impoverished nuns in Austria since the war. She is a sister of Mrs. James M. Franciscus, 10 Lenox place, and of Andrew Jackson Lindsay, 362 Walton avenue.

Miss Lindsay, who has been making her home in Einsiedlen, Switzerland, was presented to the Pope by the Austrian Ambassador and was granted a private audience. The decoration awarded her is one of the highest honors conferred by the Catholic Church.

Testimony as to Character Heard in Turner Defense

fice, and he said, 'Mr. Turner, I can save you some trouble; I have found a man to do that work.' I saw Halliday again at the same place, and he asked Turner to type a telegram, and make a copy, and he dictated the message, remarking that he wanted Turner to sign it, as he was going out of town and might not be here to get the reply."

Nature of the Telegram.

This telegram, as indicated in the statement of Turner's counsel to the jury, is the one to "Downing, Jones & Co." of New York, which was signed by Turner, regarding the engraving work.

Miss Martin was then asked about Turner's whereabouts in the latter part of October, 1921, and she said he was at Bourbon, Mo., Oct. 29, and returned to St. Louis several days later, but stopped here only a few hours before going to French Lick Springs, Ind. She was not permitted to read a letter which she said Turner sent her from Bourbon.

She also identified an entry in her bank book showing a deposit of $550.35 Aug. 4, 1921, and said $500 of it represented a check given by Halliday to Turner. She identified canceled checks for $350 and $150 which she had made out to the Art Crafts Shop, in connection with the engraving work; also a check for $2, made out for Charles Olson for engraving work.

"Davis" Turner's Double.

Asked if she had ever heard Turner and Halliday discuss a "Mr. Davis." Mis Martin said she had and that once, in her presence, Halliday showed Turner a photograph and told him it was his "double." Turner asked Halliday whose picture it was and Halliday, she said, replied that it was that of "William Davis," a salesman. Halliday said that "Davis" handled all his Chicago business, Miss Martin testified.

Miss Martin also identified copies of "Much Ado" containing advertisements of George V. Halliday and Co., which were printed in the publication from July to November of 1920.

The court sustained objection to a question by Turner's counsel concerning ownership of the building at 4111 Washington boulevard, where Turner resides and has his office, and admonished the attorney when he asked if the building was owned by a Mrs. Smith.

Miss Martin Cross-Examined.

Under cross-examination Miss Martin testified she had known Turner 12 or 15 years, and that they were friends. She said she did not know of her own knowledge that Turner had gone to Bourbon and to French Lick Springs, but that he had told her so.

She was at the office of "Much Ado," she said, when Charles Olson, engraver, and Turner and Halliday were in conference. She heard them speaking of a die, she said, but did not know it was to be a copy of the J. P. Morgan Co.'s signature. Turner, she said, transacted the business with Olson.

She said she had heard Halliday dictate that part of the telegram to "Downing, Jones & Co.," which ran: "Allowing for minor inaccuracies of workmanship which will only be known to the trade." She said she was present when the die was delivered to Turner. Asked if she had paid for the work, she said she presumed she did, and that she probably paid the bill without asking what it was for.

After Miss Martin was excused, Turner's lawyer read a deposition by James Edward Brown, manager of the French Lick Springs Hotel, which was given April 27, last. Brown deposed that a man giving his name as Harry Turner stopped at the hotel from Nov. 3 to Nov. 7, 1921. He also referred in his deposition to a photographic copy of the hotel register, said to contain Turner's name.

Tells of Borrowing $17,500.

E. M. Kidder, a broker, testified he borrowed $17,500 on 43 of the forged $1000 interim certificates from the Night and Day Bank to accommodate Halliday, that a check for that amount was made payable to him (Kidder), and that he turned it over to Morris G. Levinson, who at that time was counsel for the receiver of Halliday's defunct brokerage firm. He added that Levin turned it over to the receiver, who, in turn, gave it back to the Night and Day Bank following Halliday's arrest.

The State objected to the latter part of Kidder's testimony on the ground the forgery was completed when the interim certificates were printed and signed, and that the State's case did not depend upon the negotation of the instrument. Turner's counsel contended the defendant was entitled to the benefit of testimony that he got no financial return from the transaction involved, and the court overruled the State's objection.

Circuit Judge a Witness.

Circuit Judge Granville Hogan was the first of Turner's character witnesses, and said he had known the defendant for eight years, and knew a number of his friends, mentioning Albert von Hoffmann, a printer and publisher, among them. He said, in reply to the question of Turner's lawyer, that Turner's reputation for truth and honesty was good.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Bowcock asked him whether he had heard of the indictments returned against Turner by the Federal grand jury in 1917, one charging violation of the espionage act and the other charging the mailing of obscene matter. Judge Hogan recalled having heard of the espionage case. In the argument over the admission of such questions, Turner coached his lawyer, but the defense was overruled.

Charles Wiggins, capitalist and former member of the City Council, testified that he had known Turner many years and that his reputation for truth and honesty was good. He said he had read something of the charges made against Turner in 1917 and had understood that neither case came to trial.

Ray Weinbrenner, former Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, said he had known Turner eight years, and that his reputation for truth and honesty was good.

Former Postmaster Heard.

Colin M. Selph, former Postmaster, said Turner's reputation for truth and honesty was good, "as far as I know." He was asked whether, as Postmaster, he had not known of the charge that Turner sent obscene matter through the mails, and he replied that the case had been "matter of common knowledge."

Edward A. Noonan, former Mayor, said he had known Turner since the latter was 15 years old, and that his reputation for truth and honesty was good. He regarded Turner as a literary man, he said.

Dr. Samuel A. Peake, who said he had been a physician in St. Louis for 30 years, had known Turner for 25 years, and considered his reputation good.

Depositions by Mayor Kiel and City Comptroller Nolte were read, it being announced they were out of town. The Mayor's statement was that he had known Turner for 10 years, and liked him, and that Turner took an interest in city institutions. Comptroller Nolte had known Turner 18 or 20 years and considered his reputation good, although he had never heard it discussed.

A demurrer to the State's evidence, presented last evening by Turner's lawyer, A. Samuel Bender, was overruled by Judge Grimm.

In his argument, made in the jury's absence, eBnder sought to show that the counterfeiting of the interim certificates would not have ben a violation of the law, and argued that the interim certificates had not ben shown to have pecuniary value. He said the State had not shown that the Morgan firm was in any way responsible to the purchasers, in case the French Government failed to meet its obligation.

"It is matter of common knowledge," Bender declared, "that the French Government has failed in many of its obligations, and not only that, but it has demanded additional American blood before it will pay." He proceeded further along this line, making no distinction between bonded obligations and international loans.

Argument as to Certificates.

"If that is a matter of common knowledge," said Judge Grimm, "the court does not know it. It must be a matter of uncommon knowledge." He asked Bender whether he meant to say that, if the French Government failed to deliver the bonds called for by the interim certificates, Morgan & Co. would not be responsible. Bender said that was what he did mean, and argued that the wording of the certificate did not state that Morgan & Co. were to refund the subscriber's money if the bonds were not delivered.

Judge Grimm said, in reply, that the charge was one of forging the obligations of Morgan & Co., and that the French Government was not involved. The crime of forgery, he said, does not depend upon the solvency of the person or firm whose name is forged. The fact that the signature is used without authority constitutes forgery, whether the purported signer is solvent or not.

Assistant Circuit Attorney Bowcock argued that the crime of forgery could be established in the case of the use of a spurious signature on any paper, which might even tend to create an obligation." The court then overruled the demurrer.

L. A. Keyes, chief clerk of Morgan & Co., who has been a witness in the trial, said to reporters after the argument that the French Government had shown the most scrupulous care in providing sinking fund and interest for all its bonded obligations.

Scrutinizes Two Witnesses.

Turner, who showed little interest at other times during the first three days of the trial, gave close attention to the testimony of Charles Olson and Francis E. McGill yesterday. Olson, an engraver, testified that Turner engaged him to make a steel die with the signature of Morgan & Co., and McGill, printer, testified that Turner supervised the printing of the reading matter on the counterfeit certificates. Turner has admitted that he arranged for the engraving of the borders of the sheets on which the counterfeits were later printed, but has denied that he knew anything about the printing.

Turner kept his gaze fixed on Olson and McGill while they were testifying, and made frequent suggestions to his lawyer.

Summary of the State's Testimony Against Turner.

The State's case against Turner, as contained in the testimony of its witnesses, is:

By Chief Clerk Keyes of the Morgan firm: That J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York were fiscal agents of the French Government, and issued interim certificates to subscribers for French bonds; that the purported certificates which are exhibits in the State's case are counterfeits, and that the signature of Morgan & Co. is a forgery.

By A. G. Caffer, representing the Art Craft Shop, engravers: That Turner ordered an engraved plate made for the reproducing of a border, otherwise shown to have been that of a genuine Morgan certificate; that Turner professed to be representing "Downing, Jones & Co." of New York in the matter; that he insisted on having the exact pattern copied, and that he paid for the engraved sheets, giving checks of Alice Martin.

By Charles Olson, engraver: That Turner engaged him to make the small steel die with the signature of J. P. Morgan & Co., from which, it was otherwise shown, the signature was embossed on the coupons of the counterfeit certificates.

Testimony as to Printing.

By Francis E. McGill, printing office manager: That Turner ordered copies printed, on engraved sheets, of the wording of a genuine Morgan interim certificate; that Turner professed, in this matter, to be acting for "W. B. Davis," said by him to be a local representative of Morgan & Co.; that Turner gave the witness the steel plate engraved by Olson, which, however, had to be sent to an embossing firm for the special work on the coupons; that Turner read proof on the job and took away the first 100 certificates printed, but later returned, with "Davis," to order 500 more printed because of an error in the first job; that "Davis" took charge of the matter thereafter; and that "Davis was George V. Halliday, who is under indictment with Turner in the case.

By F. P. McGill, father of previous witness: That he saw Turner in the shop several times.

By R. J. Bantle, printer: That he saw Turner in the shop several times, and heard a part of the conversation between F. E. McGill, Turner and "Davis."

By W. J. Ecker, stationer: That he did the coupon embossing job on McGill's order.

Made Rubber Signature Stamp.

By L. R. Maze of the Adams Stamp and Seal Co.: That the firm made a rubber stamp, with the Morgan signature, shown otherwise to have been used in stamping the body of the counterfeit certificates; that the stamp was delivered at Turner's house, 4111 Washington boulevard, though Turner's name did not appear in the order, and that it was receipted for at that place by "J. P. Morgan & Co."

By W. E. Smith of Chicago, manager of the American Bank Note Co., That the certificates exhibited by the State were not the work of his company, and that the name of the company, printed on the job, was a false imprint.

By Clerk Keyes of the Morgan firm, recalled: That J. P. Morgan & Co. never employed, and was never in any way represented by, Turner, "W. B. Davis," Halliday, or "Downing, Jones & Co."

By Stephen A. Connell and O. H. Sundby of the Secret Service: That the steel plate made by Olson, and certain other State exhibits, were taken from Halliday when he was arrested; and that a sheaf of the counterfeit certificates was obtained from the Lowell Bank.

By Assistant Cashier Wills of the Lowell Bank: That Halliday placed $20,000 of the purported certificates with the bank, and received the bank's check for $4460 and a credit for $9600 which he had owed the bank; Turner did not appear in this transaction.

Jurors Shown Genuine Certificate.

Secret Service Agent Connell yesterday identified a genuine certificate as one he had taken from Halliday's effects, and said the signature of Morgan & Co. appeared to have been traced from the body of the certificate upon another piece of paper. The reverse side of the certificate showed the impression of such a tracing. A coupon had been cut from this certificate, this coupon bearing a smaller signature of the Morgan firm, such as furnished the model for the steel die made by Olson. The larger signature was copied in the rubber stamp. The jurors were shown the tracing, viewing it with a magnifying glass.

Penalty for third-degree forgery, upon conviction, is a penitentiary sentence of two to seven years.

$100,000 DAMAGE BY FIRE AT PLANT

Fire of undetermined origin, discovered at 3 p. m. yesterday, destroyed the main plant of the Warren Steel Casting Co., 3400 Maury avenue, with damage estimated at $100,000 by C. E. Hayden, 5853 Julian avenue, the president.

Flames started at one of the annealing ovens, where steel is tempered, and quickly spread to all parts of the building, which was about 200 feet long and 100 feet wide and constructed of steel framework covered with boards and sheet iron.

The annealing ovens burn oil, several thousands of gallons of which were stored in a tank some distance from the main plant. Firemen directed their attention to this tank and prevented the flames from reaching it.

The office and foundry buildings, two small detached frame structures, were not damaged. Hayden said the loss was covered by insurance. The greatest loss to the company, he added, would be in the discontinuance, temporarily, of business which he said had been improving recently. He said he received orders for a month's run of the plant yesterday morning.

Charges against four men of operating gambling devices at Suburban Garden, a resort which was conducted by Jess Rubeling in Wellston, were dismissed today after a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Werremeyer at Clayton, on the ground of insufficient evidence. The men released were Bent Sharp, Eugene Padfield, William Bergsieker and Joe Nevill.

Assistant Prosecuting Attorney Russell stated after the hearing that it was only a formality, and little evidence had been introduced, as he intended to go into Circuit Court at Clayton immediately and file charges there against the four men.

Deputy Sheriff Toelle, the only witness, testified he participated in the raid on the night of Sept. 2, last, when city and St. Louis County officers and special assistant attorneys-general swooped down on Suburban Garden. He did not identify the four defendants, but said 50 or 60 men were in the place, and that gambling devices were seized.

POLICEMAN INJURED IN CHASE

Arrests Auto Driver, Who Removes Him to Hospital for Treatment.

Motor Cycle Policeman Clarence Piening, 26, 3512 Missouri avenue, suffered cuts and bruises at 8:30 a. m. today when, in chasing a speeder through Forest Park, the front wheel of his motor cycle caught in a rut and dragged him 75 feet. Piening was traveling about 60 miles an hour.

The driver of the speeding automobile, George M. Cross, contractor, 5359 Minerva avenue, stopped after the accident and took Piening to Barnes Hospital for emergency treatment. Piening then arrested Cross on a charge of speeding and took him to Mounted District, after which the injured policeman was taken to his home.

HARDING CALLS FOR A REDEDICATION TO AMERICAN IDEALS

Executive Says Nation Needs Dominating National Interest, Lacking Since End of the World War.

COURTS NEED HELP TO INSURE JUSTICE

President Tells Citizenship Body Subtle Self-Seeking Defeats Constitutional Purposes.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—An appeal for a rededication of the American people to the aims and purposes of their government as set forth in the preamble of the Constitution was made by President Harding today in an address at the opening session here of the National American Council, an organization recently formed to encourage better American citizenship.

Such a rededication, the President said, would furnish to the nation 'a commanding and dominating national interest" which, he said, had been lacking since the end of the World War. Quoting the preamble, Mr. Harding said it constituted "the complete statement of our nation's aspiration * * * the chart for our course, * * * and the inspiration to every effort to make one and all of us better citizens."

Lack of Common Purpose.

While deploring the lack of a definite common purpose such as was set up by the war, the President said that he had misgivings with respect to the "common observation nowadays some times * * * altogether too easil yand lightly made, that democracy is on trial."

"We will be qutie safe in admitting," he added, "that many of the institutions which have been set up in the hope that through them the best aims of democracy might be realized, are on trial. We will make no mistake if we confess that the attitudes and conduct of many people who profess devotion to democratic institutions, are on trial. But all this may be admitted without implying that any important part of society is seeking an alternative of democracy.

"There is much questioning of ways and means and institutions, but as to the fundamentals it certainly can be said that never was our country more firmly committed to the broad ideals and purposes of democracy and never before were so many other countries and peoples seeking to establish like commitments."

"Human society has never faced a more complex or difficult situation; and it is therefore of first importance that all Americans be brought to understand the underlying purposes of this Commonwealth and to fix firmly in their hearts the determination to maintain institutions capable of progressive evolution and development, along the lines of our fundamental principles.

No Fear of Experimentation.

"In some ways, Americans are a very conservative people; in others, quite the reverse. Having been compelled for generations more or less to improvise institutions fitted to their needs, they have largely lost the fear of experimentation. Some of them are quite too willing to experiment without first stopping to think out clearly the procedure on which they would enter.

"Conflicts among differing groups and opposing programs have commonly prevented disastrous results; but there is danger in placing too much reliance on this kind of protection. It is liable to deadlock the whole mechanism of progress.

Potent Bonds of Sympathy.

"It seems fair to say that two conditions must be met if our quorum of democratic institutions are to continue improving and adapting themselves to the requirements of an increasingly complex social order. Every governmental unit must be so nearly as possible a miniature of the ideal state which all hope to realize, capable of standing on its own bottom and managing its affairs as may best serve the public welfare. But, since such a collection of independent, self-governing communities does not form a nation, there must be also some potent bonds of sympathy, interest and common purpose, binding these communities into a great united commonwealth.

"Our national experience during the war afforded illustration of how a great common purpose, intense and universal, would weld the nation into a true unit. As people, we have not changed with the return of peace, but undeniably we have lost much of the unity, the solidarity, the eagerness for simple service, that marked our wartime attitude. Plainly, it is because we have been somewhat confused by the complexity of our time and situation.

Need of Dominating Cause.

"No one great dominating and appealing cause has been visualized before us, to command our loyalty and devotion. We have not discovered any single, all-absorbing enterprise capable of commanding the services of the whole united community.

"We need to find such a commanding and dominating national interest and I believe it would be found if we could contrive means to set before all the people the full meaning and implication of that simple statement about the aims and purposes of our Government which is contained in the preamble of the Constitution.

"In that preamble the fathers of the republic set forth the objective of this great democracy: 'We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.'

"To Establish Justice."

"No doubt the working implications of this thesis will be developed in your discussions. But one brief suggestion may be offered. Consider one phase in the preamble: 'To * * * establish justice,' in our mechanism of government we have set up an elaborte organization to insure this: the Federal and state judicial systems. But the courts cannot insure equal justice to all the community if some individuals shall strive for special privileges for themselves, or seek to establish subtle forms of injustice not specifically prohibited by the letter of law.

"The task of the courts will be difficult, slow, sometimes impossible, unless citizens subject to their jurisdiction are sincerely desirous to do justice and to see it done in the affaris o fday by day life. Thus the immediate and continuing opportunity for every citizen to contribute toward the achievement of this particular objective by the nation as a whole, lies in so guiding one's personal affairs that they shall fall into confidence with this injunction, 'To * * * establish justice.'

Seeking and Doing Justice.

"If we sincerely wish to leave a better and greater nation to the next generation, to bequeath institutions better adapted to achieve the great aim of social organizations, we shall accomplish these things by adhering in our daily conduct to the rule of seeking and doing justice. To this end theFederal Government has important contributions to make. Along the same lines the state and municipal governments have important duties. Beyond them, e very citizens has personal responsibility in this business of training better citizens.

"The result of individual and collective effort to make this democratic program a moving force in our lives and conduct, will extend beyond our own borders. The nation which knows the truth, and which amid the turmoil of this age, has discovered how to 'insure domestic tranquility' can point the way to world peace; not by force of arms, but by living the precepts of representative democracy's true platform in all its dealings with mankind."

Speakers at Convention Deplore Lack of Interest Shown in Art By Masses

Waste of Time 'Just Sitting' at Movies, Auto Riding and Playing Bridge Called Appalling —"King Tut" Styles Criticised.

Lorado Taft, a Chicago sculptor of national prominence, and Dudley Crafts Watson, director of the Milwaukee Art Institute, yesterday afternoon led talk at the American Federation of Arts convention at Hotel Chase—led it to some conclusions about the American masses, always a prime subject of discussion when artists gather.

Both were agreed that art is the one worth-while thing in life, and anybody who is not at all artistic needs to be treated promptly. Taft said nearly everybody in Illinois was ignorant about art. Watson said it was the same in Milwaukee. Later on another speaker remarked similarly about Kansas.

The sculptor spoke of his experiences with the masses in a genial voice. He explained that Illinois had 400 towns of more than 1000 population and hardly a town had anything in it worth looking at. Even students of agriculture and mechanical engineering at the University of Illinois must go out into the world without having glimpsed a single object of surpassing beauty. Of course, Taft qualified, there are pretty trees and blue skies and green grass in the rural districts of Illinois—good corn crops, too. But there are also no end of ugly farm implements and red barns and water tank towns—all very monotonous.

Veterans Ignored Treasures.

"The most depressing experience of my life," he said, "was to watch the young men of my State who had been sent to France. When the war ended they had time on their hands. They were in the midst of artistic treasures of the centuries. Instead of longing to spend their time in this beautiful land they wanted to go home. They didn't take it in at all. Just think of it."

Returning with the great desire to help his brothers understand and appreciate art, Taft said he fell in with the farm adviser at the State university. They formed the Art Extension Committee of Illinois.

This committee is doing its best to abolish the galvanized iron cornice from rural Illinois architecture. More lovely types are recommended. The committee sends small exhibits around the State which are placed in school houses or community centers. Taft expressed great hope for the future.

"It is not what Illinois is today, but what it will be," Taft exclaimed. "Just as when I came to St. Louis, I admired it most for its future. I think the same about Chicago. We need to lead people back to a use of their hands and a respect for artisanship. We must bridge the gap between Old World culture and the severity of American life. Our states are great in corn and cotton and minerals, but they are not artistic."

The experience of Taft in Illinois was paralleled by that of Watson in Milwaukee. The Art Institute director followed the sculptor on the platform.

He said he began with the right idea. He joined the Rotary Club and learned to know nearly every Milwaukee Baptist. Thus, when he attended luncheons, Milwaukee business men would slap him on the back and say, "By George, Watson, you're a good fellow."

The confidence of the natives won, Watson began to look about him. He soon saw there was need of art in the city.

Appalled by Time Wasted.

"I was appalled by the amount of time which the people were wasting. The Wisconsin farmer does all his work by machinery and is through by 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon. He jumps into his automobile and drives to town to the moving picture show. The people of Milwaukee were either spending their time on four rubber tires or playing bridge or sitting in theaters. Just sitting."

At this point, Watson, who wears a monocle and a mustache and spats, illustrated how the Milwaukee people sat.

"Are you aware, members of the federation, that the masses now have 16 hours a day of leisure time? Soon, with the annihilation of time and space by machinery, they will have more time than that. What are they doing with their time? Nothing. I saw this in Milwaukee.

"Art was almost unknown. Many people there still are not familiar with it. Why, of 104 varieties of silk sold in Milwaukee we found only four which were artistic in design, although all varieties were perfect in texture and color. The other day I saw a woman with little King Tuts all over her. Another woman had six automobiles following each other across the back of her waist. I have seen floor lamps in Milwaukee with pedestals shaped to resemble the leg of a turtle. Imagine!"

Business Men Sketching.

"The Art Institute began its work under my direction. We have succeeded well. Now we have 200 business men who come in during the lunch hour and sketch. Women are not playing bridge as much. They, too, are learning art, learning the divine power of self-expression, learning to exercise their God-given talents."

Then Watson told how he spent his time.

"I swim and play golf and sketch," he said. "But I do these things from the standpoint of the artist. While swimming I am in close touch with the blue waters, the sky overhead, the green grass on the shores. I revel in nature. When I play golf I do not waste my time. I am interested in the mechanical nicety with which I swing my driver and niblick. And when I sketch, I am a god! Perhaps no one else thinks so, but I do."

Both Watson and Taft evidenced the desire to concede America an art of its own. Taft remarked that the Arts Exposition Building at Jackson Park, Chicago, is the most beautiful building he ever saw. Watson favored the new courthouse at Sioux City, Ia. He praised the Woolworth Building in New York City, and said the time had passed when American artists were ashamed to paint labels for soap boxes. If American life will not move to art, art must move into American life, these speakers indicated.

Carl J. Smalley of Kansas City told of art and the Kansas farmer. There is a desire for beauty in Kansas, he stated. Farmers are buying copies of old masters and building fine high schools and talking about setting up museums.

Edward Robinson, director of the Metropolitan Museum in New York City, spoke on the work done by the federation to prevent the Egyptian Government from putting into effect its edict that no more art treasures be taken from Egypt without permission of its own art collectors. Through agitating the question Egypt now has agreed not to put the law into force during the 1923-24 season. This law would have the effect of stopping excavation by American museums, as Egypt might seize any relics thought desirable.

Delegates visited private art galleries in the afternoon and the City Art Museum in the evening.

Social Workers Elect Officers.

Ancient Oak Cut for Lumber.

WINCHESTER, Va.—A venerable black oak tree, at least 100 years old when Patrick Henry hurled defiance at the British Crown before the Revolutionary War, has been cut down on the Rutherford farm in Clarke County to get lumber for a building. The tree, long admired by tourists, was approximately 250 years old, according to the rings counted. It was four feet six inches in diameter.

YOUNG WOMAN, HURT IN AUTO, DIES OF TETANUS

Miss Jessie Holt Suffered Cut on Knee May 13 When Machine Struck Embankment.

Miss Jessie Holt, 26 years old, daughter of John J. Holt of 3719 Laclede avenue, died yesterday at Physicians and Surgeons Hospital, 2800 North Taylor avenue, of tetanus resulting from a cut in knee suffered in an automobile accident on May 13.

On that date she was a passenger in the car of Glen Stephens of 2737 Sheridan avenue, who was driving on Hanley road, south of Forsythe boulevard, in St. Louis county. The car struck an embankment, shattering the windshield. A piece of glass gashed Miss Holt's knee for six inches.

It was said at her home today that Miss Holt waited for two hours at the Courthouse in Clayton before being taken to the hospital and the family feels that the infection arose from the delay in treatment. The accident was in the early morning and some time was required to find a conveyance.

At the time of the accident Miss Holt told county officers that Stephens was blameless for her injury, that he was driving carefully.

NEGRO CHAUFFEUR, DEMANDING RETRACTION, INJURED IN FIGHT

Had Followed White Man Who Called Him Names, and Two Other Men Joined in Melee.

William Martin, 22 years old, negro chauffeur for E. J. Barrett, 7334 Westmoreland drive, University City, driving east on Delmar boulevard yesterday evening, stopped behind an eastbound street car at Westgate avenue. A white man boarding the car thought Martin had driven up too close and called him names. Martin followed the car to Vandeventer avenue and Olive street, where the white man left it. Martin then parked his automobile and followed the white man to Vandeventer avenue and Washington boulevard and demanded a retraction.

A fight followed and two other white men joined in. Martin was struck in the head with a brick and knocked unconscious. The white men escaped. Martin was taken to the city hospital. Barrett removed him later to his home and offered a reward of $250 for the arrest of the white men.

The Laclede patrol wagon, going to the scene of the fight, collided at Washington and Leffingwell avenues with an automobile driven by Fred Williams, 6779 Olive Street road. Policemen Fred Quinlisk and Richard Liedke suffered cuts and bruises. Williams was arrested.

TEXANS WARN OKLAHOMANS OF APPROACH OF TORNADO

Residents of Loveland, Ok., Had Fled to Cellars by the Time Storm Arrived.

By the Associated Press.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., May 24.—A Southwestern tornado was robbed of its threatening heavy toll of lives yesterday when North Texans followed the slow-moving storm and warned Southwest Oklahomans of its approach.

When the tornado finally swooped down at Loveland, Tillman County, Ok., people had fled to their storm cellars. Two homes and several barns were razed, according to telephone messages.

Persons watching the gigantic black wind current from storm cellars at Loveland say it covered a space of 50 feet. It is reported to have swept along the outskirts of Loveland for a distance of two miles.

The tornado appeared over Wichita Falls and Burkburnett shortly after noon, sending scores into storm cellars. Hail and rain followed the wind.

MAN SLAIN, GIRL TEACHER SHOT, WHEN IN AUTO, BY A NEGRO

They Are Attacked and Robbed in Suburbs of Memphis—Shot in the Head.

By the Associated Press.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 24.—W. O. Spencer, chain store manager, was shot to death, and Miss Laura Whitten Johnson, school teacher, was wounded in the back of the head early today by an unidentified negro who attacked them in their automobile on a suburban road on the eastern limits of the city. Both victims were robbed.

Spencer's body was found slumped in the front seat of the car, with bullet wounds in the back of his head. The young woman was taken to a hospital, where her injuries were pronounced superficial. She was in such a state of nervous excitement she could give little information of the affair.

STAYS ARREST FOR WEDDING

When Mayor John Schobert of Swansea, Ill., learned that Frank Hayek, Swansea motor cycle policeman, had brought charges of violating the motor vehicle law against Frank Wiechert, who was about to be married, he stayed arrest and permitted Wiechert and his bride to get away on their honeymoon trip.

After they were gone Mayor Schobert entered a plea of guilty as Wiechert's proxy. He paid a fine of $3 and costs, amounting to $9.90. He will present Wiechert with the receipt as a wedding gift on his return. Wiechert was charged with parking his automobile on the wrong side of the street.

VOTE FOR CLASSIFYING ALL TAXABLE PROPERTY

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 24.—The Constitution Convention today went on record as favoring classification of all property for taxation. The proposition, which was adopted by the convention in committee of the whole, was proposed by A. Carter of Mexico, Callaway County, a farmer, and is as follows:

"All property subject to taxation shall be taxed according to its value or the general assembly may classify all kinds of property for purposes of taxation. Each class may be taxed at such rate and in such form as the general assembly may provide. The rate of taxation on each class shall be uniform."

Adopted as Amendment.

The proposal was adopted 35 to 12, as an amendment to the report of the committee on taxation which is now being considered by the convention in committee of the whole, section by section, after nearly five days of general debate the bulk of which was on the question of classification.

The taxation committee had proposed that "all property subject to taxation shall be taxed in proportion to its value except as herein provided. The general assembly may divide into different class or classes for the purpose of taxation note, bonds, evidences of indebtedness and other similar property and money on deposit and provide different rates and forms of taxation for each class of such property."

The Carter amendment supplants this plan, however. The size of the vote for that amendment was somewhat of a surprise, as Carter and a number of the others who supported the idea had made speeches against the form of classification reports by the taxation committee.

Possible Reason for Support.

Perhaps the reason for the wholesale support obtained by Carter lies in the fact that his plan, if adopted by the people, would enable the Legislature to place farm lands in a different category for taxation than city real estate, and would allow the taxing of farm machinery in one class at one rate, and the machinery in a city shoe factory in another class and possibly at a higher rate.

Carter pointed out that his plan would give the Legislature an alternative, it either would have to tax all property alike, or it would have to classify it all, rather than place money, notes, bonds and similar evidences only in a favored class, as proposed by the taxation committee.

William's Remarks.

The tension between classificationists and anticlassificationists became rather strained during the morning. John Haymes of Buffalo, a constant champion of "the rights of the farmer," had another speech along that line. Former Judge George H. Williams of Webster Groves replied that he should think the farmers of the State would be tired of hearing the words of their self-appointed defenders who came constantly trying to get something for nothing. He pointed out that the cities had not come trying to "welch on their already undue share of the burden of State expense," nor insisting on their complete rights, but that they had had about enough of the complaints from delegates from some senatorial districts which received twice as much from the State funds as they contribute and which, if they got the complete local self government for which they cried, would be unable to educate their children.

Thus, it declares, a group of powerful iron and coal magnates are enriched by uncontrolled use of the State's money. They buy foreign currencies freely and pay the State and their workers with the virtually worthless paper marks.

90,000 Died of Cancer Last Year; Early Diagnosis Urged as Relief

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.

CANCER claimed 90,000 victims in the United States last year and 180,000 more will die within the next two years, all of whom might have been saved or at least had the course of their disease mitigated by prompt diagnosis and expert treatment, according to Dr. Francis Carter Wood of the Crocker Cancer Research Laboratory, who yesterday addressed the State Medical Society.

Relief from cancer, he said, must come first from awakening of the public to the dangers of the disease by means of the publicity work of the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

Then, Dr. Wood said, family physicians must make early diagnosis, and submit their cases immediately to competent surgeons, who, in their turn, must do all in their power by operating.

The last step, he continued, is transfer of the patient to the specialist in X-ray and radium treatment.

BANDITS' CAPTIVES BELIEVED TO BE POLITICAL PAWNS

American Only Captives Reported at Mountain Top.

By the Associated Press.

TIEN TSIN, May 24.—Dispatches mailed from Tsao Chwang Tuesday reported that the troops investing the mountains occupied by bandits had withdrawn a short distance.

Letters sent out by foreign captives indicated that at the time only three of their number (Maj. Roland W. Pinger, Maj. Robert A. Allen and Lee Solomon, all Americans) had been moved to the summit of Paotzuku Mountain, the others remaining at a camp on the slopes. The three, however, were visited by other captives, who reported that they were allowed to see only a restricted area.

Situation Reported Discussed by Chinese Cabinet.

By the Associated Press.

PEKIN, May 24.—There has ceased to be any doubt in the minds of members of the foreign diplomatic corps that the Suchow train raid in which a number of foreigners were kidnaped, was initiated and carried out under the direction of certain high officials as one part of a great political plot and that the foreigners in captivity are serving as the pawns of the plotters.

The identity of those who hatched the plan is beginning to dawn on the foreign representatives and, it is declared, they are now considering, as a measure of forcing some action in the case from lukewarm political quarters in Pekin, the project of demanding the outlawing of the plotters and the seizure of their personal and real property deposited in foreign banks and held in foreign concessions in China.

The Chinese Cabinet met yesterday to consider the bandit situation and immediately there developed a wide difference of opinion between Tien Chung Yu, Tuchun or military Governor of Shantung, and Tsao Kun, militarist chieftain of the Chihli party and Inspector General of Shantung.

None of Captives Put to Death, Despite Brigands' Threat.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—An official dispatch received from Pekin by the State Department last night said the morale of the prisoners held by the Chinese bandits was "becoming lower." The message indicated that none of the captives had been put to death, despite the threat of the brigands' leaders to kill two of them if their terms were not complied with by the Chinese Government by Tuesday.

The cablegram, sent by Jacob Gould Schurman, the American Minister, said the bandits were "showing indications of a desire to negotiate." Sanitary conditions in their stronghold are reported as "very bad," and Mr. Schurman said every effort was being made to supply the Americans and other foreigners, still held prisoner, with food and other supplies.

The following statement, issued at the State Department shortly before midnight, supplemented an earlier announcement that the diplomatic corps at Pekin had named an international commission to investigate the bandit situation:

"The Department has received information from the legation at Pekin that Consul John K. Davis and Major Philoon reported at noon, May 23, that an investigation shows that the troops made several retreats and that on May 22, those nearest Paotzuku were distanced five miles. There was no fighting yesterday.

"Three representatives of the gentry went in yesterday to urge the bandits to make reasonable terms. The bandits are showing indications of a desire to negotiate.

"The morale of the prisoners is becoming lower. Yesterday they endeavored to get the bandit chief to state his terms to them with a view to themselves sending these out. Treatment and conditions are as before, but the captives write that sanitary conditions are very bad. Roy Anderson was returning to Linching from Pekin this afternoon.

"The legation at Pekin reports that Tien, military Governor of Shantung, accompanied by Roy Anderson, arrived at Pekin the evening of May 21 from Linching. Minister of Communications Wu Yu Lin also returned. Tien had a conference with the President immediately after his arrival and with the cabinet on May 22.

"Minister Schurman reports further that the safety and proper care of the captive foreigners is the subject of constant solicitude. The Shangai-American Chamber of Commerce has done splendid work in sending and organizing relief. Minister Schurmann pledged $2500 gold yesterday from the United States Government in case it was needed for the purchase of food, bottled water, supplies, etc., about to be delivered to the top of Paotzuku for the captives. Schurman also sent seven marine corps tents to the captives. Up to the present time it is the Americans who have furnished all the supplies to all the foreigners.

Commission to Make Inquiry.

Official advices yesterday contained the information that the Pekin diplomatic corps, at the suggestion of Schurman, planned to send an international commission to Tsao-Chwang with instructions to investigate and report regarding the negotiations for the release of foreigners held captive by Chinese bandits.

There was no intimation in an announcement that the commission would be empowered to deal with the bandits directly in the name of the governments represented, thus waiving the obligation of the Pekin Government to procure the release of the foreigners. The function of the international commission apparently was confined to investigation.

Minister Schurman's brief message came after a silence of nearly 48 hours, which State Department officials were at a loss to explain. Reference was made by him, however, to a full report he had forwarded on a meeting of the Pekin diplomats which began Monday. Such a message has not been received here and it is assumed that complete understanding of the specific purposes of the international commission plan depends upon the missing cablegram.

The plan of the Pekin diplomats to send a commission to the scenes of the negotiations with the bandits was construed to mean that the situation had entered on a new phase. This feeling was based on the belief that the project was a forerunner of direct negotiations between the foreign officials and the brigand leaders, superseding the efforts of the Pekin Government.

DOORBELL RANG, BOMB EXPLODED ON PORCH

Home of Collinsville Coal Mine Superintendent Damaged by Early Morning Explosion.

A bomb exploded at the front door of the home of Frank Kaiser, superintendent of mine No. 2 of the Lumaghi Coal Co., at Collinsville, Ill., at 2 a. m. today, after the doorbell had been set ringing in an apparent effort to attract Kaiser to the door.

Mr. and Mrs. Kaiser and their son, Floyd, were sleeping on the second floor when Mrs. Kaiser was awakened by the ringing of the doorbell. Before she could awaken her husband the explosion occurred. The concrete porch was wrecked and the front of the house damaged, and all the windows in the house broken. The windows of houses in the neighborhood were broken and the shock was felt all over town.

It is said that there has been some dissatisfaction among the men at the mine with Kaiser's superintendency and efforts had been made to get him to resign.

'MAN WITH CAN' BUSY AGAIN

Armed Robber Holds Up Another Oil Station, Obtaining $35.

A man with an oil can rushed into a filling station at 3426 Washington boulevard at 11:45 last night and asked the clerk, Edward Lassitier, for a gallon of gasoline. When Lassitier started to draw the gas the man drew a revolver and ordered him into a rear room and locked the door.

The robber, failing to get the cash register open, made Lassitier come out of the room and open the register, after which he again locked him in the room, took $35 from the register and escaped. The robber answers the same description as the "man with the can" who has been holding up oil filling stations in a similar fashion for the last two months.

Police Order on Slot Machines.

Chief of Police O'Brien notified captains yesterday that the injunction obtained recently by the company operating mint slot machines was effective only as concerning those particular machines. All others, he informed them, are in violation of the law and persons who maintain and operate them should be prosecuted. He ordered that particular attention be given to machines which are played for money only.

WRINKLES QUICKLY BANISHED NEW WAY

Each One Gently Lifted Away

TIRED lines, tiny crows' feet, deep-seated wrinkles—these are now entirely unnecessary! For a marvelous new cream has been discovered which smooths them away, as if by a touch of a magic wand.

This new discovery is called Domino Wrinkle Cream. It works on an entirely new principle. Most treatments merely try to conceal or cover up wrinkles. But this new treatment gets the underlying cause of wrinkles, removes it, and as it does so each line and wrinkle is gently lifted away, revealing a new smooth and wonderfully youthful complexion. Even after the first few days' use, the face appears years younger looking.

Why let unsightly lines and wrinkles rob you of your youthfulness and charm, when they can now be made to disappear so easily? Domino Wrinkle Cream is guaranteed to banish each and every wrinkle, and a special $10,000 bank deposit backs up this guarantee. Your money instantly refunded if not more than delighted with results. You can get Domino Wrinkle Cream at good drug and department stores everywhere, such as Wolff-Wilson, Judge & Dolph, Johnson Bros., Enderle Stores, Stix, Baer & Fuller, and Nugents Department Store.

NEW SUSPECT SOUGHT AS SALESMAN'S SLAYER

Police Abandon Theory That Valenti Was Killed as Result of Liquor Row.

Relatives of Onfia (Louis) Valenti, olive oil salesman, who was shot and killed in his automobile, on Fourteenth street, near Cass avenue, at 6:15 p. m., last Friday, have given the police a new version of the affair. The original police theory that the shooting was the result of a quarrel over a "bootlegging" operation is discounted by Dominic and Sam Valenti, brothers of the slain man.

As the result of the story related by Valenti's brothers, the police have issued an order for the arrest of Ciroro Vitali, 24 years old, who came here from Italy six months ago, and have changed the order for the arrest of Sam Valenti, 27, a cousin of "Louis" Valenti, who has been sought since the murder, to read "alias Sam Vitali," which is said to be his correct name.

Sam Vitali, or Valenti, as he was known, has not been at his home, 1511 North Fourteenth street, near where the shooting occurred, since the night of the murder. He is employed by the City Water Department, where he is carried on the payroll as Valenti, but has not reported for duty for about two weeks.

The brothers of "Louis" Valenti, who have been investigating the case, say he was lured from his home, 815A Wash street, by a telephone message to call at the Fourteenth street address on "important business." When he drove his automobile into the alley adjoining the Vitali home, he was fired upon by a man from an upstairs window of the Vitali home, and then, as he was backing his machine from the alley, was fired at by a man who ran from the house.

The police homicide squad, after an investigation of the shooting, reported that "Louis" Valenti and Sam Valenti, as he was then known, quarreled and that Sam ran from the house. A few minutes later "Louis" Valenti started to drive away and was shot by Sam as the later was returning to the house.

BILL UNMASKING KLAN SIGNED BY GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Gov. Smith yesterday signed the New York World's bill unmasking the Ku Klux Klan. Within 10 days every klan in New York State must file with the Secretary of State the names and addresses of all its members, as well as copies of the laws and rules of the organization.

Secrecy of membership in the klan was the main point it strove to maintain, and it appears likely that the revealing of the members will be demanded soon in other states.

STEAM SHOVELS CUT SNOW WALL

Washington Pass to Be Opened Earliest in History.

HYAK, Wash.—Snoqualmie Pass, the only connecting highway link between Eastern and Western Washington, will be open two weeks earlier than ever before this spring, because of the use of monster steam shovels designed for clearing away snowdrifts. The opening of the pass is a big event in this State. It means the opening of traffic to motorists as an outlet commercially between the two sections of Washington separated by the skyline ridge of the Cascade Mountains. The steam shovel mounted on a caterpillar tractor, has been biting away at the white barrier for weeks. The snowfall of eight to 20 feet is packed like ice into a dense blanket of five feet. Three miles on the west side and four miles on the east side of the pass must be cleared each spring to permit early traffic. The cost is borne by the State Highway Commission.

$1 PAYMENT EASES CONSCIENCE

Student for Ministry Sends Money to Street Railway Co.

DALLAS, Tex.—The Dallas Railway Co. has received a letter from a Georgia man; enclosing a note reading as follows:

"Enclosed find check for $1 to pay for the times I beat the conductor out of my fare.

"I am now a student in a Bible school preparing for the ministry and feel I must make restitution."

Oil Tanker Outrivals Noah's Ark.

SAN FRANCISCO.—Noah's Ark looked like a cracker box zoo compared to the oil tanker Stockton, which arrived here from the Far East with the largest shipment of wild animals brought out of Oriental jungles in years. Giant pythons, rare cassowaris, elephants, bears, moosangs, tapirs, gibbons, spotted leopards, a rare black panther and some 4000 or 5000 birds were included in the collection.

Schick Test Reduces Deaths.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Use of the Schick test in immunizing for diphtheria has greatly reduced deaths from this disease in the last year, said the annual report of the health department laboratories made public yesterday. More than 157,000 school children were given the Schick treatment during the year, the report said, bringing the number immunized up to 250,000.

A glance at the illustrations will show that these Wash Frocks possess that smartness of line and trimming characteristic of only the finer kind of Dresses. No printed picture, however, could show the unusually fine grade of materials used in their fashioning; that you must see for yourself. In fact, they are Wash Frocks so unusual we are confident they will set a new standard of smartness and quality at this low price.

The styles are refreshingly new and smart, with frills, fine organdie collars, cuffs and side drapes; embroidery, exquisite laces and pleats—none of the ordinary ways of styling that generally accompany inexpensive Wash Frocks. As for colors—colors that will show clear and unfaded after many severe tubbings—think of any in the rainbow, likewise any combination—it's here. SIZES FOR WOMEN AND MISSES, 14 to 46.

CITY HOLDS FIREMEN WAIVED 8-HOUR RIGHT

Counselor Haid Makes Statement After Examining Individual Waivers Signed in 1921.

Members of the Fire Department waived their rights to an eight-hour day in a compromise with the city two years ago after an ordinance fixing an eight-hour day had been passed by initiative, City Counselor Haid said today, and therefore can not enforce their present demand for an eight-hour day under that ordinance. Counsel for the Firemen's Union has announced a demand will be made on the city for an eight-hour day, effective June 1.

Haid today examined individual waivers signed at that time by the firemen, and said these waivers released the city from any claim for work in excess of eight hours daily and bound the men to continue work under whatever agreement might be reached by the city and representatives of the Firemen's Union.

Unless the city agrees to some modification of the present schedule of 24 hours on and 24 hours off, Haid said, the only way in which the firemen could bring the issue up would be by refusing to work beyond eight hours or not reporting, thus breaking the contracts.

Requests that the monthly pay of men under the rank of Captain be increased $20 a month were rejected recently by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment. A compromise proposal of a $10 increase also was refused. About 750 men are affected.

The Efficiency Board recently conducted an examination for fireman and established an eligible list of 277 applicants.

PLAYGROUND BEING MADE FOR MARY INSTITUTE

Three Acres at Pennsylvania Avenue and University Car Line Assigned by Washington U.

A playground which will have a hockey field, tennis court, a basketball court and space for other sports is being made for the students of Mary Institute at Pennsylvania avenue and the University street car tracks. The athletic field consists of three acres and will have a building 24 feet by 72 feet, in which will be locker, shower and rest rooms.

The cost of the project will be $25,000 and it is being built because of a long-felt need for a recreation ground for Mary Institute students. The location has been assigned to Mary Institute for an indefinite period by Washington University, which owns the property.

The locker building will be of red brick with stone trimming, and in appearance and architecture will be much like the buildings on the university campus. Surrounding the grounds will be an iron fence, which is expected to lend an attractive appearance to the field and its equipment.

Mary Institute at Lake and Waterman avenues is on the University car line and the playground being on the same, it will be possible to go from one to the other in about 10 minutes by street car. The field will be completed Oct. 1.

CONFESSION IN $38,350 HOLDUP

Man Claiming to Be Former Soldier Held As Robber.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—Granville H. Blair, 25 years old, arrested yesterday, confessed, according to the police, that he had a part Monday in robbing David Antink, cashier of the Sun Drug Co., of $38,350, which the cashier was carrying to the bank. Blair, said by the police to have formerly been in the army, was wounded and was given treatment at the receiving hospital.

The police said another man they sought was wanted in Philadelphia on charges of assault and robbery of jewels valued at $24,000. They said they also believed the man's wife was implicated.

OKLAHOMA TOWN FLOODED

Dyke Breaks at Paul's Valley After Heavy Rains.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., May 24.—Virtually every section of Paul's Valley, Ok., with the exception of a small area on the eastern side, was flooded last night when waters from Rush Creek broke through a dyke as a result of heavy rains continuing several days, according to a report received by the Western Union Telegraph Co. here from their office manager at Paul's Valley. The waters stood in some places seven feet deep, but have receded today, the report said. No lives were lost.

BULK doesn't mean MILEAGE

FOR years, motorists have felt that thick tires were the best for service. But Miller experts have proved that a stiff, clumsy tire naturally gets hotter and deteriorates more quickly from bending and flexing than a tough, supple tire.

10 to 30 Per Cent More Cord Mileage

By reducing needless bulk and building a perfectly balanced, flexible cord, Miller added from 10 to 30 per cent more miles per cord tire. The supple Miller Geared-to-the-Road Cords outserve the old stiff tires from every angle! This balanced construction enables you to get every inch of mileage that the finest materials ever put into a cord can give!

Flat Tread—Buoyant Carcass—Uniform Cords

Millers are the only cords built which combine the advantages of flat tread and uniform cord construction with the buoyant, road-resisting carcass. Prove their superiority on your car! Put a Miller opposite any tire you have. And notice that Millers always save you money—time—trouble! Authorized Miller dealers insure proper treatment.

ADDITIONAL AVIATION PRIZES ARE ANNOUNCED

In addition to the Pulitzer trophy for speed and that of the Flying Club of St. Louis for J-N, low horsepower privately owned planes, to be awarded in the 1923 meet of the National Aeronautic Association, to be held in St. Louis Oct. 1-3, there will be trophies awarded by the Merchants' Exchange and the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce.

The Merchants' Exchange trophy donated by members of that organization, will be awarded the winner of the 300 kilometer (186.42 miles) event for civilian and military pilots flying large capacity planes capable of carrying a load of 2000 pounds or more. There will also be $2000 in cash prizes. This race is expected to bring to St. Louis planes of the T-2 type, in which Lieuts. MacReady and Kelly recently made the record-breaking non-stop flight from New York to California.

The Chamber of Commerce trophy will be for the winner of the On-to-St. Louis race, for civilian pilots only. This race will open the meet, and will be for civilian pilots who come to St. Louis in their planes. At least 100 such visitors are expected from all parts of the United States and Canada and they will be timed to arrive Sept. 30. Allowances will be made the contestants for number of passengers and horsepower of their motors. This race will also have a cash prize of $1000.

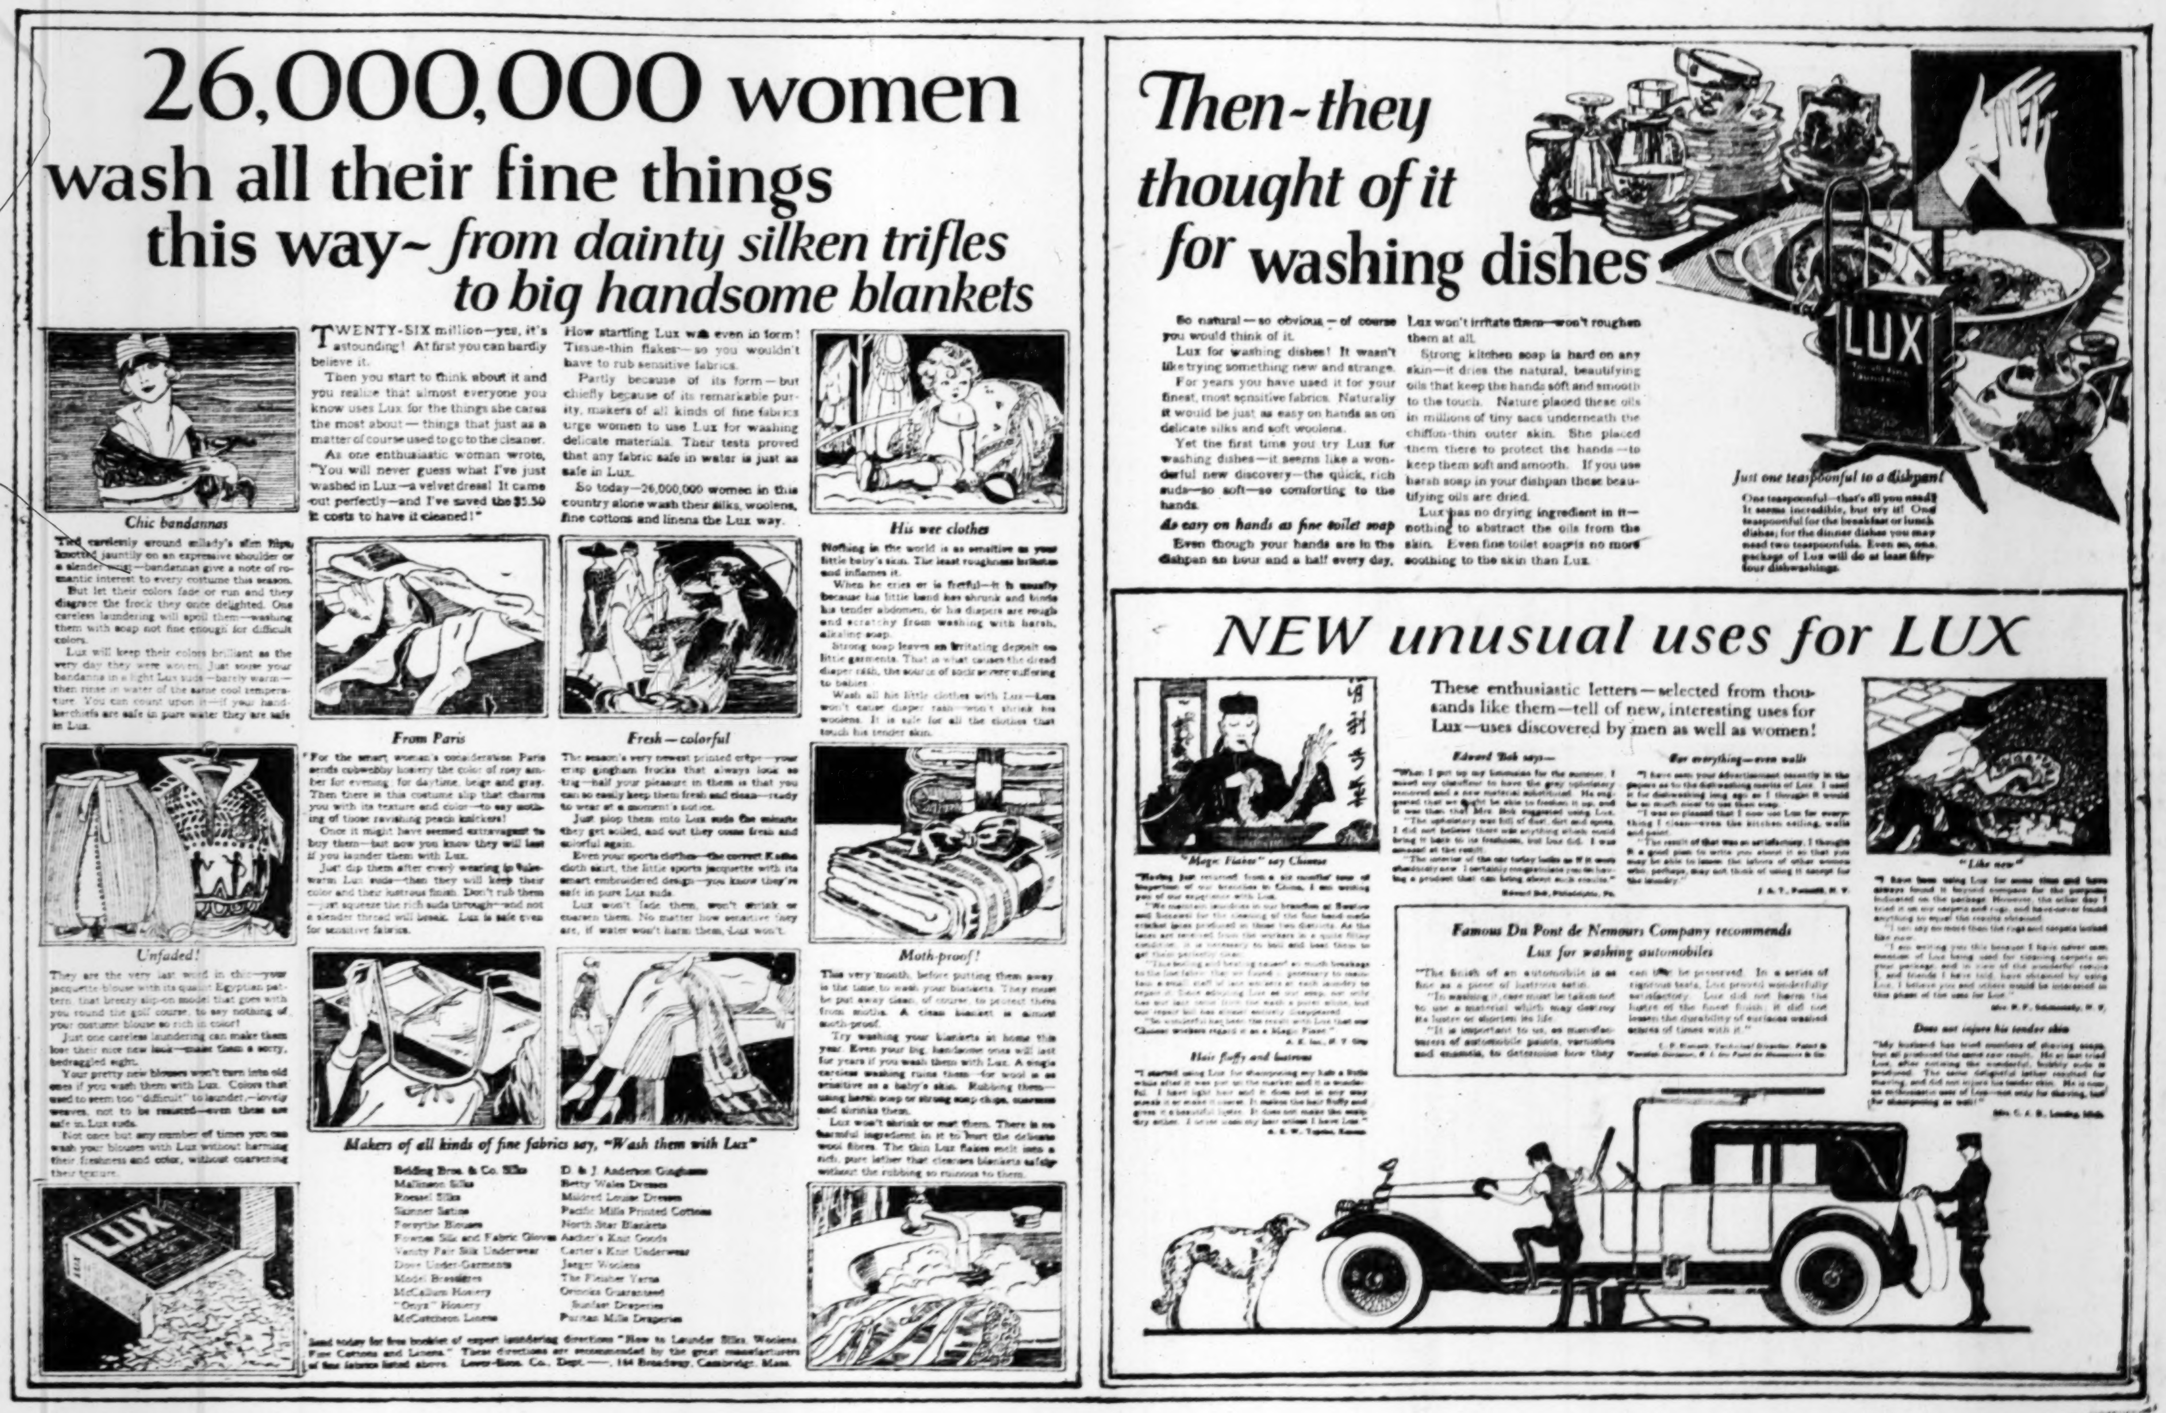
This Firm Had News—They Wanted It to Reach Everybody in the United States—Quickly!

On the same day—almost at the same hour—by means of the advertisement reproduced here the makers of Lux reached every fourth English reading family in the United States



26,000,000 women wash all their fine things this way~ from dainty silken trifles to big handsome blankets

TWENTY-SIX million—yes, it's astounding! At first you can hardly believe it.

Then you start to think about it and you realize that almost everyone you know uses Lux for the things she cares the most about—things that just as a matter of course used to go to the cleaner.

As one enthusiastic woman wrote, "You will never guess what I've just washed in Lux—a velvet dress! It came out perfectly—and I've saved the $5.50 it costs to have it cleaned!"

How startling Lux was even in form! Tissue-thin flakes—so you wouldn't have to rub sensitive fabrics.

Partly because of its form—but chiefly because of its remarkable purity, makers of all kinds of fine fabrics urge women to use Lux for washing delicate materials. Their tests proved that any fabric safe in water is just as safe in Lux.

So today—26,000,000 women in this country alone wash their silks, woolens, fine cottons and linens the Lux way.

Chic bandannas

Tied carelessly around milady's slim hips, knotted jauntily on an expressive shoulder or a slender waist—bandannas give a note of romantic interest to every costume this season.

But let their colors fade or run and they disgrace the frock they once delighted. One careless laundering will spoil them—washing them with soap not fine enough for difficult colors.

Lux will keep their colors brilliant as the very day they were woven. Just souse your bandanna in a light Lux suds—barely warm—then rinse in water of the same cool temperature. You can count upon it—if your handkerchiefs are safe in pure water they are safe in Lux.

From Paris

For the smart woman's consideration Paris sends cobwebby hosiery the color of rosy amber for evening; for daytime, beige and gray. Then there is this costume slip that charms you with its texture and color—to say nothing of those ravishing peach knickers!

Once it might have seemed extravagant to buy them—but now you know they will last if you launder them with Lux.

Just dip them after every wearing in lukewarm Lux suds—then they will keep their color and their lustrous finish. Don't rub them—just squeeze the rich suds through—and not a slender thread will break. Lux is safe even for sensitive fabrics.

Fresh—colorful

The season's very newest printed crêpe—your crisp gingham frocks that always look so trig—half your pleasure in them is that you can so easily keep them fresh and clean—ready to wear at a moment's notice.

Just plop them into Lux suds the minute they get soiled, and out they come fresh and colorful again.

Even your sports clothes—the correct Kasha cloth skirt, the little sports jacquette with its smart embroidered design—you know they're safe in pure Lux suds.

Lux won't fade them, won't shrink or coarsen them. No matter how sensitive they are, if water won't harm them, Lux won't.

His wee clothes

Nothing in the world is as sensitive as your little baby's skin. The least roughness irritates and inflames it.

When he cries or is fretful—it is usually because his little band has shrunk and binds his tender abdomen, or his diapers are rough and scratchy from washing with harsh, alkaline soap.

Strong soap leaves an irritating deposit on little garments. That is what causes the dread diaper rash, the source of such severe suffering to babies.

Unfaded!

They are the very last word in chic—your jacquette blouse with its quaint Egyptian pattern, that breezy slip-on model that goes with you round the golf course, to say nothing of your costume blouse so rich in color!

Just one careless laundering can make them lose their nice new look—make them a sorry, bedraggled sight.

Your pretty new blouses won't turn into old ones if you wash them with Lux. Colors that used to seem too "difficult" to launder,—lovely weaves, not to be resisted—even these are safe in Lux suds.

Not once but any number of times you can wash your blouses with Lux without harming their freshness and color, without coarsening their texture.

Moth-proof!

This very month, before putting them away is the time to wash your blankets. They must be put away clean, of course, to protect them from moths. A clean blanket is almost moth-proof.

Try washing your blankets at home this year. Even your big, handsome ones will last for years if you wash them with Lux. A single careless washing ruins them—for wool is as sensitive as a baby's skin. Rubbing them—using harsh soap or strong soap chips, coarsens and shrinks them.

Lux won't shrink or mat them. There is no harmful ingredient in it to hurt the delicate wool fibres. The thin Lux flakes melt into a rich, pure lather that cleanses blankets safely without the rubbing so ruinous to them.

Then—they thought of it for washing dishes

So natural—so obvious—of course you would think of it.

Lux for washing dishes! It wasn't like trying something new and strange. For years you have used it for your finest, most sensitive fabrics. Naturally it would be just as easy on hands as on delicate silks and soft woolens.

Yet the first time you try Lux for washing dishes—it seems like a wonderful new discovery—the quick, rich suds—so soft—so comforting to the hands.

As easy on hands as fine toilet soap

Even though your hands are in the dishpan an hour and a half every day, Lux won't irritate them—won't roughen them at all.

Strong kitchen soap is hard on any skin—it dries the natural, beautifying oils that keep the hands soft and smooth to the touch. Nature placed these oils in millions of tiny sacs underneath the chiffon-thin outer skin. She placed them there to protect the hands—to keep them soft and smooth. If you use harsh soap in your dishpan these beautifying oils are dried.

Lux has no drying ingredient in it—nothing to abstract the oils from the skin. Even fine toilet soap is no more soothing to the skin than Lux.

Just one teaspoonful to a dishpan!

One teaspoonful—that's all you need! It seems incredible, but try it! One teaspoonful for the breakfast or lunch dishes; for the dinner dishes you may need two teaspoonfuls. Even so, one package of Lux will do at least fifty-four dishwashings.

NEW unusual uses for LUX

"Magic Flakes" say Chinese

Edward Bok says—

For everything—even walls

"Like new"

Famous Du Pont de Nemours Company recommends Lux for washing automobiles

"The finish of an automobile is as fine as a piece of lustrous satin.

"In washing it, care must be taken not to use a material which may destroy its lustre or shorten its life.

"It is important to us, as manufacturers of automobile paints, varnishes and enamels, to determine how they can best be preserved. In a series of rigorous tests, Lux proved wonderfully satisfactory. Lux did not harm the lustre of the finest finish; it did not lessen the durability of surfaces washed scores of times with it."

Hair fluffy and lustrous

Does not injure his tender skin

THEY had a big, new story. Scores of new uses discovered for Lux. How could they get their story quickly, simultaneously, to the 26,000,000 regular Lux users?

This is what they did. They prepared the greatest advertisement for a soap ever run. They put it in The American Weekly.

On the same day, almost at the same hour, the advertisement reproduced above was in the hands of one out of every four English reading families in the United States. 18,000,000 women, men and children from Maine to California were told of scores of additional uses for Lux.

This is one of the economies of modern large scale production—to reach millions of consumers at once. Compare the $24,000 paid for this mammoth advertisement with the colossal cost of reaching 18,000,000 prospective buyers by word of mouth or by letter. The postage, alone, on the letters would cost more than $360,000. It is merchandising like this that reduces the cost of commodities.

No other single medium in the world could reach 18,000,000 readers with one issue—almost one-fourth as many people as are reached by all the other Sunday newspapers in the United States combined.

STATE FIDDLERS TUNING UP. FOR BIG CONTEST

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Mo., May 24.—The first Missouri State fiddlers' contest will open here this afternoon with more than 30 artists of the fiddle and bow entered. They have come from all quarters of the State. Many are "champions." Others have ambitions. Each is confident his rendition of ancient tunes will place him first in the event.

Spectators are pouring into Paris. Hotels are overrun. Between 3000 and 4000 visitors are expected. Motion picture news service men are listening to age-old tunes and taking pictures of the old-timers just as they come from the farms and towns and villages of Missouri.

Mayor Kiel of St. Louis will help judge the contest. He will be entertained at Mexico with a luncheon by the Mexico Commercial Club before motoring over to judge the grand champion fiddlers of Missouri. Mayor Frank B. Cromwell of Kansas City, accompanied by Alderman Grover Joyce, will arrive here today to assist in judging the contest. Business men of Paris will have Mayors Kiel and Cromwell and their companions as honor guests at an old-fashioned fried chicken and Monroe County country ham dinner this evening.

Senior Fiddling Contest.

The first big event of fiddlers will be the senior fiddling contest this afternoon. This is solely an old man's contest, only fiddlers over the age of 65 being allowed to enter. A dozen will take part. A. O. Porter of Coatsville, Mo., being the first to arrive for the conflict.

The event for which every old fiddler' heart is yearning will come at 8 o'clock this evening, when the grand fiddling championship of Missouri will be decided at the Paris Fair Ground before thousands of spectators. All ages and sexes, irrespective of achievements or appearance are entered. The winner will be dubbed grand champion fiddler of Missouri and presented with a beautiful silver loving cup, several cash prizes and medals.

From St. Louis have come three old-time artists—Edward Groom, champion fiddler of St. Louis; Fiddling George Robinson, who says he has a string of tunes that puts them all on a back seat, and Capt. J. W. Adams, one of the city's guardian firemen. Mike McNerney of Kirkwood, St. Louis County, has been here since Tuesday evening, and hasn't let his beloved fiddle out of his hands. Wood Brown, champion fiddler of Monroe County, is the man whose scalp all of them are after. Henry Taylor, champion of Macon County, has come down from Macon. J. O. Oliver, champion of Boone County, is camping on Brown's trail. D. B. Jones, champion of Callaway County, is out for the State laurels.

Woman Would Be Champion.

Mrs. Lem Waterman, wife of a Baptist minister of Eldridge, Laclede County, wants the State fiddling honors. She is the only woman entered. Other sawdust arena artists who are polishing their horsehair bows and tightening their catgut fiddle strings, and their courage for the big event are James Kemp, Mexico; G. E. Cumins, Callao; Douglas Cook, Macon; Lute Riley, Middle Grove; M. D. Richardson, Clarence; J. A. Hinds, Eldon; Clate Ransdell, Moberly; William Stalcup, Clarence; W. R. Blankenship, Bevier; Aubrey Bradley, Moberly; R. B. Lilly, Moberly; W. S. Harris, Kirksville; P. E. Snider, Clarence; H. K. Fountain, Centralia; J. Wesley Murphy, Mexico; L. B. Spurgeon, Conway; Wallace Dearing, Mexico; John Lewellen, Florida, and G. G. Talley, California.

FRIEND'S DEATH KILLS WOMAN

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Mrs. Anna Schiro of Coney Island last evening entered Gabriel Acompora's bakery, and thinking it strange the proprietor was not there, peered into the back room. She saw Acompora being whirled around in the fan of a big dough mixer. She fled to the street, screaming. Her cries were heard by Acompora's aged father and Mrs. Agusta Scuillo, 67, lifelong friend, whose rooms are over the bakery. The elder Acompora ran in and turned off the power. Neighbors fought to restrain Mrs. Scuillo from home and in a few minutes died of heart disease. The baker had been crushed to death.

A blacksmith had to wreck the machine before the body was released. Of the crowd of excited women who filled the store, four fainted.

'OIL FIRM' GOES IN FOR LIQUOR

"Scout" for Fictitious Company Causes Arrest of 13 in Kansas.

By the Associated Press.

PAOLA, Kan., May 24.—When representatives of the "Dennison Oil and Gas Co." appeared in this city recently, an oil boom seemed imminent. The prospective boom blew up with a bang and 16 men and women charged with violation of the liquor laws found themselves in the hands of county officials. The agents, according to the story which was revealed here last night, were representatives of the office of the Attorney-General.

A "scout" who had made a host of friends for the company, and had offered scores of jobs, and a "geologist" took Sheriff J. S. Barnes into the inner circles of the enterprise. Raids resulted here and in outlying towns.

MAN, BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN KICKED BY HORSE DIES

Eugene Johnson, Found Monday Unconscious on Sidewalk Near Team, Succumbs.

Eugene Johnson, 43 years old, a machinist residing at 1237 South Sixth street, died at City Hospital last night of a skull fracture.

He was found Monday unconscious on the sidewalk in front of 1145 South Broadway. Other pedestrians had noticed that he had passed close to a team of horses standing at the curb and it was concluded that he had been kicked by one of the horses. This probability was strengthened by the driver of the team who said one of the team was a kicking animal. The driver, Joseph King, of 1213 South Third street, was arrested on a charge of criminal carelessness for failure to tie the team.

8 Flee From Burning House.

Henry Unnerstall of 9400 Bellefontaine road, his wife and six children were forced to flee in scanty attire at 2:30 a. m. today when their home was destroyed by fire, said to have started from the explosion of a coal oil lamp. Engine Company No. 37 went to the scene in response to a telephone message, but when it arrived the building had been destroyed. The loss was estimated at $2000.

MANY UTILITIES EXPECTED TO SEEK HIGHER VALUATION AS BASIS FOR RATE INCREASE

Applications May Come as Result of United States Supreme Court Decision in Bell Telephone Case.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 24.—Wholesale applications by Missouri utilities for new and higher valuations and consequently higher rates are anticipated as a result of the reversal Monday by the United States Supreme Court of the decision of the Missouri Public Service Commission in the Southwestern Bell Teelphone rates case.

Effect of the court decision upon users of Bell telephones in St. Louis and the 42 other Missouri cities involved in the rate case, is relatively slight compared to the sweeping pronouncement of the Federal tribunal that the Commission, in fixing valuations for rate bases, must consider the present value of utility properties, whereas the Missouri Commission, though not openly espousing any particular valuation theory, indubitably has leaned toward the "original cost" method of determining such valuations.

Difference in Valuation Bases.

Original cost valuations take into account only the money actually put into the properties, whereas those determined upon present value are based upon appraisals at modern construction costs. Under the latter theory, a plan which may have been put into commission at an expenditure 10 or 15 years ago of $30,000 might be valued at double that figure or even more, if the poles, wire, switchboards and other paraphernalia used are appraised at their present market worth.

To the uninitiated this means little. In the Bell case, however, it means the difference between a rate base of $20,400,000 for the properties involved in service to the 43 cities, as determined by the commission, and that of $25,000,000, or a modified reproduction cost now with depreciation allowances deducted as approved by the Supreme Court decision.

In the United Railways valuation case from St. Louis, soon to be decided by the commission, it may mean the difference between $29,805,956 advanced by former Judge Henry S. Caulfield, special attorney for the City of St. Louis, and the reproduction cost as of June 30, 1921, fixed by engineers for the United Railways at $100,772,832.

Laclede Gas Valuation.

The Laclede Gas Light Co. of St. Louis is now operating under rates fixed on a tentative valuation of $30,000,000. Engineers who are acquainted with the property, today expressed the opinion that a valuation for rate making purposes on the basis of present value would be approximately $50,000,000.

The Union Electric Light and Power Co. of St. Louis has rates on a valuation of approximately $31,000,000, which represents a formal valuation made in 1915, plus certain additions which the commission has permitted for improvements since that time. Engineers said that on the basis of present value, its valuation probably would go to $40,000,000.

Possible Fare Increase.

The St. Louis street car patron who might receive a slight decrease from the present 7-cent fare if the Caulfield figure were sustained, undoubtedly will have to prepare himself for a higher fare if the United Railways property is valued at anything like $100,000,000. For the company last year earned only 6.93 per cent on a tentative valuation of $50,000,000, its 286,076,475 passengers and other income having yielded total revenue of approximately $20,167,506.

With its expenses fairly constant, it would have to take in a at least $23,752,996 to be able to pay 7 per cent, (the return usually allowed by the Commission) on a valuation of $100,722,813. Unless there were a marked increased in traffic this would necessitate a fare increase almost to 9 cents, possibly slightly higher, as the expense undoubtedly would advance somewhat.

$70,000,000 U. R. Estimate.

Attorneys for the United Railways, realizing full well the valuation policy of the Commission, had not dared to ask for full reproduction cost, holding their plea down to $70,000,000. In the light of the Bell decision the Commission may exceed that figure.

Engineers of the Commission did not follow reproduction cost new in appraising the United Railways property, but calculated reproduction cost on a basis of the 12-year average of prices between 1906 and 1918, arriving at $47,970,841 which, less depreciation, was $34,285,231. These figures include no allowance for intangibles.

These deductions are highly speculative, and must remain so until the exact language of the court decision is analyzed by engineers as applied to the United Railways case. Chairman John A. Kurtz of the Public Service Commission and the other four commissioners declined today to speculate upon the effect of the decision until they had the text. Even then they will not discuss its effect upon the United Railways or other pending cases, and their interpretation of the Supreme Court ruling will only be known as the forthcoming decisions are handed down.

Technical men who have watched the valuation cases of the Missouri Commission closely for several years, however, declare that the Supreme Court decision, as understood from press dispatches, has approved a valuation policy not followed by the Missouri Commission, and which may result in wholesale demands for new valuations by utilities throughout the State. For these men say that although the Missouri Commission has carefully refrained from adopting the "original cost" or investment measure of valuation in its decisions, it has fixed sums as rate bases which indicated a strong leaning toward that idea, which in most instances led to valuations lower than those which would have resulted from espousal of the present value or reproduction cost new theory.

Sought Rate Reduction.

In the Bell case, for instance, the commission sought in 1919 to reduce as to 43 cities of the state part of the rates put into effect while telephone lines were operated by the Federal government during the war. The company desired he wartime rates left in effect.

There had been no valuation of all of the properties involved by engineers of the commission, but those experts had inventoried and appraised the properties at St. Louis, Springfield and Caruthersville, the figures given to the commission in the three aggregating $11,007,898, as against $18,971,011 demanded by the company as reproduction cost new, and $16,913,673, the company's figure for reproduction cost new with depreciation deducted. The commission used the ratios given by these two comparisons to arrive at its figure of $20,400,000 adopted as the valuation for all of the properties for rate-making purposes, and which compared with $35,100,471, reproduction cost new; $31,355,278, reproduction cost new less depreciation, and $22,888,943, cost as per books, the figures advanced by the company.

Decrease Ordered.

The commission ordered a decrease in rates, which ranged from 25c to 75c a month on various classes of service in the different towns. In St. Louis the only rate involved was that upon business telephones, which was reduced from $9 to $8.50 a month. In a separate order the installation charge of $3.50 and moving charge of $3 were ordered abandoned. The State courts sustained the Commission, the company then appealing to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Under an order by Circuit Judge Slate in the Circuit Court of Cole County, the company each month has paid into the Central Missouri Trust Co. at Jefferson City, the difference between the desired rates and those authorized by the Commission, to be held in escrow until the case is finally adjudicated. That money now aggregates $707,954 and will be turned over to the company as soon as the mandate of the Supreme Court is received. It would have been returned to the individual subscribers had the Commission been sustained. The Commission announced today that its legal department will be instructed to file a motion for a rehearing of the Bell case, and to make a vigorous fight for it. Such motions, however, usually are ruled upon adversely.

YELLOW TAXIS 'GANG' INDEPENDENT DRIVER

Chauffeur, Being Held for Police, Attacks Passerby Who Identifies Him.

George Keller, 2825 Olive street, driver of an independent taxicab, last midnight was the latest victim of gang tactics being followed by chauffeurs of Yellow cabs in the warfare between factions of chauffeurs. The Yellow drivers are nonunion. Sorties on their part have been interspersed with attacks on them by union drivers.

Keller was driving west on Washington avenue when, he told policemen, six or seven Yellow cabs forced his car to the curb at the southeast corner of Broadway. A crowd of spectators who gathered was brushed aside by the fleeing taxicabs. Keller went with policemen to the Yellow cab stand at Hotel Statler and pointed out Robert Clark, 22 years old, driver of a Yellow, as one of those who had ambushed him and the man who had driven a cab into the back of his car.

Three witnesses of the ambush, who were returning from a steamboat excursion, were found. One of these witnesses, Charles Schuetz of 4268 Penrose street, while arrival of a patrol wagon was awaited, made a similar identification of Clark. Clark called Schuetz a liar and hit him in the jaw. Clark was arrested and a warrant issued charging him with common assult.

The first instance of "ganging" a rival cab by Yellow cabs occurred Monday night at Fourteenth and Chestnut streets. The plan is to surround the machine to be "ganged" by other cars. The police did not report whether Keller was a union chauffeur.

TEACHER FOR 50 YEARS RESIGNS

Has Kept Record of Progress of Her 2100 Pupils.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Miss Celia Sargent, an Evanston school teacher who resigned yesterday after 50 years' continuous service, will be the guest of honor at a banquet at the Evanston Women's Club, to which will be invited all living former public pupils. "Since I began teaching in 1873," Miss Sargent said, "I have had some 2100 pupils."

Miss Sargent has kept a register of her pupils in which she has entered brief biographical notes from time to time as fame came to one of her "boys or girls."

The Mark of Quality

Does Gum-Dipping Improve Cord Tires?

Certainly! Because it lengthens the life of the inner tire structure. That is why Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords are practically proof against blowouts.

The process of immersing the cords in a fluid of fine rubber insulates each individual thread—reduces friction and heat to a marked degree—makes a more active, more responsive, easier riding tire—and ends permanently a long list of tire troubles.

The satisfaction of greater mileage that accompanies each purchase of Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords is amply demonstrated by the tremendous recent increase in sales.

In the past six months the public has shown its appreciation of these quality tires—with a demand 194% above that of the same period last year.

Combined with double gum-dipping are other special processes—air-bag cure—rubber blending and tempering—having definite and marked results in mileage.

Equip all four wheels of your car with Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords and Firestone Steam-Welded Tubes. Learn the meaning of MILEAGE as developed by Firestone.

That lovely gleam olive oil gives your hair

The soft gleam that makes hair beautiful comes from the olive oil shampoo, hair specialists say. Science has found that olive oil keeps hair soft and pliant. Then hair gleams.

Olive oil in its simplest, most economical form for your shampoo, is PALMOLIVE SHAMPOO. It thoroughly cleans scalp and hair—removes dandruff. Leaves hair most amazingly soft and silky. No dull dryness and brittleness.

Get a bottle at any drug or department store. Use it. Note the improvement.

Acid in Stomach Causes Indigestion

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

TWO VERSIONS OF ALTERCATION AT RESIDENCE OF PHYSICIAN

Attendant in Office Says Caller Became Abusive—Man Says He Was Attacked Without Provocation.

Two versions of an altercation at the office and residence of Dr. August H. Sante, 1115 South Grand boulevard, at 6:45 o'clock last night, which resulted in Louis Eaves, 41 years old, 1429 North Euclid avenue, being sent to the city hospital with lacerations of the scalp, discolored eyes and numerous bruises, have been given to the police.

George Herman, 43, an attendant, said Eaves became abusive after learning the doctor was not in and attacked Herman with a knife. Herman defended himself with a pair of forceps, subdued Eaves, and called the police.

Eaves said Dr. Sante was his uncle and that he went to the office to visit. He admitted having had several drinks earlier in the day with a friend, but denied he was intoxicated. He said he failed to get a response when he rang the front door bell and then went to the rear door. He said a man opened the door and assaulted him with a "billy" without warning or provocation.

DOCTOR PRESENTS BONDS THAT MATURED IN 1922

Brewing Company Had Deposited Cash to Take Them Up, Not Knowing Who Had Them.

Dr. H. C. Hartmann, 1815 Lafayette avenue, yesterday presented to the Mercantile Trust Co. two $1000 bonds of the old Consumers' Brewery Co., which had matured Feb. 1, 1922. The Griesedieck Bros. Brewery Co., not knowing who owned the bonds, on May 4 deposited $2850 with the Circuit Clerk to pay principal and interest on the bonds, so that title might be cleared to real estate mortgaged to secure the bonds.

They were part of a $100,000 issue, the remainder of which has been paid. The Mercantile Trust Co. today applied to the Circuit Clerk for the deposit so that it may be turned over to Dr. Hartmann. The doctor could not be located today when it was sought to ascertain why he had not collected interest on the bonds since February, 1914.

SEES BUSINESS IMPROVEMENT

Starek Makes Statement After Conference With Harding.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—An encouraging estimate of business conditions and a promise of further help by the War Finance Corporation were contained in a statement made today by Fred Starek, acting head of the corporation, after a conference with President Harding. Starek declared that despite the impression in many quarters the Corporation was making no effort to force liquidation of the loans of many millions of dollars it has outstanding, and predicted that Congress would be asked at its next session to pass additional legislation for the relief of cattle interests in the Southwest whose herds have been taken into Mexico for grazing.

He asserted that in the main however, the remedy for present grievances lies in sensible thinking and hard work rather than in legislation. As managing director of the Finance Corporation, Starek recently made a tour of the South and West, traveling many thousands of miles by airplane and inquiring into the financial conditions of many industries.

PRINTERS ELECT NEW PRESIDENT

W. J. Gibbons Chosen to Head Typographical Union No. 8.

William J. Gibbons was elected president of Typographical Union, No. 8, composed of St. Louis printers, last night, defeating Percy Pepoon, who has been president of the organization for two one-year terms, by a vote of 554 to 419.

William J. Coombs was re-elected secretary-treasurer, defeating Daniel Morlang by a vote of 769 to 232. W. F. Evans and John S. Durning were elected to the Executive Committee representing the newspaper branch and H. Thomas Collins and Tom Walden for the job printers' branch. The new Investigating Committee is composed of Edward H. Springmeyer Jr., Edward T. Sullivan and Charles E. Morris. Tracy Brown, W. J. Cavanaugh and Tom Costello were elected to the Relief Committee, and the following successful candidates to represent the local at the next International Typographical convention were John Geldbach, Miss Mary Rider, Jacob Rau and John W. Alvis.

BELGIUM FIGHTING STRIKES

More Men to Be Called to Colors for Strike Duty and Ruhr.

By the Associated Press.

BRUSSELS, May 24.—The Belgian Cabinet has decided to keep the present conscripts in the army for months after the expiration of their terms of military service and to call several additional classes to the colors, to provide both for the reinforcement of the Ruhr occupation forces and to fight the railroad men's strike.

The Government, it is stated, is determined to carry out the dismissals of strikers on an increasing scale instead of reinstating those already dismissed, as the unions have demanded. The strike is chiefly effective as regards freight transportation, but is having the effect of rapidly increasing the cost of living, while many plants are threatened with a forced shutdown.

28 Carpenters on City Work Quit.

Twenty-eight carpenters on two city construction jobs have quit work because of a dispute with sheet metal workers over metal trim work and construction has stopped, President Kinsey of the Board of Public Service announced today. The buildings affected are a dormitory on the Municipal Farm for Feeble-Minded and a barn at the city's Industrial School for Boys.

How to Have Beautiful Hair

To be charming and attractive you must have beautiful hair.

Beautiful hair is not a matter of luck, it is simply a matter of care.

You can have beautiful hair if you shampoo it properly. Proper shampooing is what brings out all the real life and lustre, the natural wave and color, and makes it soft, fresh and luxuriant.

Your hair simply needs frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, but it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soap. The free alkali, in ordinary soap, soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it. This is why millions of women, everywhere, use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo.

This clear, pure, and entirely greaseless product cannot possibly injure, and does not dry the scalp or make the hair brittle, no matter how often you use it. Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and has the appearance of being much thicker and heavier than it really is. It leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, fresh-looking and fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive and a four ounce bottle lasts for months.

Republican National Committeeman Successful in Dictating All of Appointments by Curry.

Selection of Politte Elvins of Bonne Terre as Special Assistant United States Attorney General to be assigned to the office of the District Attorney in St. Louis to represent the Government in the more important civil cases, marks the successful effort of National Committeement Babler to have the controlling voice in the organization of District Attorney Curry's office.

With the expectation that Senator Spencer would return from his trip to Europe about June 1, Babler and the politicians associated with him in the inner ring of the Republican organization, decided to get all the apointments out of the way. While in previous Federal appointments Senator Spencer had demonstrated no ability to choose the appointees, he had in several instances prevented the appointment of men the inner ring preferred.

Other Appointments Made.

The list of appointments was completed yesterday. In addition to Elvins, those named were:

Regular assistants — Carroll W. Harlan and William J. Blesse of St. Louis and Claude M. Crooks of Maplewood.

Special Counsel—Horace L. Dyer, son of Federal Judge Dyer, to prosecute the Doering mail truck robbery cases.

In the selection of Curry for District Attorney, Congressman Dyer of the Twelfth district stole a march on Babler and his personal element of the party. It is said here that President Harding gave Dyer the picking of the District Attorney in consideration of some special service Dyer performed for the President on a recent trip to China. Dyer named Curry.

None of the local politicians has been able to learn why Dyer wanted Curry, though they have understood that Dyer and Nat Goldstein had two young lawyer friends they expected to put in as Curry's assistants. Having lost the naming of the District Attorney, Babler is said to have stepped in to prevent the carrying out of the Dyer-Goldstein plan regarding assistants.

Assistant Attorney-General Rush Holland, who has been the administration's minister plenipotentiary in dealing with the Missouri politicians, was summoned from Washington. After several days he completed the list of appointments.

He ignored the Dyer-Goldstein demands, not because of any desire to to deny Goldstein a voice, but recognizing, it is said, that Goldstein's desires in a number of other Federal appointments had been followed. Holland had to meet the claims of the old Federal building crowd, whose representative in the negotiations was Congressman Newton, and also to meet Babler's demands.

Elvins Part of Babler Machine.

Elvins has been a part of the Babler machine. The post for which he was chosen is a new one, the District Attorney in past years having attended to civil as well as criminal cases with occasionally the help of a regular Assistant Attorney-General. Elvins is a corporation lawyer from the Southeast Missouri lead belt. He was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor in 1920, is a member of the Constitutional Convention and a few years ago served one term in Congress. It is said his official duties will occupy only a part of his time, and that, while he will not receive a fixed salary, he will be paid about $6000 a year.

District Attorney Curry asked that Blesse, who has been a special assistant District Attorney, be named a regular assistant and Holland granted the request. Blesse's wife was one of the leaders in the Koein Republican house cleaning organization in the 1920 campaign.

To satisfy the old Federal crowd Carroll Harlan, a son of Thomas B. Harlan, who was a law partner of the late Matt G. Reynolds, was chosen an assistant. Reynolds and Harlan were close to Judge Dyer.

Horace Dyer comes within the same classification. Although he is a cousin of Congressman Dyer it is understood the Congressman did not ask and had nothing to do with his appointment.

Essen Interested in Crooks.

Crooks was the choice of Babler and Fred Essen, Republican boss of St. Louis County.

It is the understanding that about next December, when, it is expected an additional Federal Judge will have been named, one or two more assistants will be chosen for Curry's office.

Having disposed of the District Attorney's office, the organization politicians are now turning their attention to the appointments to be made for T. W. Hukriede, who will take office as United States Marshal July 1. Hukriede, is one of the inner group of the Republican organization, and it is expected will accept the Babler verdict on all the jobs except possibly that of Chief Deputy who Hukriede is said to hold should be his personal selection.

Dog Leads Lost Child to Friends.

EVERETT, Wash.—Bernard Marsolais, 9-year-old son of Alex Marsolais of Sultan, became separated from companions on a hike and, having lost the trail, directed his dog to go home. The dog led the way and the boy followed all night through the timber. He had just reached a trail when found.

Herrick Entertains "Good Will" Tourists.

PARIS, May 24.—Ambassador Herrick gave a reception yesterday to the American "Good Will" visitors, after which tea was served. Miss Anne Morgan presented the members of the delegation to the Ambassador, who chatted with each one separately and told them how pleased he was that women from all over the United States were finding it possible through the Committee for Devastated France to get acquainted with the country where the American boys had fought in the war.

SHOES for REAL BOYS

BUSTER BROWN SHOES

A "real" boy wants shoes that will stand rough usage—shoes that are strong and durable and ready for a romp—good pal shoes—and that still are stylish and snappy and up to date—but above everything else, shoes that are comfortable on the feet and adapt themselves to boyish growth.

Shoes that answer perfectly to all these requirements are

BUSTER BROWN SHOES

Parents favor BUSTER BROWNS for both boys and girls, because they wear so well and give perfect comfort as well as protection. Besides, they are always proud of the appearance of their children's feet in BUSTER BROWNS. Try them for your children.

You don't need to bother with bar soap any more

The hardest part of washday—rubbing, rubbing with bar soap. Extra rubbing on the dirtiest places. Heavy rubbing of the wet clothes on the washboard. What a cruel drudgery it is!

Today you don't have to go through all that back-breaking, hours-long labor. A new kind of soap is freeing women from washday drudgery.

With this new soap—Rinso—soaking takes the place of hard rubbing. Just soaking the clothes loosens the dirt and a thorough rinsing leaves things white and shining as you never could get them before.

Only spots where the dirt is actually ground-in such as neckbands, cuff edges, and so on, will need a light rubbing with a bit of dry Rinso. Then these obstinate spots disappear.

You don't have to change any of your washday habits with Rinso. Just use it wherever you used to use bar soap—for soaking, for boiling, or in washing machines.

Rinso is made by the makers of Lux, the largest soapmakers in the world. Get Rinso today. It comes in two sizes—the regular size and the big new package. At all grocery and department stores. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

'CRIPPLED CHILDREN BEFORE NURSERY DUTY'

McDonald Expresses Opinion on Necessity for Cut in School Recreational Facilities.

Members of the Board of Education have been under cross fire during recent weeks as the result of action on one hand and inaction on the other.

There are two bones of contention. Criticism has resulted from the recently voted cut of 3 cents from the tax levy for maintenance which will necessitate, among other things, the elimination of recreational work in the public summer schools. Another question which has arisen is the matter of providing better schooling facilities for the crippled children of St. Louis.

Feeling among the Board's membership with those who voted in favor of the tax cut sems to be that the budget cannot continue to grow indefinitely and that money must be saved where possible without the loss of efficiency, and that the crippled children come before "performance of nursery duty for mothers."

McDonald's View.

"The tax cut and subsequent elimination of the recreational work," Jesse McDonald, member of the Finance Committee which has failed so far to make appropriation for the work, said today, "arouses people enthusiastic over the playground work for the children. But when we have so many more urgent demands for the Board's revenues, it would seem wiser to place the funds where they will do most good.

"We need more buildings and equipment and teachers in our elementary schools, for example. And the thing I am greatly interested in is the proposed schools for crippled children.

"I believe we will have those schools, one or maybe two of them by next fall. I would favor two such institutions, in portable structures this next year, which would be an experimental year. One should be in the northern part of the city and one in the southern.'

McDonald said it was possible that vacant rooms in elementary schools could be used, but that he thought the portable houses better suited.

"Will Have Balance Available."

McDonald said no appropriation has been made by the Finance Committee to cover the expense of such schools. "However," he added, "all that will be necessary will be for the superintendent to recommend a feasible plan, and the money can be appropriated later. We will have an unappropriated balance available."

In reiterating his previous statement that recreational work is not strictly educational and should not, therefore, come under the work given by the schools, McDonald said that in his opinion "there is no comparison between our duty to the crippled children and to doing nursery work for mothers."

Several clubs, including the Kiwanis, Rotary, Optimists and women's organizations, have expressed indignation at the board's elimination of the recreational work. Frank W. Swann, president of the Kiwanis Club, is making an effort to interest other organizations in sending resolutions to the board asking it to reconsider the action.

"Looks Like Snap Judgment.

"It looks as though the Board made snap judgment," he said. "We hope to aid them in seeing the error of their ways. Out in my neighborhood there are as many children needing recreational facilities and playgrounds as in the congested districts. We 'cliff dwellers' living in apartments have no place for our children to play except in the streets.

"The comparatively small sum saved seems negligible in comparison with the good the work can and has done."

The cut of 3 cents was part of a 6-cent reduction which reduced the tax levy this coming year from 88 cents to 82 cents on the $100 assessed valuation and cut the expense approximately $600,000. The recreational item recommended by Supt. Maddox was for an appropriation of $63,000.

Swann added he thought it "short sighted of the Board to say the teachers are 'just looking for summer jobs.' I understand they made that statement," he said. "The teachers do the work because they like it. Most of them would prefer going away for vacations. It is a labor of love."

$800 for Equipment.

Swann is a member of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Hamilton grade school, Hamilton and Westminster avenues, which voted night before last to spend $800 out of its own treasury for equipment of the school's playground.

"It took us two years to get the board's permission to use the school playground," he said. "They seem not to desire to take suggestions from anybody."

He said a resolution sent three weeks ago by the Kiwanis Club to the board recommending the recreational work be continued had been acknowledged as "read and duly filed."

The manual training and recreational work has been a part of the summer school work since 1910, the board making the appropriation for it each year with the exception of 1915. Last year 11,115 were enrolled. Academic courses will be given as usual.

STATE UTILITIES ASSOCIATION MEETING ON RIVER STEAMER

President Says Companies Had $1,331,993.30 More in Dividends in 1915 Than in 1921.

Gas, water supply, electric light and power, electric railway and telephone companies of Missouri had $1,331,955.30 more available for dividends in 1915 than they had in 1921 according to the report of the president, E. R. Locke, before the annual convention of the Missouri Association of Public Utilities which opened on a Mississippi River steamer today.

Locke asserted that where the utilities paid only 53 cents in taxes to each $1.00 available for dividends in 1915, they paid $1.46 in taxes for each $1.00 available for dividends in 1921.

"During the recent session of the Missouri Assembly, it was stated that the public utilities of Mssouri were chargng rates that permitted the companies to pay swollen dividents," Locke said. We who operate under the regulation imposed by this law, know that the Public Service Commission has not permitted us to charge rates that permit payments of dividends upon stocks, watered or otherwise.

"In 1915, operating mostly under rate contracts made with the municipalities, the utilities after paying operating expenses and other fixed charges, had available for dividends to stockholders $5,824,981.15 and paid in taxes $3,122,170.22.

"In 1921, after paying operating expenses and other fixed charges the utilities had available for dividends to stockholders $4,492,985.85 or $1,331,995.30 less than in 1915, and paid in taxes $6,328,404.14 as against $3,122,170.22 in 1915, a taxation increase of 102.57. These conditions are part of the unsettled conditions of materials and wage costs and taxes caused by the Great War."

WOMAN'S JEWELRY DISAPPEARS ON VISIT TO HER COUNTRY HOME

Handbag, Tossed on Davenette, Gone When She Returned to Room, Mrs. F. G. A. Bardenheier Says.

Mrs. Frederick G. A. Bardenheier, 3145 Hawthorne boulevard, has asked detectives to investigate the disappearance of her handbag containing $90 and jewelry which she valued at $3750, at her country home at McKnight and Laduc roads, St. Louis County.

Accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Andrews, she motored to the country home yesterday to arrange for having the house renovated. As she entered the house, she said, she tossed the bag onto a davenette in the living room on the first floor after inspecting the house she returned to the living room and discovered the bag was gone.

Detectives last night searched the house btu were unable to find the missing bag. The jewelry consisted of three diamond rings, a diamond studded bracelet, a barpin and a wrist watch.

5-FOOT POLICEMAN'S EXPLOIT

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 24.—A good policeman is not necessarily a big one, Chief Collins learned when a special report from a precinct commander told of the simultaneous arrest recently of seven "bad men," four of whom were armed, by Patrolman William E. McAvery, the smallest man of the Chicago force.

McAvery registers five feet in height, with something of an effort, and is of slight build. Several men in automobile sped away from a corner of his beat as McAvery hove into sight. The officer drew his revolver, leaped on the running board, covered the chauffeur, disarmed his companions, lined them up according to height and marched them single file to the station.

VIEW OF CONDITIONS IN GERMANY

Belleville Commercial Club Head Tells of What He Say on Trip.

"I would rather be a beggar in America than a millionaire in Germany," said Adam Karr, president of the Belleville Commercial Club, at a reception and banquet in his honor after his return from a tour of Europe. Karr stated the suffering in Germany was intense and that American money and supplies had been instrumental for the most part in keeping the people alive.

At Athens, he states, he saw a large number of refugees, Greeks and Armenians, who had fled from the Turks, herded and housed like cattle. When the people saw the tourists, who carried American flags, they waved their arms and shouted "The Americans are coming."

SERUM TREATMENT DISCUSSED

Rockefeller Institute Doctor Tells of Its Success in Pneumonia Cases.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Effacy of anti-pneumococcus serum combating lobar pneumonia was emphasized by Dr. Rufus I. Cole of the Rockefeller Institute, addressing the State Medical Society yesterday. He said that of 221 who had been given the treatment, only 24 had died. Half the numoer of deaths he declared to have been due to complications associated with the disease.

The death toll from pneumonia, it was said, was 150,000 annually and use of the serum was expected to lower it substantially.

How You Can Make Hairs Quickly Disappear
(Helps to Beauty)

Even a stubborn growth of hair will quickly vanish from the face, neck or arms after a single treatment with delatone. To remove hair from arms, neck or face make a stiff paste with a little powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after about two minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be left free from hair or blemish. To avoid disappointment, be quite certain you get real delatone and mix fresh as wanted.

POST-DISPATCH WANTS quickly RESTORE LOST ARTICLES of value or sentimental value.

RISE OF THE BRITISH LABOR PARTY

Levy on Capital Is Advocated to Reduce Heavy Tax Burden

National Debt Exceeds $800 Per Capita and Income Tax Takes One-Fourth of Earnings —Party Wants Necessaries Exempted.

The following article is the third of a series on the British Labor Party by John L. Balderston, London correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

By JOHN BALDERSTON.
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the New York World.

LONDON.—In this dispatch the principal political and economic issues now uppermost in Great Britain will be indicated, together with the policy of the Labor party for dealing with each of them.

Political parties in this country, do not, as in America, draw up platforms containing planks which enable the reader to understand, or think he understands, at a glance, the party's position on all matters of controversy.

It has required some research to obtain an authoritative Labor pronouncement tot which the party is committed, and it should be stated that very few member of the party are acquainted with all their official doctrine. It is official, however; the authority for all the following pronouncements rests upon resolutions passed by the annual party conference or put forward by the national executive of the party.

Heavy Income Tax.

Taxation must come first, as a paramount issue in British politics. Great Britain is crushed beneath a burden of direct taxation greater than any other modern great state has ever borne. Out of each $5 earned by a citizen $1.25 must be paid as income tax. During the war, and until last year, the amount was $1.50.

Nor do the allowances and exemptions afford much relief. The limit below which a person is exempt from income tax has been lowered from $800 a year to $750. The allowance for married men is only $500, $160 for the oldest child and $120 for other children. The widespread public clamor for reduction in income tax will be understood from these figures.

Indirect taxation too is heavy in many respects, although England is nominally a free trade country and most imported food is tax-free. A bottle of whisky of inferior quality now costs $3.50, of which $2 goes to the state. Even at that the post-war whisky is diluted. The pre-war bottle of stronger stuff cost $1. Tobacco taxation is much heavier than in the United States, the prices here averaging 50 per cent higher. The tea tax, to a tea-drinking nation, is still more serious.

What Party Proposes.

The Labor party's policy is taxation according to ability to pay, and the placing of the heaviest burden upon the broadest back. It therefore stands for no taxation upon necessaries of life or upon incomes below a reasonable subsistence standard. In particular, the Labor party demands:

A free breakfast table, that is, the abolition of all existing taxes on food.

The reduction of 50 per cent of the tax on tobacco.

Relief of small income taxpayers with families by increasing the allowance for wives and children.

Higher and more steeply graduated taxation of large incomes.

Higher and more steeply graduated death duties.

The rating and taxation of land values.

A capital levy on accumulated wealth in excess of $25,000, for the purpose of paying off the war debt.

This last proviso, the demand for a capital levy, was the most discussed issue of the November election. It aroused the fears of the property-owning classes, and Labor leaders themselves estimate that it cost the party at least 50 seats. But Philip Snowden, Sidney Webb and other leaders persuaded the party that principle must be put before policy.

$800 Debt Per Capita.

In the beginning of last year the national debt amounted to $39,000,000,000. This is more than $800 a head for every resident of Great Britain and more than $4000 for every family that includes three children. The country is being taxed to pay interest and sinking fund amounting to $1,600,000,000 a year, including interest on the American debt. This is more than one-third of the whole revenue of the state.

Most of the gigantic war loans were raised when the purchasing power of money was far less than today. Prices have come down almost half since 1919. This, the Labor party claims, means that the burden of the war debt on the people has been doubled since the armistice.

Labor's proposals for a capital levy to wipe out "the whole or a great part of the debt by a levy on all accumulated wealth" is of such importance that it must be summarized at some length. Labor suggests that a levy be devised to raise at least $16,000,000,000.

Scheme for Capital Levy.

Above the exemption limit of $25,000 the levy would be graduated. It is suggested that a man with a fortune of $30,000 should pay only 1 per cent on the excess abour $25,000, or a tax of $50 altogether. Larger fortunes would pay more, up to 50 per cent in the case of millionaires.

A special feature of the levy would be that the taxpayer would have the option of handing over securities instead of money. Thus the levy, the Labor party claims, would not cause a panic by forced selling of stocks, as its opponents allege. It would not reduce the real capital of the country, Labor argues, but alter its ownership. Men with all their money locked up in their own business would be allowed to pay in installments.

A levy of $16,000,000 would reduce national expenditures by over $1,000,000,000 a year. As a result, if the money could be collected, it would be possible to give relief to taxpayers in many ways.

The yield of some of the principal taxes at present is:

Taxes on food	$250,000,000
Taxes on tobacco	380,000,000
Taxes on entertainment	60,000,000
Corporation tax	150,000,000
Income and super-tax	2,000,000,000

It would be practicable, if the capital levy were carried through as planned, to abolish the taxes on food, cut off half the tax on tobacco, get rid of the corporation and entertainment taxes, knock $250,000,000 off the income tax, and still have $150,000,000 to provide for education and other reforms.

It is labor's claim that to a working class family of five the levy would mean a direct saving of $1 a week. Also most professional men, shopkeepers, small business men and many others would gain by the levy, and only those with large incomes would find themselves worse off.

(The next article will give the attitude of the Labor party toward better housing for workers, agriculture, the liquor question and reform of the House of Lords.)

MEXICAN CONFERENCE TO BE BINDING ON TWO GOVERNMENTS

Credentials Exchanged by Representatives Empower Them to Act for Obregon and Harding.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, May 24.—Should the United States and Mexican delegates to the pre-recognition conference solve the problem of recognition, the agreement reached would be binding upon both the United States and Mexican Government, it has been learned authoritatively here today.

The credentials exchanged at the inaugural session empower Ramon Ross and Senor Gonzales Roa, and Charles B. Warren and John Barton Payne, to act respectively as the personal representatives of President Obregon and President Harding, and also bind both Governments to observe any agreement which the delegates may reach.

The three main points developed during the first seven sessions of the mixed commission centered about the understandings reached at the conference last year at Washington between Secretary of State Hughes and Adolfo de Lahuerta, Mexican Secretary of the Treasury. These points were: Resumption of payments on foreign debt obligations; satisfactory indemnifications for expropriated lands and settlement of the petroleum controversy resulting through the alleged retroactive and confiscatory interpretations of article 27 of the Mexican Constitution of 1917.

U. S. WANTS $25,000 INDEMNITY

Demand on China in Case of Man Shot by Soldier.

By the Associated Press.

PEKIN, May 24.—The American legation has transmitted to the foreign office a demand of $25,000 as indemnity for the death of Charles Coltman, an American, who was shot by Chinese soldiers near Kalgan, Dec. 11, 1922, in an alleged dispute over the export of silver.

Reports Russia Almost on Feet.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Russia will not need American food relief after October, Henry S. Haskell, who was associated with his brother, Col. W. N. Haskell, head of the American Relief Administration in Russia, said upon his return from Europe yesterday on the Homeric. The Russian harvest in September should "put the Russian people on their feet," said Dr. Haskell.

SOCIALISTS FROM 30 NATIONS CONSOLIDATED

Victor Berger at Hamburg When Workers' International Organization Is Formed.

By the Associated Press.

HAMBURG, May 24.—The second and second-and-one-half Socialist Internationals are no more and in their places has been created a consolidated organization known as the "Socialist Workers International." The new body was formed here by Socialist party delegates from 30 different nations, including Victor Berger from the United States.

Russia today is in the hands of the despotic dictatorship of the Communist party, declared the Russian Menshovik leader, Abramovitch, addressing the International Socialist convention. He urged that organization be undertaken among Russian peasants and laborers to induce them to make their country a "democracy."

Debs yesterday was elected national chairman of the Socialist party at a meeting of the Executive Committee.

NEW INTERNATIONAL FOR PEACE, DEBS SAYS

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The action of the Socialist conference in Hamburg in forming the Socialist Workers' International, was hailed today by Eugene V. Debs, leader of the Socialist party of the United States, as a great stride toward world peace.

"It is a clear, announcing and inspiring voice to the workers of the world that the time is at hand when they must organize on a secure foundation," he said. "I am sure that will be the result of the new organization.

"The present conference at Hamburg has taught the Socialists the value of solidarity and the effect of moral influence. The declaration that the organization must serve as an instrument during war as in peace to my mind marks a wonderful forward step in the movement to abolish war.

"The new organization is virtually a league of the people to establish peace, as against a league of governments to exploit and oppress the masses. The latter plan is merely the design of a few powerful nations to gain control of the weaker. For the first time in the history of the world there is a conscious rise of the races who are determined to control their own evolution."

Referring to the world war, Debs said: "The Socialist workers, especially of Germany, were swept into the maelstrom before they had even a chance to ponder what it was all about. The Socialists now are prepared to guard against being split over territorial or kindred international disputes and will be able to maintain with powerful support the attitude that war is opposed to every canon of human justice. We propose to create our own civilization and not be shackled to the wheels of the capitalistic machine."

The new international is designed to include all the Socialist workers of the world, although at present specifically excluding the Zionist representative, who voted at their congress in Palestine against joining the second international and also the Separatist groups in Czecho-Slovakia and Russia. Its program, as officially outlined, comprises four main points. The first states that the parties thus uniting aim at substituting socialistic for capitalistic methods of production and "in the struggle between the classes" to recognize this substitution process as a means of achieving "the emancipation of the working class."

Point two notes that the organization is endeavoring completely to unite the Socialist workers' movement. The third point states that the international is practically operative only in so far as its decisions are binding on all its parts, adding: "Such decision of the international organization therefore means voluntary restriction of the autonomy of parties in the individual lands." Point four specifies that the organization must serve as an instrument during war as well as peace.

OBREGON ORDERS ROUNDUP OF LABOR AGITATORS IN MEXICO

By the Associated Press.

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Mexico, May 24.—Agitators who have been stirring up trouble between American employer and native mine labor in Chihuahua camps are being hunted by officers under orders of Gov. Igacio Enriquez. The agitators are to be sent to prison.

The Governor is acting under orders of President Obregon, who took action after a protest by the American Smelting and Refining Co. The American company directed its protest to the President, asking for protection in Santo Domingo, Santa Eulilia and other camps.

The protest, which was in the form of a resolution by the company's board of directors, set forth that a "serious situation" has come about, agitators trying to cause strikes, and even threatening lives of mine company executive employes. The alleged troublemakers are said to be candidates for office at the next State elections and are advocating more drastic labor laws, including one that the minimum term of employment for a laborer shall be three months.

Premier Baldwin Slowly Welding a New Conservative Cabinet

Curzon Expected to Serve Until Near East Crisis Is Over; Cecil May Accept Minor Post; Liberals Closing Ranks.

By Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

LONDON, May 24.—Premier Stanley Baldwin is hard at work building a Cabinet. Foreign Secretary Curzon has agreed to remain in that office only until the Near Eastern crisis is settled, and Sir Robert Horne, Lloyd George's Chancellor of the Exchequer, has declined to assume that office again, even in a Cabinet headed by his close friend. He announced his refusal in a speech to his constituents at Glasgow, explaining that a few weeks ago "there appeared to me to be so little hope of Conservative unity that I entered into commitments upon which it is impossible for me to go back." This meant business affiliations with Baldwin's, Ltd., and other concerns.

Marquis Curzon's anxiety to settle the Near Eastern problem has smothered his disappointment at not getttng the premiership. His willingness to remain until this is done does not meet Baldwin's wish for unconditional support from his principal rival, but it will be accepted.

Lloyd George's declaration of war on the Baldwin Government, coupled with unfriendly comment from former Premier Asquith and other Liberals, seems about to heal the split in the Tory ranks caused by the downfall of the coalition last fall.

May Quit the Wilderness.

The former Tory Ministers now "in the wilderness" because of their loyalty to Lloyd George, may feel able to return to their old camp. Probably there will be more changes in the Government than seemed likely when Bonar Law resigned.

Baldwin saw Lord Robert Cecil yesterday. The correspondent understands Lord Robert agreed to accept a minor post in the Government, carrying no duties, but giving him Cabinet rank so he can represent Great Britain on the League of Nations Council. It is also believed he will be Foreign Minister within a few months.

The Post, Conservative, says Cecil has accepted the office of Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, which is almost a sinecure and freqpently is given to an experienced parliamentarian whose debating power is calculated to strengthen the Government in the House of Commons.

Four appointments, which now seem to be certain are: Marquis Curzon as Foreign Secretary; the Earl of Derby, War; Col. Sir Samuel J. Hoare, Secretary of State for Air, and Lieutenant-Colonel Leslie Orme Wilson, chief whip.

Apparently Baldwin attempted to effect a reconciliation of the differing sections of his party, invited Sir Robert Stevenson Horne to become Chancellor of the Exchequer, but Sir Robert in his speech at Glasgow said: "For a time at least I have turned my back on any prospect of any office in any ministry."

Chamberlain and Chancellorship.

It has been suggested that Austen Chamberlain, former leader of the party who went out with Lloyd George, will be Lord Privy Seal. Chamberlain returned to London last night and Sir Robert Horne will arrive today. If reconciliation proves possible it may be that Chamberlain will become the new Chancellor of the Exchequer.

If Lord Robert Cecil is included in the new administration, it will greatly strengthen the ministry. Lord Robert has for so long pursued an independent course that he has been considered quite as likely some day to join a Liberal, or perhaps even a labor government, as to follow his own traditional conservative proclivities. He enjoys an almost unique reputation in the country as a completely honest, independent, fearless statesman of high ability.

Baldwin has declared he expected to submit a complete ministry to the King tomorrow and then pass the week-end in the country before reopening Parliament Monday.

Lord Curzon's Attitude.

Most interest in the present situation has been aroused by Lord Curzon's position. From a reliable source the correspondent learns he was extremely disgruntled at the choice of Baldwin. He has no personal feeling against the successful rival, but has expressed in forceful terms bitterness against his old die-hard friends who turned against him and imposed Baldwin on the King.

Lord Curzon, in the judgment of his colleagues, showed himself very overbearing in cabinet meetings following the breakdown of the first Lausanne conference. His policy then was not approved by some other ministers, including Baldwin. On one occasion Lord Curzon refused to attend an important cabinet meeting on the plea of illness but he lunched just afterward in Piccadilly.

The feeling in the cabinet was that Lord Curzon considered his colleagues his inferiors in experience and expected deference from them. It is understood Baldwin is not anxious to have any minister in the cabinet who adopts this attitude.

Strong Liberal Opposition.

Aside from personalities, principal political interest centres in Lloyd George's declaration of war on the government and his plea for Liberal reunion. It is clear from this, as from the attitude of Asquith, other Liberals and the whole Liberal press, that the one-sided fight hitherto waged by Labor against the Tories will be replaced by an immediate determined Liberal opposition to all government measures.

Liberals of both factions profess themselves anxious to oust the government and force a general election. They believe Labor's alleged record of turbulance and lack of constructive policies is so bad the next election will put the Liberals in power if the party can be united.

Labor, on the other hand, judging by private remarks of moderate leaders, is not anxious for the fall of the Tory government in the near future. Leaders fear the lack of experience of their supporters would make a Labor government impossible.

Liberal Opinion of Baldwin.

Mr. Baldwin is an amiable, shrewd business man, whose early life was spent indirectly with Baldwins, Ltd., the great steel trust which his father built up, and he has remained true to its traditions.

'He described himself in the House a week ago as a 'mugwump' but that was pleasantry. He is nothing of the sort, but a man with definite ideas, and he is prepared to carry them out in politics."

Bonar Law had a more favorable night and was pronounced silghtly better yesterday.

Hooper Again Heads Rail Board.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Ben W. Hooper, former Governor of Tennessee, was re-elected chairman of the United States Railroad Labor Board, yesterday, for 1923, in the first regular executive session of the board since President Harding made appointments for three vacancies. G. W. W. Hangar, public group member from Washington, was re-elected vice chairman.

SAYS BUILDING WAGE SCALE IS HIGHEST HERE

Official of "Employers' Union" Cites $1.50 an Hour Rate for St. Louis Bricklayers.

A. W. Dickson of Cleveland, executive secretary of the National Association of Building Trades Employers, who is in St. Louis this week organizing a local chapter of this "employers' union," said today that building trades wage scales in St. Louis were "higher than any place else in the country."

Dickson said that in some of the large cities in the East, bonus agreements made the actual money received for a day's work more than was paid here, but explained that the wage scale itself was, on the average, higher.

"For example," he explained, "the usual bricklayer's pay is $1.25 an hour, whereas you pay $1.50 scale an hour here. One reason for this is the shortage of bricklayers generally."

Shortage Figures.

Figures on labor conditions printed in the American Contractor, a magazine, Dickson said, showed a shortage of 45,000 bricklayers and 25,000 painters.

"The national campaign of the painters by which they hope to double the amount of paint used by 1926," he said, "is going to present a real problem in this line, too. There already is a shortage, and with more paint to be used each year, the shortage will increase unless some steps are taken to supply the demand for more men."

One way this is being done, Dickson continued, is through the organization of trade schools among the employers. He said the brick manufacturers, for their own protection, were starting schools for bricklayers, for example, and that other manufacturers or employers of the men would have to follow suit.

"Buyers' Strike" Warning.

Dickson also issued a statement with regard to the reported decrease in building generally which, contractors fear, is the first warning of a "buyers' strike." The report set forth that in the last week building amounting to $100,000,000 had been stopped in New York City at the order of the builders of the proposed properties.

"From Chicago," the statement continued, "comes the report that many of the large proposed projects will be deferred until conditions are more favorable. When consideration is given to fact that the country is several years behind in its construction program, particular significance is attached to this information."

Dickson said newspaper editorials have attempted recently to place the responsibility for present high prices on "contractors, building tradesmen and the supply dealers and manufacturers." He refuted the accusation against the contractors and added: "Therefore it follows the responsibility for present high prices must be laid at the door of labor and the material interests."

Wages and Living Costs.

Living costs during the period from June, 1920, to March, 1923, were reduced, in 10 representative cities, on an average of 20.7 per cent, Dickson asserted, while "in that period wage rates in most cities surveyed have increased approximately 20 per cent.

"There is enough work under way now throughout the country to keep labor steadily employed for the balance of this year and for the first few months of 1924," he added, "but with the announcement that large projects are being postponed, it becomes evident that within the course of a year both building labor and material costs will be much lower than they are at present."

The National Association of Building Trades Employers was begun in the fall of 1919 in Chicago, Dickson said, and now has organizations among the employers' associations in some 12 cities, chiefly in the East. He explained the organization as being similar to the building trades councils, delegates to the chapter being chosen from the individual employers' groups.

FOUND DANES BEST FARMERS

P. P. Christensen Back From Two-Year Tour of the World.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Farmers of Denmark were described yesterday as the most prosperous in the world by Perley P. Christensen, presidential candidate of the Farmer-Labor Party in 1920, who has returned from a two-year tour of the world. Their success, he said, was due to their organization and their methods of fertilizing and cultivating farm labor.

"Danish farmers have their own banks and receive 72 cents on every dollar paid by the consumer of their products," he said. "They should be the model for all American agrarians. They have been farming the same land for 1300 years and it still produces wonderful crops."

Fleet of Ships Carrying Scotch Whisky Clear for British Ports But Cargo Reaches America

The abundance of Scotch whisky disclosed by recent dry raids impelled the Post-Dispatch and New York World to find out just how extensive had become the liquor traffic between the source of supply and the United States. Accordingly, these papers' correspondent in Scotland was instructed to make thorough inquiry.

Correspondence of the Post-Dispatch.

GLASGOW, May 5.—With the purpose of finding out where prohibition Scotch comes from, a correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World has just completed a careful inquiry in Scotland. Indisputable evidence was found of a very extensive trade in Scotch whisky between Britain and the United States. Officially and technically with the British possessions near America (Jamaica, Nassau, Bermuda), this now important portion of Scotch commerce is actually carried on directly between Glasgow and other Scottish ports and the three-mile limit off the American eastern coast.

The correspondent spent several days on the famous Glasgow docks talking with the sailors, workmen, truckmen and others who have handled the whisky for the fleet of two or three thousand ton ships which make up the rum armada. So far as the Scottish customs authorities are concerned, these ships comply with the regulations by clearing for one of the British places just mentioned, or for Canada. It is common knowledge, however, that the Scotch hooch fleet in most cases make directly for the shores of America.

"They say we're going to Nassau Bay.
But we'll meet you in the U. S. A."

These lines were chalked on one of the Scotch barrels by some local humorist, and it really sums up poetically the general impression in Glasgow.

Information Denied U. S. Official.

Law-abiding to a degree, yet Glasgow people regard this traffic as legitimate, and when the American consular authorities began an inquiry on instructions from Consul-General Skinner in London, the collector of the customs told the officials he could not give them any information about the ships loading whisky.

The American authorities have had the greatest difficulty in obtaining any details and have had to fall back on a small biweekly publication, giving only the number of gallons of whisky shipped and the alleged destination. The date of sailing, the name of the ship, from what dock the ship was loaded, the owners—all is looked upon as confidential information by the customs officials.

As a matter of fact, the officials in private conversation have said they didn't know where the ships really were going. They conformed to the customs laws, declared their cargo gave a port of destination and paid the ordinary fees, and that was all the law required.

The American consular officials have come to the conclusion that the only way the rum trade between Glasgow and America could be stopped would be to place men on all the docks and obtain detailed information as to the ships, officers and destination. There are probably 200 places in Glasgow and along the Clyde River where the whisky can be loaded.

More than 350,000 gallons were shipped from Glasgow in January, February and March of this year. All of it cleared for Nassau, Bermuda, Jamaica or points in Canada, but it is the belief that a great part of it went directly to one of the rum stations outside the American three-mile limit. Fully 90 per cent of this total was bought by American bootleggers.

Price $2 a Quart.

American rum barons paid about $2 a quart for this Scotch. Assuming that 340,000 gallons was for American consumption, bootlegging syndicates invested $2,720,000 in booze the first three months of 1923. And the trade fell off considerably in March, the correspondent was told in Glasgow.

Great plans are under way for spring and summer shipments. Americans in Glasgow have openly detailed that between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 gallons of Scotch will be bought this year. If even 4,500,000 gallons find their way to America that will be more than is consumed in a year in Scotland. And that is saying a mouthful when Scotch thirst is considered.

At first the big distillers indignantly denied knowledge of the commerce, which until last year had not assumed important proportions. But several weeks ago Sir James C. Calder, one of the largest distillers at a dinner of business men in the north of England, declared that "at present more Scotch whisky was going into the United States than ever before. This was greeted with prolonged applause, someone yelling "Three rousing cheers for prohibition!"

Sir James went on to say that by pre-arrangement ten ships had left British ports loaded with Scotch and one was seized, while the other nine landed their cargo safely. He concluded by saying that the shipments were now on a scale of 3,000,000 gallons yearly and a big increase was expected.

Eyes Closed to Situation.

When this information reached the ears of the United Kingdom Alliance, the Anti-Saloon League of Great Britain, it decided to bring the matter before Parliment at once. The board took the view that if such an extensive trade actually exists, it endangers the good relations of Great Britain and the United Sates.

Sir Robert Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer under Lloyd George, startled an Edinburg audience with a speech similar to that of Sir James Calder. He too, asserted there was more Scotch Whisky being drunk in America than ever before.

The Scotch dry leaders while admitting there is a certain quanity of whisky going to America have made no investigation of the situation and contemplate none, being content with the conviction that the distillers are rapidly going bankrupt.

This attitude is strangely in keeping with the desire of everyone in Scotland who has anything to do with the technically and legally correct position of all the whisky ships that clear from British ports.

The next dispatch on the "bootlegging" traffic in Scotland in whisky for America goes into details. The prices paid,, bribes given, and Scotch gossip as to big syndicates are narrated.

ASKS BORAH TO TELL HOW TO OUTLAW WAR

Justice Clarke Would Have Senator Write Out His Plans, for "Writing Maketh an Exact Man."

WASHINGTON, May 24.—John H. Clarke, former Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, in his first address in Washington since his retirement from the bench, advocating entry of the United States into the League of Nations declared yesterday he did not urge acceptance of the covenant "as it was in 1920, nor as it is now."

He does urge acceptance of the covenant, he told an audience assembled by the League of Nations Non-Partisan Association and comprised largely of social workers here attending the National Conference of Social Workers, "as it would be as modified by such reservations as our present administration, or, if not that, the next one, may propose as conditions of our entering it."

Expressing mystification at Senator Borah's opposition to the present court while urging entering a court he has proposed "to outlaw war," the former Justice suggested that the Senator, when he has fifteen minutes spare time should write out the form of specifications—the particular sanctions upon which he would rely to outlaw war. Francis Bacon tells us that 'writing maketh an exact man'."

Clarke said he was asking no man "to change his party allegiance," but was seeking to lay before the nation the reasons he thought the United States should join the league.

Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, President of Harvard, another speaker, declared he thought President Harding was "going too far" in saying recently that in his campaign he had "declared himself absolutely opposed to entering the league."

OFFERS RAILWAY GROUPING PLAN

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—A suggestion that some arrangement "short of actual consolidation" be made between the Boston & Maine Railroad and either the Canadian Pacific Railway or the Canadian National Railways was placed before the Interstate Commerce Commission today at the hearing on consolidation of the New England railroads by President James H. Hustis of the Boston & Maine.

"The Boston & Maine has a substantial interchange with the Canadian Pacific direct and with the Grand Trunk (now the Canadian National Railways) through the Central Vermont," he said. "It is doubtful whether the commission has power under the statute to recommend consolidation of American roads with the two large Canadian systems. Moreover, important political considerations would be involved in such an arrangement. But there is nothing to prevent some arrangement short of actual consolidation satisfactory to those interests and ours."

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

The Bell Decision.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I HAVE read your editorial on the recent decision by the United States Supreme Court in the Bell Telephone case. You, I know, will agree with me that we ought to be fair to everybody—fair even to the Supreme Court. If it were consistent with the dignity of the Supreme Court to answer a newspaper criticism, the Supreme Court could say this:

"The case in which we first determined how to ascertain the amount of money upon which a railroad or a utility was entitled to earn a reasonable return arose in Nebraska. It involved railroad properties which had been constructed during and after the Civil War at war costs. The property had cost substantially $50,000,000, but at the time we were called upon to make a ruling the same property could have been constructed for $25,000,000. The railroad asked a return upon original cost of investment. William J. Bryan and other representatives of the State of Nebraska pointed out that to base the return on original cost was for the public to guarantee the railroads against fall in prices. The result was that this Court pronounced the rule of law to be that present fair value is the measure of rates and not original cost. In that case the decision at the time was in favor of the public and against the corporation.

"In our recent decision in the Bell Telephone Co. case, the facts were reversed. Whereas in the Nebraska case the original cost was above the present value, in the Bell case the present value was above the cost. When a few years from now we have to consider the plant built during the late war, we shall still apply the same rule, although then present value will be again below the original cost. We are sure you would not consider it fair in dealing with a corporation to take value as the base when value happened to be below original cost and then to take original cost when that happened to be below value."

If we look at the past and at the future, as well as at the present, you will see little to condemn in the action of the Supreme Court.

Another Job for the Women.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE wonderful work done by the Women's Chamber of Commerce in the way of moral uplift, forces me to bring to their attention a condition that is worthy of their consideration. I have had considerable trouble keeping gar fish away from my favorite fishing hole down in the Mississippi. As a good fisherman, will tell you it is impossible to land good ones when Mr. and Mrs. Gar are spooning around. I would suggest that the women draw up a resolution calling upon our Mayor to furnish funds with which to purchase muzzles to be placed on all spooning gar fish. We could then fish in peace, and not spend our good time sitting there cussing ourselves into an irritable frame of mind to carry home. My wife wields a wicked rolling pin when I come in carrying salted mackerel when I was fishing in fresh water. LAUGHING STOCK.

Hot Under the Collar.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IT seems to me there is no more persistent petty grafting in our fair city than the outrageous charges in the laundry business. Like most others I have been paying 4½ cents for my collars and the same for each detachable cuff and 20 cents for shirts plain.

Last week in going over my laundry slip I found I had been charged 5 cents for collars and cuffs and 22 cents for shirts. I called the laundry and asked when they had made the change. They answered on Monday last. I told them they need not send for my laundry any more and that I did not intend to pay for any increase without a previous notice.

There may be some others who feel the same way I do about the outrage.

I despise anonymous letters, therefore I sign my name.

Concerning the Surly Conductor.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I NOTE the letter headed, "The Surly Conductor," in the Post-Dispatch. It is our desire to prevent all such incidents as that, and we are making every effort to do so. We have about 2000 conductors, and I am satisfied from my observations that by far the largest part of them try to do their work courteously and efficiently. We try to eliminate those who do not do their work properly.

A conductor who acts in the way indicated in this letter is a disadvantage, not only to his employer, but to his fellow employes as well. You will appreciate, however, that general statements without any specific information, do not help us very much.

MR. BRYAN'S BELIEFS.

The controversy in the Presbyterian General Assembly as to the teaching of evolution culminated in a debate between Mr. Bryan and Mr. Baer, a former Moderator, which was marked by personalities. Acknowledging Mr. Bryan's honesty, Mr. Baer chidingly observed that Bryan was mistaken, "as he has been before." Mr. Bryan resented this. "I don't want my Democracy used against this cause," he said. "I don't want any Republican to appeal to Republican prejudices by referring to my Democratic beliefs." And he cited his service in the prohibition and woman suffrage movements and asked if he were mistaken in those issues.

Mistaken or not, neither prohibition nor woman's suffrage may be called "Democratic beliefs" in the sense in which Mr. Bryan used the expression. And in looking over Mr. Bryan's career it would be difficult, indeed, to identify his "Democratic beliefs" or to discover him, in all his years of importunity, as championing one sound, fundamental "Democratic belief."

Consider the Bryan paramount issues. Fiat money in 1896. Anti-imperialism in 1900. Government guarantee of bank deposits in 1908. Could anything be further from a "Democratic belief" than the fiat money proposal of Mr. Bryan's free silver campaign? As to anti-imperialism, Democratic, to be sure, in the abstract, it simply served the exigency of a political opportunist when espoused by Mr. Bryan. The third paramount, Government guarantee of bank deposits, was a piece of camouflage that fizzled badly. Mr. Bryan's real paramount in his last appearance as a presidential candidate was Government ownership of the railroads. The Democratic platform that year was ostensibly adopted at the Denver convention, but, as a matter of fact, it was written the year before by Mr. Bryan in his famous New York speech on his return from Europe. His declaration for Government ownership of railroads became then and there the issue, and it emphatically is not a "Democratic belief."

Prohibition is of the same mold. It is the vesting of extraordinary power in Government, such as was never contemplated by the founders, and least of all by Thomas Jefferson, whose teachings Mr. Bryan professes to follow. There may be a question as to how the Bryan beliefs should be classified. But they are socialistic rather than Democratic, and in as far as Mr. Bryan has a political philosophy it is that of Socialism.

Government is the Bryan shield and buckler. He turns to the law in every emergency. For individual capacity and dignity he has no respect. And in religion as in politics Government or the law is his invariable remedy. He would suppress scientific teaching within the domain of his church by the ukase of authority. He has no confidence in truth. He trusts implicitly in the force of law.

Jefferson and Bryan are antitheses. Jefferson held that the least governed people is the best governed. Bryan insists that the most governed people is best governed. Bryanism means the apotheosis of government and the destruction of the individual morally and materially.

Mr. Bryan has no "Democratic beliefs."

IN BY THE GERMAN DOOR.

For the first time, says our correspondent in Berlin, Germany is seriously discussing joining the League of Nations. Austria's rehabilitation under the League and the League's real international character are tempting to the distracted German. It is not believed that the step can be made under the present Government, but unless that Government is successful in negotiating a reparations agreement it cannot long endure.

Were Germany to come into the League it might be the beginning of the end of Europe's distraught condition. With Germany in, the last objection of the German faction in this country to the entry of America would be removed, and the demand of inevitable economic forces, including the need of American farmers for European markets, might sweep us in without heed to the partisan, academic and far-fetched objections of United States Senators.

Austria's hope and contentment seem to be a fact. Mr. Borah's and Mr. La Follette's fine-spun and far-fetched objections are an indulgence of rhetoric, politics and war frenzy.

IGNORAMUSES ABROAD.

There is a type of boastful, vainglorious American who goes abroad and creates a bad impression by his ignorance and his crass national egotism. But there is another type quite as bad, and as an outstanding example of it we point to the American lawyer, a former president of the New York Bar Association, who recently received public honors in France. Not content with praising the obvious French virtues, this man slopped over. Referring to the reconstruction of the devastated area, he said: "I don't see how you ever did it. I am sure that we in America never would have had the courage to rebuild." And his audience applauded, and doubtless believed he represented a responsible section of American opinion.

France, to be sure, has gone about her task bravely and resolutely; the world credits her with it. But the area is comparatively small. It lies in the heart of Europe, surrounded by a skein of railroads, and the reconstruction had the benefits of modern machinery. The Government advanced the funds. The United States was carved out of a primitive wilderness, inhabited by warlike savages. Its great cities were built by men who came in prairie schooners, on horse and on foot. They had no steam shovels or tractors. They had no financial backing. To say that Americans lack pioneering courage and initiative is to utter the most colossal absurdity conceivable.

More mischievous yet was the impression which he sought to give concerning America's official attitude toward the occupation of the Ruhr. The withdrawal of American troops from the Rhine, he said, was in order to give France a free hand. It was a gesture to go ahead. No responsible American believes this, and it is not true, yet such a statement is readily believed by a nation that wants to hear it.

Heaven preserve us from the conduct of our boors and lickspittles abroad!

MONEY WILL DO IT.

President Harding is needlessly agitated about the New York Legislature's repeal of the State's prohibition enforcement act, and so are a good many other persons or personages, as the case may be.

To anyone familiar with the rudiments of practical politics this apparent impasse could easily have been avoided. Let us give Mr. Anderson, Superintendent of the New York State Antisaloon League, the floor for a minute. Did he not predict this repeal when the Rockefellers cut down their contribution to his organization? He did. Now he is quoted as saying that, with $50,000, he could have prevented the repeal. And if he could have prevented the repeal with that amount, is it not reasonable to believe that, given money enough, he can put that law back on the statutes?

The re-enactment of the law may require more money than the prevention of its repeal. But when the enormous profits from prohibition are considered, according to the dry statistics, there ought not to be any great difficulty in financing the job. Indeed, if the drys, for some penurious reason, should hesitate, will not the bootleggers, themselves, come forward?

Anyhow, money will turn the trick. Anderson says so. He knows. Now is the time to subscribe.

The fight upon evolution has been lost before the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church at Indianapolis without a scientist present to strike a blow for it. This is the amusing feature of the whole movement against evolution—that only non-evolutionists are in it and only evolutionists win. It shows that if your cause is just you don't have to be present. You win anyway. The trouble with us is that we cannot believe this. Having a good cause, we, make a bad presentation of it and often lose. It is likely that had an evolutionist, who are usually dried-up little people wearing bone-rimmed glasses, shown up at the Presbyterian assembly he would have been chewed up by the Chautauquans, who are, perhaps, unequaled in the art of emotional forensics. Not people, but things. We congratulate the disinterested Darwinians. Victory like that is victory, indeed.

Sir: Your delightful quotation revealing Rafael Sabatini's familiarity with architecture was most welcome. Howells also knew something of this; readers of "The Rise of Silas Lapham" will remember:

The beginnings of the process by which Lapham escaped from the master builder and ended in the hands of an architect are so obscure that it would be almost impossible to trace them. But it all happened, and Lapham promptly developed his ideas of black walnut finish, high studding, and cornices. The architect was able to conceal the shudder which they must have sent through him. He was skillful, as nearly all architects are, in playing upon that simple instrument Man. He began to touch Colonel Lapham's stops.

"Oh, certainly, have the parlors high-studded. But you've seen some of those pretty old-fashioned country-houses, haven't you, where the entrance-story is very low-studded?"

"Yes," Lapham assented.

"Well, don't you think something of that kind would have a very nice effect? Have the entrance-story low-studded, and your parlors on the next floor as high as you please. Put your little reception-room here beside the door, and get the whole width of your house frontage for a square hall, and an easy low-tread staircase running up three sides of it. I'm sure Mrs. Lapham would find it much pleasanter." The architect caught toward him a scrap of paper lying on the table at which they were sitting and sketched his idea. "Then have your dining-room behind the hall, looking on the water."

He glanced at Mrs. Lapham, who said, "Of course," and the architect went on:

"That gets you rid of one of those long, straight, ugly staircases"—until that moment Lapham had thought a long, straight staircase the chief ornament of a house—"and gives you an effect of amplitude and space."

"That's so!" said Mrs. Lapham. Her husband merely made a noise in his throat.

"Then, were you thinking of having your parlors together, connected by folding doors?" asked the architect deferentially.

"Yes, of course," said Lapham. "They're always so, ain't they?"

"Well, nearly," said the achitect. "I was wondering how would it do to make one large square room at the front, taking the whole breadth of the house and, with this hall-space, have a music-room back for the young ladies?"

Lapham looked helplessly at his wife, whose quicker apprehension had followed the architect's pencil with instant sympathy. "First-rate!" she cried.

The Colonel gave way. "I guess that would do. It'll be kind of odd, won't it?"

"Well, I don't know," said the architect. "Not so odd, I hope, as the other thing will be a few years from now." He went on to plan the rest of the house, and he showed himself such a master in regard to all the practical details that Mrs. Lapham began to feel a motherly affection for the young man, and her husband could not deny in his heart that the fellow seemed to understand his business. He stopped walking about the room, as he had begun to do when the architect and Mrs. Lapham entered into the particulars of closets, drainage, kitchen arrangements, and all that, and came back to the table. "I presume," he said, "you'll have the drawing-room finished in black walnut?"

"Well, yes," replied the architect, "if you like. But some less expensive wood can be made just as effective with paint. Of course you can paint black walnut, too."

"Paint it?" gasped the Colonel.

"Yes," said the architect quietly. "White, or a little off white."

Lapham dropped the plan he had picked up from the table. His wife made a little move toward him of consolation or support.

"Of course," resumed the architect, "I know there has been a great craze for black walnut. But it's an ugly wood; and for a drawing-room there is really nothing like white paint. We should want to introduce a little gold here and there. Perhaps we might run a painted frieze round under the cornice—garlands of roses on a gold ground; it would tell wonderfully in a white room."

The Colonel returned less courageously to the charge. "I presume you'll want Eastlake mantel-shelves and tiles?" He meant this for a sarcastic thrust at a prevailing foible of the profession.

"Well, no," gently answered the architect. "I was thinking perhaps a white marble chimney-piece, treated in the refined Empire style, would be the thing for that room."

"White marble!" exclaimed the Colonel. "I thought that had gone out long ago."

"Really beautiful things can't go out. They may disappear for a little while, but they must come back. It's only the ugly things that stay out after they've had their day."

It is interesting to note that about the time the novel was written Howells' son, who has just won the competition for the Chicago Tribune building was probably starting in the profession.

May we add that a sure and most pleasant cure for any feeling of disappointment as to American novelists is reading "Huckleberry Finn," "A Hazard of New Fortunes" and "Princess Cassamissima." As it happens, all these are concerned with the poor, but not altogether—the rich are also there, as they must be if the novelist mirrors his own period, or indeed, any period. HOWELLSON.

What's the matter with you St. Louis people? Don't you know how to behave when you go visiting? Only a week ago some of your flappers and flippers put on a petting party in one of our parks. Don't you St. Louisans know we got a new Mayor and a reform wave after two years of backsliding?

Formerly, when some of us Altonians felt like kicking over the traces, we went to St. Louis to do our stuff; but now it is reversed. We have your Kroger stores, your flappers, flivver-boobs and—Heaven help us—your gangsters. If things keep on we will have to borrow your Father Tim. ALTONIAN.

Mme. Julia and Her Trained Birds.

Mme. Julia is plump, dowdy and farther "North of 36" than Emerson Hough ever dreamed of. But la, those darling trained pigeons! One feigns intoxication. So lifelike, is it not? And what wonderful somersaults! Voila!

Someone is invited to place various flags under a row of flower pots. Madame says "England!" and the pigeon pushes over a pot and picks up a Union Jack. (Air, "God Save the King!") "Frawnsay!" cries Madame, and the process is repeated. (Air: "Marseillaise.") And so on down the line to "Amereek!" The bird finds Siam, Mexico and Finland, but Madame saves the day by wrapping herself up in Old Glory and marches off the stage with a bird perched on each finger. The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

THE INTERNATIONAL COURT.

From the New York World.

IT is possible to favor the League and the court and the outlawry of war as Lord Robert Cecil does. It is possible to favor the court and the outlawry of war as Mr. Root does. But if it becomes necessary to choose between the outlawry of war on the one hand and the court on the other, we should not hesitate for one moment. The outlawry of war without at least a court is an empty pious generality. With some international machinery to give it practical effect, a declaration against war may prove to be valuable. In any event, there is no reason why Senator Borah and Mr. Dewey should force the issue so that people have to choose between the outlawry of war and the establishment of a world court. The position that they are taking forces this choice. For while we have considerable faith in humanity, we have not enough faith to believe that if we destroy this League we shall soon get another League, or if we destroy this court we shall soon get another court. Either we shall join this league or no league at all, this court or no court whatsoever. For if this court is defeated it will be entirely because it is called the League Court and the word "League" frightens certain people. By the time this fright about the "League" has been transferred by the industrious efforts of Mr. Borah to the word "court," all courts, Mr. Borah's and John Dewey's included, will look alike. It will be easier to split a hair than to persuade Mr. Munsey that Mr. Borah's court is profoundly different from Mr. Root's.

As for persuading 50 other nations to scrap what they laboriously achieved, in order to try something a little different, on the chance that the United States Senate will ratify it, seems to us sheer trifling with the hopes of men. We are a powerful people. But we are not powerful enough to lead the world into a league and out of a league, into a court, out of a court, and back into another court. Some time or other, if there is to be international co-operation, we have to begin to co-operate not merely on our terms accepted at 100 per cent, but on such terms as other nations will accept also. They have agreed to this court. It is a court which corresponds closely to the demands of American statesmen for a generation. If we turn our backs on them now we shall behave like a spoiled child whom nobody can ever satisfy. Nor will it repair the damage if we dress up the child who won't co-operate in a liberal costume. If we refuse to do any simple and concrete thing, to take any specific step on what other nations at least think is the road to peace, it will make no difference whether we acted as we did because we were too full of egotism or too full of noble ideals.

THE NEGRO EXODUS.

From the Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE exodus of negro farm laborers from the South to the cities of the North and West was described as "alarming" by a speaker at a civic conference in Louisville. To the South it offers an economic problem of health and happiness. Perhaps the term "alarming" just now is too strong a word; but there is no denying the fact that in both cases there are serious aspects. Reports from those Southern States most affected by this negro exodus have so far been reassuring. It has meant that the land owner has had to become more active. It has meant that the white laborer has had to be called upon. It has meant that less energy be lost in the working of the plantation. But there can be no doubt that the negro, if he leaves the South in increasing numbers, will be greatly missed and it will be difficult to fill his place.

The Conning Tower

NEW YORK.—The diary of our own Samuel Pepys.

Saturday, May 12.—Lay very late, it being a dark and misty morning, and to meet S. Webb and Gertrude at luncheon, and thence with them to see the Milk Fund fights, and I noted the softness of most of those who came to see the fights, and it came to me that the virility of those that go to see any sport varies inversely with the virility of the participants; or, rather, the supposed virility. For the softest men, I think, are those that watch prize fights; nor is the hardness of these that watch the baseball games anything extraordinary. But those that watch lawn tennis or golf matches are generally those that play the games themselves, their interest being less vicarious than those that look at the professional sports that savor of business and are more concerned with the winning than the playing. Nor do I enjoy greatly the fights there being too long a time between thrills, albeit there were two or three thrills during the afternoon, and I liked Mr. Firpo greatly and think he will defeat Mr. Willard in July.

So by train to Philadelphia, and saw there a performance of "The Pirates of Penzance," done by the Philadelphia Savoy Company, all non-professionals, and they did excellent well, too, and I should like to hear "Dry the Glistening Tear" and "Ah, Leave Me Not to Pine" every night for a week. But I do not like one of Gilbert's favorite gibes, which is that of making fun of the ravages of age in women, which he does too maliciously to please me.

Sunday, May 13: Early up, and so home and found my wife at breakfast, and I had some with her and we solved the cross-word puzzle, with great ease and celerity, and so I to the office to read my letters and write a few and thence home and to the station to meet my sister Amy coming from Chicago, who tells me many things of how matters stand at home, and of my old friends, whom I should like to see, but I fear many of them would seem like old gentlemen to me. So with Amy to the playhouse to see Will Tilden do Clarence again and he and all the company better than when I saw them in Concord, and I saw there Vin Richards and Frank Hunter, the tennis players, and they thought Will very good, and John Drew the play actor clapped his hands many times in approval. So home and to bed, and read W. B. Maxwell's "The Day's Journey," which I enjoyed greatly, but I think he hath never approached the sustained excellence of "Mrs. Thompson" and "In Cotton Wool."

Monday, May 14: Early up and to the office, where till past three in the afternoon, and thence to the courts and played three setts with J. Rasmussen and won all of them, which I enjoyed beyond measure, but do not print that, quoth he, till that I beat you. Lord, quoth I, why this aversion to ever seeing your name in print? So home to dinner, and J. Wise and Josephine there, and after dinner my wife and I trounced them at casino, my wife playing the best ever I knew her to.

Tuesday, May 15: At my desk very betimes and deeply engrossed in my scrivening, wishful to write better than I have been doing of late, yet it was the best I was able to do. But I fashioned some verses I deemed well made, which buoyed my heart up a vast deal. So home to dinner and thence to play at pool with A. Hill and I barely beat him, what with the great skill and accuracy he employed. So home and to bed but slept ill, what with seeing pool balls roll across my vision for two hours.

Wednesday, May 16.—To the office in my petrol-waggon, and there all day at my stint, and heartened to hear that M. Glass, who hath been very ill, is better this day. Came today, from Mr. W. Aussler, a great box, and I opened it and found therein more than a dozen harmonickas, of various sizes and keys and tones, the finest collection I ever saw, and I happier over it than any gift ever I had. So with Amy to Miss Edna Ferber's for dinner, and Mistress Anna O'Higgins played some accompaniments for me while I played a tune or two on my new harmonickas, and had a fine time doing it. But Mrs. Cosmo Hamilton came in, in the prettiest green dress ever I saw and aspersed my playing, which hurt my feelings to such an extent that I would play no more, albeit the others importuned me to. But I do not think it is as bad as she says.

Thursday, May 17.—Called up early by O. Carrett, to play some lawn tennis, so we to the courts and he lost, owing to making too many errors in sending the ball outside the boundaries. So to the office, but did not get there till midafternoon, which I do not like, forasmuch as I hurry, nor do I have time for the quiet contemplation of things that I need to make comick comment upon them. So to an inn, and had my sister Amy to dinner, and saw R. Beach there and he tells me a tayle George Ade told him of a negro that had been hoodwinked at a street-fair gambling outfit, and who said to the grifter, I shall get even with you. How, asked the gambler. You are coming here next year? asked the negro. Yes, was the reply. Well, said the negro, when I see a white man coming up to gamble with you, I shall stand nearby and say Oo! Oo! So to see "Dew Drop Inn," which I could see no good in save the dancing of James Barton, but that very adroit and comickall indeed. So home, but something [illegible] into my right eye, nor could I extricate it. It pained me not as long as my eye was open, but I could not close it at all, and I did not close it all night a[illegible]t no sleep soever.

Friday, May 18.—Early up, my head feeling light, and so to P. Tridenberg the vision doctor, and he took a little cinder from my eye which surprised me for as much as I thought there must be at least a harvesting machine in it. So to the train to meet Mistress Mary Caroline Glass, and she in fine spirits that Mont is growing well. So to the office, and there till night, what with great weariness and no wish to work at all.

It Seems to Me

New York.

Bad habits are generally evil things and, for that matter, so are most good habits. Arnold Bennett seeks to put habits in their proper place in "How to Make the Best of Life." (Doran.)

"Beware of absolutely fixed habits," he writes. "They are nearly always the sign that the sense of proportion has gone or is going, and that one part of the mental organism is flourishing at the expense of another. Fixed habits become ruthless; in the end they will demand terrific sacrifice from their rivals in the organism.

"You may read in the paper such an item as the following: 'Mr. Joshua Crath died yesterday at the age of 88. He was to the end a prominent member of the choir of Winchester Cathedral, and it was his boast that he had not missed a single service in 76 years.'

"The record is appalling. Not to miss services is laudable on the part of a chorister, but not to miss a service for 76 years is a crime against the humanity in oneself. It is plain that after Mr. Joshua Crath had done, say, 25 years without a break, his life must have been reduced to one sole object—not to miss services in Winchester Cathedral. The habit of not missing services in Winchester Cathedral must have come to occupy the throne of an autocrat in his organism. The conscience of Mr. Crath's organism was that habit, and it had no other conscience. Every family and social consideration was judged by one standard: Will attendance at the services in Winchester Cathedral be interfered with? If so, away with it!"

The most famous habit to be brought to public attention lately, is Mr. Everett Scott's custom of playing short stop, a habit which he has kept up more than 1000 consecutive times. But in the promulgation of the achievement a certain injustice has been done to Mr. Scott. The emphasis has been placed on the fact that he has played shortstop 1000 times without a break. This overshadows the information that he has played the position exceedingly well and has led his league innumerable times in fielding.

That, after all, is the important point about Bennett's mythical Joshua Crath. If he sang well it may have been important that he missed not a single service in 76 years, but, if the contrary were the case, the long distance record may well have been an affliction rather than a blessing.

Speaking of injustices, we have received a letter of protest from Sidney Blackmer, who plays Captain Absolute in the Equity production of "The Rivals." In reviewing the performances we expressed the opinion that he did not play well on the first night.

"With that feeling of having listened to a dissertation on roast pig and being the pig, I beg leave to squeal a little," writes Mr. Blackmer. "Last evening I got up from an annoying attack of 'La Belle Grippe' and laryngitis, and with fevered brow and aching throat opened in 'The Rivals.' Feeling the dramatic side of it keenly, as actors do, you know, not caring whether the fever went up as the play went on—or whether the morrow would bring a relapse, as it surely did—I did my darndest. I couldn't hear much—but I did hear the ladies talking down front—and that didn't help you or me very much in enjoying the evening.——

"But now, in defense of 'odorous comparisons': I stood my ground, as Absolute is a 'feeder' and 'feeders' always stand their ground—I missed no cues, but found myself painfully deprived of important speeches, because other cues were missed. And Arthur Hopkins never directed me in anything except the way back out of his office. Yours right out, Sidney Blackmer, Fahrenheit 104."

The fact that acting becomes a compulsory habit to which the player must yield on the scheduled evening, whether ill or well, undoubtedly works some hardships. And columnists are up against the same handicap. For instance, we don't feel at all well today.

However, Arnold Bennett is in excellent health and he writes concerning education in the same book from which we have already quoted:

"We shall learn from geography the importance of environment, and from history the annoying but useful truth that all acts have consequences, and that those consequences cannot be escaped. Also, that society is forever moving on, evolving out of something into something else; that there is nothing final or absolute; no goal, but a succession of goals; that everything is always in a state of flux or change, and that this is the very essence and meaning of life!"

MISS DOROTHY KREBS.

Miss Dorothy Krebs, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. J. V. Krebs of 3212 Sullivan avenue, recently announced her engagement to Henry C. Turner of Madison, Wis. The prospective bride is a graduate of Mary Institute and attended Washington University for two years. She will complete her course at the University of Missouri in June.

The second St. Louis girl to announce plans for an out-of-town summer wedding is Miss Virginia Deacon, daughter of Mrs. Arthur R. Deacon of 24 Algonquin Lane, Webster Groves, who will become the bride of Thomas Temple Pond of Boston, Sept. 5. The ceremony will be performed in the home of her sister, Mrs. Thomas Martin, and Mr. Martin, at Lawrence, L. I. Mr. Pond and his bride will make their home in Boston.

Mrs. Martin, who was Miss Queenie Deacon before her marriage, will be her sister's matron of honor and only attendant.

Mrs. Deacon and Miss Deacon will leave St. Louis about June 14 for Plymouth, Mass., where they will spend the intervening time at the Pilgrim Hotel.

Yesterday Miss Marjorie Macdonald announced that her marriage to Neil O'Day will take place at noon, Aug. 2, in the summer home of Mrs. Ashley D. Scott in Wequetonsing, Mich.

Mrs. Lewis Warrenton Baldwin of Hotel Chase has returned from Louisville, Ky., where she has been the guest of Mrs. Henry Furlong Baldwin and Miss Meta Baldwin. She will be the guest of honor at a tea to be given tomorrow afternoon by Mrs. Benjamin F. Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Max H. von Pagenhardt, who returned last winter from Germany where they had visited Mr. von Pagenhardt's family, will remain in St. Louis for the next few months and are at the Buckingham Hotel. Mrs. von Pagenhardt was formerly Miss Marie Adams of St. Louis.

Invitations have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ringwood Hewitt of New York for the wedding reception of their daughter, Miss Lucy Hewitt and Guido Pantaleoni Jr., of St. Louis, which will take place Sunday afternoon, June 17, at Wawappo Farm, Midvale, N. J. The ceremony, which will be performed at St. Elizabeth's chapel, Eagle Valley, will be attended only by members of the immediate families of bride and groom.

A musical tea, with a program given by the Max Steindel trio, comprising Mr. Steindel, cellist; Mrs. Esmerelda Berry Mayes, violinist, and Mrs. Carl Luytles at the piano, will mark the last Current Topic meeting at the St. Louis Woman's Club this afternoon. The guests will be seated at small tables in the ball room for the program, and refreshments will be served to them there. Those entertaining this afternoon are Mmes. Alexander N. De Menil, C. W. Nelson, Winthrop G. Chappell, T. Ewing White, Guy H. Wright, Thomas G. Ratcliffe, Thomas Crews, Frank Sullivan, John O. Ockerson, Louis Lumaghi, Royall H. Switzler, Joseph S. Calfee, Harry S. Wheeler, Daniel Nugent, Hector Prudhomme, Oscar Niedringhaus, John Calvin Roberts, Otta Kelley, A. W. Lawnin, Charles D. Ashcroft, Kavanaugh, Bosse, and Misses Grace M. Bell, Mary Tansey and Lizzie L. Reed.

Mrs. Wright's guests will be Mmes. L. L. Leonard, Myron Sturdevant, Frank Kavanaugh, John Kelly, John D. Ferguson and Emily Brown.

Mrs. James R. Claiborne of 18 North Taylor avenue, and her small daughter, Martha Ann Claiborne, will depart June 2 for Long Beach, Cal., where they will be joined in August by Mr. Claiborne. They will return to St. Louis in September. Mrs. Claiborne's brother, Milton Minnis is in the diplomatic service of the United States, stationed near Pekin, China.

Mrs. D. B. Hussey of 5811 Cabanne avenue will be hostess at a bridge luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the Sunset Hill Country Club. Mr. and Mrs. Hussey's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hussey, and their children departed Monday night for the South. They will spend some time in Galveston before going to their new home in Houston.

Mrs. Frank Tate of 4515 Pershing avenue expects her aunt, Mrs. Davenport Galbraith, to visit her next week for a few days, and Mrs. Tate's daughter, Mrs. Isabel Cabanne Tupper, will accompany Mrs. Galbraith to her country home on Lake Erie for the summer. Mr. and Mrs. Tate and Mrs. Tupper's children will leave St. Louis early in July for Eaton's Ranch, Col., for the summer months.

Mrs. Jerome Karst of 6904 Washington boulevard and her daughter, Miss Nina Karst, will sail on the S. S. Paris May 31 for a six months' tour of Europe.

The annual strawberry festival and reception of the Home of the Friendless, 431 South Broadway, will be held tomorrow afternoon from 2:30 to 6 p. m., and the public is invited to visit the home, which is one of the oldest institutions in St. Louis, and cares for almost 100 old women. Among those assisting tomorrow will be Mmes. John Tilden Davis, John Lawrence Mauran, Henry Elliot Jr., Henry Clarkson Scott, Max Kotany, John H. McCluney, Albert T. Terry, George Warren Brown, Daniel Catlin, Frances Cockrell, Isaac Cook Jr., S. C. Davis, L. S. Day, John Fowler, H. M. French, F. V. Hammar J. B. Kennard, H. F. Knight, J. E. Lawton, E. E. Overstreet, H. H. Tittman; Misses Mary Lionberger, Mildred McCluney and Louise Simpkins.

BOYS AND GIRLS MAY AID ICE FUND BENEFIT

They Are Urged to Sell Tickets for "Nanook of North," Filmed Among Eskimos.

Boys and girls who wish to help the Post-Dispatch Free Ice for Babies' Milk Fund yet lack the time or space to present a benefit show or to manage a refreshment stand, are urged to assist in the ticket sale for "Nanook of the North" which will open a three weeks' run at the Pershing Theater next Saturday evening.

Books of 20 tickets each to be disposed of at 50 cents, can be procured from the manager of the Post-Dispatch Ice Fund at the Post-Dispatch building, if application is made in person or in writing, giving name and address. When tickets have been disposed of the money may be turned in at the same place, and the usual credit for work in behalf of the babies will be given in the columns of the Post-Dispatch.

"Nanook of the North" is being sponsored by the St. Louis Motion Picture Council and a fixed percentage of the money for each ticket sold for "Nanook" during the three weeks' engagement at the Pershing will go to the fund for the babies.

It would not be a difficult matter for every boy and girl who is interested in the ice fund to dispose of a book or two of tickets among their friends and neighbors. Unsold tickets can be returned. Who will be the first to volunteer their help?

Adults Interested in Benefit.

Adult interest in "Nanook of the North" is daily increasing. Mrs. Ira L. Bretzfelder, president of the St. Louis Motion Picture Council, reports that several organizations have already signified their intention of choosing an evening during the showing of the film to attend in a large delegation. Saturday night, May 26, the Catholic Women's League will do this, and next Monday night a delegation from the Young Women's Christian Association will be in the audience. On Tuesday evening the College Club and Department of Public Welfare will attend. Wednesday night of next week has been chosen as "special night" by members of the Parent-Teachers Association and on Thursday evening members of the League of Women Voters and the Papa Club will attend Saturday, June 2, is "special night" for the Woman's Chamber of Commerce and the Big Sister organization.

Filmed Among Eskimos.

The picture is an unusual production, quite different from the usual run of photoplay entertainment, but lacking nothing in the way of drama or comedy incident to the lives of the people of the North. Robert J. Flaherty, the producer, was leader of five Sir William Mackenzie expeditions into the North Hudson Bay regions, and "Nanook" is said to contain all the fidelity of detail, honest realism and startling thrills characteristic of the achievements of Flaherty.

The picture was filmed among the Eskimos and in addition to being interesting through its thrills and exciting moments, should be doubly entertaining because it is an actual photoplay of the frigid zone.

E. C. ROBBINS DIES OF BICYCLE INJURY

Commander of Confederate Veterans' Camp Suffered Hip Fracture When Struck.

The funeral of Edward C. Robbins, 82 years old, commander of the St. Louis Camp of the Confederate Veterans, who died at Masonic Hospital yesterday as a result of a fracture of the hip suffered when struck by a bicycle New Year's eve, will be held at Westminster Presbyterian Church at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow, with burial in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Robbins, who lived with his son, Leroy K. Robbins, who was first Colonel of the 138th (St. Louis) Infantry, at 364 Gray avenue, Webster Groves, was crossing Gore avenue at Lockwood avenue, Webster Groves, at 5 p. m. New Year's eve, when a bicycle ridden by a boy struck his leg and knocked away his cane.

Robbins was born in St. Louis and would have graduated from Amherst College in 1861, but left that spring to join the Confederate army as a Lieutenant. After the Civil War he became president of the St. Louis Well Machine and Tool Co., from which he retired a few years ago. In 1911, at a class reunion at Amherst, he was given his diploma of graduation. He was first president of the Latin-American Club, formed to foster trade, a score of years ago. His wife died about 12 years ago.

France to Have Daylight Saving.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, May 24.—France has adopted daylight saving time. The Senate yesterday voted by 180 to 109 to advance the clocks an hour. The Chamber of Deputies already had adopted the measure. The change will be effective Saturday night. Premier Poincare found the Senate hostile but threatened to make it a question of confidence, upon which the Senators got into line.

WOULD PROVIDE $50,000 FOR STATE PARK IN MOUNDS AREA

Senator Essington of Streator Introduces Bill for Purchase of 100 Acres.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 24.—Prehistoric mounds on the Illinois side of the Mississippi River, opposite St. Louis, one of which is said to be the largest monument ever made by man, not excepting the pyramids of Egypt, should be taken over by the State and maintained as a park, in the view of Senator Essington, Republican, of Streator, who today introduced a bill for the purpose.

Essington was chairman of the Senate subcommittee on appropriation which, with a House subcommittee, visited the mounds district near East St. Louis. His bill appropriates $50,000 to purchase 100 acres of the territory, in which will be included the "Monks Mound," with the provisions that if residents of Madison and St. Clair counties think that sum is not sufifcient they may add to it the amount they deem necessary.

A bill by Representative Fekete, Republican, of East St. Louis, has been pending in the House since Jan. 16, but as it appropriates $250,000 which has been considered excessive by the Appropriations Committee, it has not been recommended.

The Senate subcommittee reported that four propositions made by the Ramey family, owners of the mounds land, were not acceptable. The price for 100 acres was set at $125,000. It was the opinion of the subcommittee that this price was excessive, but Essington is in favor of the State going part way and letting the communities which would be benefited by establishment of a State park on the mounds territory do the rest.

WOMAN, 85, ONE OF EIGHT INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Mrs. Rose Ostendorf, Struck by Car, Said to Have Become Confused in Crossing Street.

Mrs. Rose Ostendorf, 85 years old, of 4652 Delmar avenue, suffered internal injuries at 7:30 p. m. yesterday when struck by an automobile driven by George Battle of 13 Washington terrace, at Washington avenue and King's highway. She was taken to Barnes Hospital. Witnesses said she became confused in crossing the street, and ran into the path of Battle's machine.

Mrs. Mildred Sims, 28, of 1124 Grattan street, suffered severed tendons in the right arm and her son, Paul, 10 years old, a possible fracture of the skull at 11:45 p. m., when the automobile driven by her husband, Charles, was struck by another machine in front of 1012 Chouteau avenue.

Police say William Holden of 4114 St. Louis avenue, driver of the other car, swerved to the north side of the street and was responsible for the accident. He is held.

Fred Stolz, 23, of 5202A Gilmore street, was severely cut and bruised at noon yesterday when he lost control of his truck and crashed into a store at 2632 St. Louis avenue.

John Lucky, 32, of 3723½ Chouteau avenue, and George Huebner, 22, of Fults, Ill., drivers of automobiles which collided at Gravois and Blow avenues at 1:50 p. m., suffered lacerations and bruises.

Cleates Carter, 10, of 2235 Montgomery street, suffered a fractured skull at 7:15 p. m. when struck by an automobile in the alley at the rear of his home.

Charles Weaver of 1402 North King's highway, was slightly hurt when an automobile ran into his machine at Eighth and Olive streets at 1:15 a. m.

WANTS $50,000 FOR INJURIES

Former Cook in Julius S. Walsh Home Hurt on Stairs, She Says.

Suit for $50,000 damages for injuries was filed today against the estate, heirs and executors of the late Julius S. Walsh, Mrs. William Maffitt, his daughter, and her husband, by Mrs. Caroline Miller of 1228 South Seventh street, who formerly was a cook in the Walsh residence, 4510 Lindell boulevard.

Mrs. Miller alleges she suffered injuries of the spinal column and other hurts, and has temporary losses of memory, from falling backwards down the basement stairs of the Walsh home on March 16. She was carrying a basket of vegetables upstairs at the direction of Mrs. Maffitt, she declares, and the stairs were slippery from steam from laundry work going on. She struck her head on the basement floor, she alleges.

PARIS CHEERS CHAUVE SOURIS

(Copyright, 1923.)

PARIS, May 24.—Balieff's reappearance with the Chauve Souris last night before a Paris audience, after more than a year's absence in America, was almost like a family party. Cracking jokes with the audience in Russian, French and English, which he proudly announced he had learned in New York, he presented what was virtually the same program Americans witnessed a month or so ago. It was received with enthusiasm. Every number was wildly cheered, especially the Katinka dance and the parade of the wooden soldiers.

Morris Gest, under whose management the show is being produced, will join Balieff next month and the whole troupe, with several additions, will return to America in the fall.

Animal Owned by J. N. McKelvey Under Observation for Rabies.

Mrs. Clara Hollos, 4113 Washington boulevard, was bitten about the hands and feet yesterday at 5 p. m. by a Boston bulldog belonging to James N. McKelvey, Director of Public Safety, in an alley in the rear of the McKelvey home at 4113 Washington boulevard. By order of the Board of Health the dog will be held for ten days for an examination for rabies.

Mrs. Hollos told police the dog attacked her without warning. A member of the McKelvey family, who was with the dog, declared that Mrs. Hollos threw two milk bottles at the dog before the attack. The dog was licensed but not muzzled.

PART THREE. ST. LOUIS, THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 24, 1923. PAGES 23—40

MRS. MARY WARREN WEDS ARMY OFFICER

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 24.—Out of the tragedy of a broken home, an aftermath of the world war, has emerged a new romance in the life of Mrs. Mary Van Trump Warren of Kansas City. Friends of Mrs. Warren have received formal announcement of her secret marriage, March 18, to Lieut. Thomas E. Whitehead ,a young army officer.

According to the announcement, Lieut. and Mrs. Whitehead will be at home June 1 at Fort Meyer, Va. It is understood the marriage was kept a secret until after Lieut. Whitehead was transferred from recruiting service in Kansas City to Fort Meyer.

At the hotel where Mrs. Whitehead lived before her marriage in March, it was said she left Kansas City three days ago for Washington, D. C. The marriage took place in Kansas City, Lieut. Whitehead leaving immediately for Fort Meyer and his bride remaining here.

The couple now are stopping at the Hotel Roosevelt in Washington. A message from Washington last night stated that Lieut. Whitehead refused to discuss the marriage.

The love affair between Mrs. Warren and the cavalry officer culminated shortly after she returned from New York with Nancy Jordan, the English girl, whose affair with Maj. Frank Warren in England in the war period is believed to have caused Mrs. Warren to obtain a divorce. The English girl and her young son, Francis, were lodged in Mrs. Warrens' apartment in Kansas City, where it was believed they were to remain indefinitely.

Mrs. Warren is understood to have become worn by her new responsibility and the tension caused by the widespread publicity concerning her former husband and the English girl.

Nancy Jordan and her son remained with Mrs. Warren several weeks. Then a room outside was found for them. Nancy now is employed in Kansas City under another name, it is said.

Maj. Warren has not married. He still is in Kansas City practicing law. The March army list gives Thomas E. Whitehead as Second Lieutenant of the Second Cavalry, Fort Riley, Kan.

THE railroads are raising more than one billion dollars of additional capital to be spent for supplies and equipment during 1923. They are going ahead with faith in the fairness of their owners—the American people. And it is more than a coincidence that times of prosperity come when the railroads are able to spend money to better their service.

¶ The Transportation Act of 1920 is working. Let's let it alone.

Six Safe Deposit Vaults Mean Better Service

IN OUR Safe Deposit Department there are five vaults serving the public and one serving our Trust and Corporation Departments.

¶ This means better Safe Deposit service for you. If our more than 15,000 rented boxes were in one big vault, you would come in contact with a number of other renters when you visited your box. As it is, you see and are seen by one-fifth as many people, congestion is relieved, attendants can give a more personal service, and greater privacy is possible.

Boxes rent for $5 a year upward.

BLACKHEADS SHOW YOU ARE CARELESS

Tremendous Use of the Famous Black and White Beauty Creations Is Proving This More and More Every Day.

Not so long ago a renowned authority on the care of the complexion said: "Show me a person who has ugly blackheads in their face and neck, and I will show you one who is either not giving their skin any attention and care at all, or is careless in not using the one sure and easiest way to keep these complexion ruiners away."

How true this is. Women and girls especially will try to hide blackheads instead of getting rid of them, and it is really so easy to do it there is no excuse for anyone being humiliated by going along the street showing that they do not give their skin the proper care.

Just take a few seconds every night and first clean the face with Black and White Cleansing Cream; then, after wiping this off with a towel, apply a film of cold cream to be absorbed by the skin to supply the oils which the wind and weather have beaten out during the day's exposure.

This makes your skin live, active, and blackheads literally wash out after you do this one or two nights, because they are softened and forced out by the fine ingredients used in making the Black and White Beauty Creations. You will be so delighted with the way these Creations make and keep your skin clear, rosy and charming that you won't let a night go by without giving your face these few seconds of attention.

City News in Brief

POLICEMEN FOUND THREE STILLS and 18 barrels of mash on the third floor of 3015 Dickson street yesterday. William Falk, residing on the first floor, who said he was the owner of the building, told the officers he had rented the third floor to a man named Harry, who said he wanted to use it as a tailor shop.

PICKPOCKETS ON STREET CARS IN the vicinity of Union Station obtained $186.50 today. Thomas Tyler of Chicago reported he was robbed of $150 on a Compton car at Eighteenth and Market streets, and Mrs. Anna Edwards of 2237 Chouteau avenue reported the theft of $14.50 from her coat pocket on a Manchester car at Twentieth and Market streets.

TWO MEN WITH REVOLVERS HELD up Charles Waters, proprietor of a saloon at Prospect Hill at 8 o'clock last night, forcing Waters and James Weber, who lives upstairs, and two customers into the icebox. They took $130 from Weber, $25 and a watch from Waters and small amounts of change from the other two.

BURGLARS IN THE HOME OF RUdolph Schuett, 6168 Kingsbury avenue, stole jewelry valued at $450 in the absence of the family last night.

W. J. Vance, Banker, Valley Park, Missouri, says, "Two days before using Sorbol-Quadruple I had a bad hemorrhage in my throat, caused by tightening which produced severe coughing. Twenty-four hours from first application of Sorbol-Quadruple I felt relief, and in forty-eight hours noticed it was reducing. In three weeks one side has vanished and relief is beyond expression. You make use of this and I will gladly answer all questions."

BARRETT SAYS EDITORS ARE PUBLIC OFFICERS

"Breach of Trust Is Treason," Attorney-General Declares, in Speech at Columbia.

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 24.—Newspaper writers and editors are public officials have public powers, and also have corresponding obligations and responsibilties, Attorney-General Jesse W. Barrett declared yesterday in a speech before students of the Journalism School of the University of Missouri, and the editors assembled here for journalism week.

"Accurate, fair-minded journalism is indispensable to intelligent and effective self-government," the Attorney-General said, and declared that the newspapers are "working for right against might, for intelligence in place of force, for light in lieu of darkness, and for order instead of chaos." Barrett spoke in part as follows:

"I look on you as public officers. Newspaper editors are nothing else. You have public powers and you also have corresponding obligations and responsibilities.

"Breach of Trust Is Treason."

"You are the chief medium of communication between the people and their official representatives. The people themselves do not come to the seat of government, and do not witness the work that their agents do in public office. They must know whether they are being served or despoiled, but they cannot know except through your reports. Accurate, fair-minded journalism is therefore indispensable to intelligent and effective self-government. You hold in sacred trust for the body politic its functions of sight and speech, and a breach of that trust is treason.

"Once we regarded railroads as private corporations. Then public opinion awoke to the fact that railroads are altogether of a public nature; that they are arteries through which flows the nation's commerce, and that they must be conducted for the benefit of all citizens alike.

"So, too, we used to believe that newspapers were private possessions and that the editor could use his news columns just as he desired. A few years ago in fact, every newspaper was devoted to battling for some particular cause and its readers who were supporters of that cause seemed to want the news distorted to suit their prejudices. Now public opinion is realizing that an editor holds a public trust, and that the newspapers are the intelligence—the very lifeblood of the nation itself. The public conscience of today fully understands and demands that the news columns must be accurate in all things, and fair to all alike. The papers that pander to political or other prejudices by false statements are dying fast and they ought to die. Newspapers, like railroads, are common carriers. There must be no rebates, no discriminations, no partiality. Coloring the news articles to keep them from contradicting the editorials is a criminal act, whether the statutes say so or not.

"A Few Faults."

"Frankly, there are a few faults. There is a type of editorial page which believes that the people are interested only in destructive comment and never in construction. Its editorials always condemn. The editorial writer in charge of the page believes that the public are altogether cynics and dyspeptics. Its nearest approach to commendation for some really good act is to say how wrong its commission would have been. The editorial writer who really helps is the one who knows that credit properly bestowed pays to the public a thousandfold return. If words of encouragement and commendation are not the only reason for public service, they are at least the only reward. It is even better to be praised with faint damns than to be damned with faint praise.

"The worst editorial writer of all (and, thank goodness, examples are rare) is the one who, finding that the curtain has risen on a group of persons busily sawing wood and accomplishing something worth while, comes striding onto the stage cracking a cattle-whip, trying to create the illusion that he is directing the work and is responsible for its being done.

"I do not believe, as is oftentimes said, that editorials are losing their power. I feel that some editorial columns only have lost their influence, and that the people are becoming more able to distinguish between sincerity and sham. Character means power, in journalism just as everywhere else, and so it will always be as long as civilization endures."

Johnson's Floor Varnish

You know Johnson's Floor Wax—it's used by housewives everywhere. We want you to know Johnson's Floor Varnish, too. Our Varnish is just as good as our Wax. Johnson's Floor Varnish is very easy to apply and has good body. It dries dust-free in two hours and hard over night. Gives a beautiful high gloss which will not chip, check, mar, blister or scratch white. Has great elasticity—is pale in color—and absolutely water-proof. Johnson's Floor Varnish will stand all reasonable tests. Fine for tables, chairs, furniture, woodwork, trim, oil-cloth and linoleum. May be rubbed if desired.

Johnson's Sani-Spar Varnish Stain

Use Johnson's Sani-Spar Varnish Stain for refinishing in color where you do not care to go to the trouble or expense of removing the old finish. Apply it right over the old varnish—it gives wonderful results on furniture, floors, woodwork and all interior and exterior surfaces. Saves time, money, labor and material. Johnson's Sani-Spar Varnish Stain gives wonderful satisfaction on exterior work—it will not turn white. One coat of Johnson's Sani-Spar Varnish Stain gives you your color and a beautiful, glossy, durable finish. It dries hard overnight.

SIDENER SEES EFFORT TO DELAY BANK TRIAL

Attorneys for Meinenger Notify Him of Plan to Take 18 Depositions.

Circuit Attorney Sidener today characterized the plan of attorneys neys for Arthur O. Meininger, whose trial under indictments in connection with the looting and failure of the Night and Day Bank, is set for Monday, to take depositions of 18 defense witnesses Saturday, as a move to delay the trial once more.

Meininger, who was cashier of the bank, which was closed nearly 17 months ago, has had two continuances and the benefit of a further delay of two months by order of the Circuit Court at Union, Mo., where he is to be tried under a change of venue.

Sidener anticipates that the defense will be unable to take 18 depositions in one day and will seek a resetting of the case Monday on the plea that this work is not finished. He refused to accept service of notice of the taking of depositions, but said the law would not prevent taking them. Assistant Circuit Attorney Garstang will be present when they are taken, in the office of attorneys for Meininger in the Title Guaranty Building.

TEAMS OF HIGH SCHOOL GIRLS TO MEET IN DEBATE

First Three of Series to Be at 4 P. M. Tomorrow at Cleveland, McKinley and Yeatman.

The first three of a series of debates between teams of girls representing the public high schools will take place tomorrow at 4 p. m. The subject of all three will be: "Resolved, That Regulation of European Immigration on the Present Percentage Basis Is Harmful to the United States."

Each high school will be represented by two teams, one affirmative and one negative. The Cleveland negative team will oppose the McKinley affirmative team at the McKinley high school auditirium; at the Cleveland high school auditorium the Cleveland affirmative team will contest with the Yeatman negative team; and at the Yeatman high school auditorium a Yeatman team will uphold the affirmative side against the McKinley negative team.

While the debates will be held to determine whether or not there exists among the high school girls enough interest to hold public debates annually, and are merely tryouts, it is believed that before long some local college organization will donate a cup as a prize for the best team, thus putting the forensic work among the girls on a par with that of the boys.

AMERICAN-JAPANESE MARINE ENTERPRISE SAID TO BE PLANNED

British Steamship Company Possible Participation in Project, Paper Says.

(Copyright, 1923.)

LONDON, May 24.—The name of a well-known British steamship company is mentioned in shipping circles a probable participator in an American-Japanese mercantile marine enterprise, the shipping correspondent of the Manchester Guardian said today. He adds:

"I understand economy in working expenses is the primary object of the arrangement. Japan is replete with high-class shipping and for a considerable time has pursued an unusually progressive policy.

"The tribulation through which United States shipping has been passing and the need of a profitable outlet for some of its superfluous tonnage has been a big factor in the arrangement. It is thought likely to be a precursor to other working arrangements between the two countries."

OPPORTUNITY

For High-Class Sales Executive or Organization

The Williamson Heater Company of Cincinnati, an old reliable and nationally known manufacturer of heating apparatus is marketing a Gas, Gasoline or Electric Cabinet Clothes Dryer, known as "SNOW WHITE," salable to home owners, builders, architects and dealers. Judged by merchandising experts to hold the greatest national possibilities of recent times.

It dries clothes in ten minutes. Its installation makes the housewife independent of weather conditions. It eliminates the drudgery of carrying clothes outside. It permits washing and ironing to be done the same morning. In smoky communities it is indispensable. Every woman appreciates its advantages. It appeals to the professional builder, as it enhances the salability of his building. It appeals to the apartment owner in eliminating the back-yard problem. To the man erecting or owning a high-grade home it sells itself. The price is less than any other laundry equipment.

Operations are being extended to this territory. Other cities operating successfully. Large publicity campaign now under way and very attractive literature compiled. Unusual factory co-operation. This is a big proposition and must be handled in a big way. Height of season will soon be here. The initial requirements for further procedure are: 1st—Sufficient capital to establish show room. 2nd—A substantiated, successful sales and merchandising experience. 3rd—An unimpeachable personal record. 4th—Vision to realize the potential possibilities. To such a person or concern we can offer a mighty interesting proposition—a definite, proven plan of procedure—a real money-making opportunity.

Tell us fully of your facilities and qualifications along the above lines, and of your ability to put this over in a big way. Address the Dryer Division of The Williamson Heater Company, Cincinnat, Ohio.

SAYS BUSINESS HAS NO CAUSE TO BE ALARMED

Arthur J. Morris, Banker, Asserts Peace Abroad Will Bring Great Prosperity.

There are greater potentialities for harm in the psychology of unfounded fear than in the real conditions of business, Arthur J. Morris, vice president of the International Finance Corporation and founder of the Morris plan of loans, said in an address at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon yesterday.

"I have been asked to say a word about financial conditions," Morris said. "Don't be alarmed by the sudden drop in business in the last few weeks. Generally speaking the country is in a fairly sound condition, so far as I have been able to learn.

"I recently had occasion to confer with several of the heads of the administration at Washington. One man, whose judgment and insight into business conditions I consider second to none, seemed fairly well satisfied with conditions. I do not believe there is anything in the situation to feel at all concerned about.

"Caution? Yes. Conservative buying and more conservative spending? Yes. But just as sure as anything is certain, if the foreign situation is straightened out we are on the verge of an era of great prosperity.

Predicts Settlement Abroad.

"And I cannot help but feel that the foreign situation is going to be straightened out before the end of this year. When it is, the fundamental basic uncertainty will disappear and we will go ahead as we have not done since the war. It is the duty of banks, at this time, to stop inflation before it happens, rather than to employ a major operation afterwards.

"This nation learned the greatest lesson it has been privileged to learn since it came into existence during the World War. It learned that real power rests in unselfish service. We are living in an era of service. There isn't a big business or a small business, or any kind of honest business which can hope for real success if it is not founded upon service.

"Service is more difficult to obtain than cash capital. Cash can always be obtained but we can not always insure real service. And we must remember that capital is jeopardized unless protected by service.

Service Real Contribution.

"When all is said and done, we remember great personalities not by their wealth, not by the fame they acquired but by the service they rendered in helping people to help themselves, the concrete result of which is the contribution towards making the world a better place in which to live."

In reference to the Morris system of industrial banking, Morris said that since its establishment in 1910 more than $400,000,000 have been loaned to more than 2,000,000 persons.

Other speakers were Capt. F. L. Tottenham, naval attache of the British Embassy at Washington; and W. B. Webb of Belfast, Ireland, linen manufacturer and president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Northern Ireland.

GOOD NEWS FOR SKIN SUFFERERS

Makes Beauty While You Sleep.

If you suffer with pimples, blackheads or facial blemishes, eczema or other skin troubles, here is quick relief for you. A new scientific treatment has been found that will clear and heal the skin almost over night. Unlike the old-fashioned salves and ointments this snow-white creamy preparation is a pleasure to use. The public has been exceptionally quick to appreciate the merits of this delightful cream which is being sold under the trade name of Ice Mint and druggists say they are having an enormous demand for it. This is undoubtedly due to the fact that Ice Mint contains a special ingredient that has a powerful soothing and healing effect upon the skin. Its quick action in healing old, stubborn cases has made it most popular as pimples, blackheads, eczema and rash are cured by its use days quicker than with the old-time remedies. Ice Mint is absolutely harmless and always reliable whether used for preserving the complexion or for treatment of the worst skin diseases. It clears, whitens and heals the skin, making it soft, smooth, pinky-white and beautiful. Ice Mint costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

To Help every Woman at Preserving Time

THE Atlas Jelly Glass with the celebrated Duplex Seal helped thousands of women last year. This year it is helping hundreds of thousands.

Their jelly is put up with less effort. No bother with paper and string, rubber rings or tin tops. They simply fill the glass full and give a quarter turn to the Duplex Seal.

When they want to open the glass the seal will come off as easily as it went on. And then go on again—a perfect re-seal. See the Atlas Jelly Glass with the Duplex Seal at your dealer's.

The "Classic" Elgin cased in 14-Karat Green Gold or White Gold, engraved $150.

The Gift Watch for a Wedding Journey—or to tell the Exciting Minutes of Graduation Time

THE average man or woman never owns more than three or four watches in a whole lifetime.

The waste is tremendous.

* * *

To give a good watch to anyone is to bestow a real piece of property.

Land or bonds are no more substantial.

If the watch is right. Not a compromise. Not just a dazzling piece of jewelry. Nor a "bargain" watch either.

Nobody ever owned an Elgin but that they were glad they bought a fine watch at the start—and enjoyed good timekeeping for years after.

The demand for professional Elgin Watches has been way ahead of what Elgin could make for the past two years.

ELGIN

The Professional Timekeeper

ELGIN NATIONAL WATCH COMPANY, ELGIN, U. S. A.

IT takes a year or more to make an Elgin Watch. The procedure is very similar to laboratory work—so far away from factory methods that no terms of commercial manufacture apply.

PIRATES 6, CARDS 2, AFTER FIVE INNINGS: SHERDEL IS ON HILL

By Joseph F. Holland, of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 24.—Jeff Pfeffer, wha was scheduled to be the Cardinals' pitcher in the opening game of the series with the Pirates today, hit Johnny Lavan in the mouth with a ball in his warmup and was so unnerved by the incident that Rickey was forced to switch to Southpaw Sherdel at the last moment.

Lavan was fielding bunts and ran directly into the ball. He was knocked unconscious and his lip was severely cut. He had to be carried to the clubhouse, but regained consciousness shortly thereafter. He is likely to be out of uniform for several days.

Babe Adams, the 41-year-old, who has won five games and lost two this season, was the Pittsburg pitcher.

The attendance was 15,000.

FIRST INNING.

CARDINALS—Smith struck out. Flack rolled to Rawlings. Hornsby sent a long fly to Barnhart. NO RUNS.

SECOND INNING.

CARDINALS—Bottomley rolled to Maranville. Stock flied to Bigbee. Myers drove deep to Carey. NO RUNS.

PITTSBURG — Barnhart sent Flack to the right field fence for a long liner. Traynor popped to Hornsby. Hornsby threw out Grimm. NO RUNS.

THIRD INNING.

CARDINALS—Adams tossed out Freigau. McCurdy singled to left, for the first hit of the game. Rawlings threw out Sherdel. Smith singled to center, McCurdy scoring, and took second on the throw home. Flack singled to center, scoring Smith, and reached second on Carey's throw home. Hornsby struck out. TWO RUNS.

PITTSBURG — Rawlings lined to Freigau. Hornsby threw out Schmidt. Adams was called out on strikes. NO RUNS.

FOURTH INNING.

CARDINALS—Bigbee made a nice catch of Bottomley's fly. Stock fouled to Grimm. Myers singled to center. Freigau flied to Barnhart. NO RUNS.

PITTSBURG — Stock threw out Maranville. Freigau threw out Carey. Bigbee walked. He was first Pirate to get on base. Barnhart got first hit off Sherdel, a songle to center, that sent Bigbee to third. Bigbee scored on the double steal. Traynor singled to second, scoring Barnhart. Grimm singled to left, Traynor stopping at second. McCurdy tried to pick Traynor off second, and when no one covered the bag on his perfect throw, Traynor went to third. Rawlings beat out a hit to Stock, Traynor scoring, but Grimm was run down between second and third. Stock to Hornsby to Freigau to Stock to Myers. THREE RUNS.

FIFTH INNING.

Cy Williams Hits His 17th Homer

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Cy Williams, slugging outfielder of the Philadelphia Nationals, hit his seventeenth home run of the season today in the first inning of the game between the Phillies and New York Giants at the Polo Grounds.

FAVORITES ADVANCE IN SOUTHERN GOLF

FORT WORTH, Tex., May 24.—Memphis, Fort Worth, Atlanta and Galveston cornered the women's golf title as a result of yesterday's play at River Crest. Memphis and Fort Worth each have three players remaining in the top flight, Atlanta one and Galveston one.

Favorites won their way through in all cases, only one thrill coming in the way of a near upset. This was when Mrs. Dooley of Memphis took Mrs. David Gaut of the same city to the seventeenth green before losing to the Western champion. Had Mrs. Dooley negotiated a 3-foot putt she would have carried her opponent to the home green, perhaps into extra holes.

Mrs. Clyde Maddox of Fort Worth furnished the sport thrill when she defeated Miss Dorrance of San Antonio on the nineteenth hole.

Mrs. Lowndes, defending her title, again ended her match on the thirteenth where she eliminated Mrs. Rhodes of Dallas.

Boxing Appears Killed in Chicago

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Boxing matches in Chicago, which for some time have been held under the protection of injunctions procured by the promoters to restrain city officials from enforcing the State anti-boxing law, appear to be doomed in the future as a result of Judge George Fred Rush's refusal to grant an order preventing interference with a show planned by a local club tonight.

Shocker to Face Coveleskie Today In Series Opener

Fohlmen Depart on Long Road Campaign After Four Games With the Indians.

By J. Roy Stockton.

Two teams which recently have been traveling at a .500 gait will meet at Sportsman's Park this afternoon, when the Cleveland Indians open a four-game series against the Browns. Cleveland, after a fine start due chiefly to a wide-awake spirit for which Tris Speaker was responsible, has shown signs of tumbling from the loft position which it occupied during earlier stages of the race.

For a time the Indians fought the Yankees for the lead. Then the pitching collapsed and the wide-awake spirit, without a sound infield, could not keep the team going at its early pace. After taking three straight games from the Senators the Indians lost four straight to the Athletics and one of three to the Boston Red Sox. Today the men of Speaker are tied with the Tigers for third place, having won 17 games and lost 15. Five of the defeats were suffered in the last 10 games.

Just as the loss of an entire series put a dent in the Indians' record, so four straight reverses at the hands of the Yankees spoiled the Browns' otherwise good work at home. The Fohlmen, in fifth place with 13 victories and 17 defeats, have won three of their last four series, breaking even in 12 games.

Split Series in Cleveland.

Thus far the Browns and Indians have met four times, breaking even in the series played at Cleveland. But unprejudiced observers forecast a much higher station for the Browns than for Cleveland, even if the Browns have lost a star first baseman.

When Speaker gave Stuffy McInnis his release he thereby created a job for Guisto, a first baseman of much poundage and no particular skill. When Guisto began to show signs of falling down on the job Speaker decided to alternate Brower and Guisto at first base. Brower wields a wicked bat, poles 'em frequently against right field fences and looks less like an ice wagon driver than does Guisto.

Wamby at second base is a steady worker, but not a shining star. There is no comparison between Wamby and McManus. At short, Gerber is far superior to Joey Sewell, and Gene Robertson's hitting makes him far more valuable than Walter Lutzke, the Indian third sacker. Lutzke has the biggest pair of hands in baseball and is an excellent fielder. As a hitter he looks hopeless.

Two Great Outfielders.

Speaker's outfield is brilliant in two places and mediocre in the third meadow. Jamieson ranks with the best in the league as a hitter and as a fielder. Speaker's work needs no comment. Homer Summa, Texas League product, enjoyed much attention in the spring, but is not yet a major league star, either in the field or at the plate.

An analysis of the team's basic strength does not indicate that it will tarry among the pennant contenders. Fine pitching and a wide-awake spirit have done much for it thus far. But other teams are hitting their mid-season stride and the Indians' pitching will have to be marvelous to make up for other defects in the made-over Cleveland machine.

Urban Shocker probably will pitch for the Browns this afternoon and Stanley Coveleskie, another of the few remaining spitball stars, is expected to be his opponent.

The series with the Indians will close the Browns' stand at home. Tuesday the Browns open a long road campaign, playing in Detroit, Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington, New York, Boston and Cleveland before returning to Sportsman's Park June 28.

Bill Fries Hurls Pikers to Victory

The Pikers mauled four Missouri pitchers yesterday and won their first game from the Tigers, 12 to 2. Darkness ended the game in the eighth inning. The final game of the series, which will close the Pikers' Conference schedule, will be played at Francis Field this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Bill Fries, veteran southpaw, celebrated his last appearance as a Piker pitcher by holding the Tiger sluggers to four scattered hits. Errorless support would have given him a shutout, but as it was, he was never in danger. His mastery of the Tigers is illustrated by what happened in the seventh inning. Quick, first man up, tripled to center. The Tigers' heaviest stickers were up, but Fries retired the next three batters by making them pop up.

While Fries was taming the Tigers the Pikers were pounding the ball all over the lot for a total of 15 solid raps.

Chester Denny, who played shortstop for Missouri, and Bob Denny, who played left field for Washington, are brothers. Bob had slightly the better of the meeting, as he starred in the field and punched out three hits, while the best that Chester could do was a single.

Kabakoff Meets Clever Boxer at Coliseum Tuesday

Tony Caponi's Record Indicates He's Shifty but Lacks a Knockout Punch.

Harry Kabakoff, lightweight boxer will confront the type of a foe that best suits his style at the Coliseum, next Tuesday, when he is scheduled to box Tony Caponi, a son of Spaghetti Land, 24 years old.

A glance at Caponi's record—he has not boxed here previously, shows no trace of the cave-man wallop. His record contains a long string of victories and very few defeats; but knockouts are scarcer than major league pennants in St. Louis.

In fact, the boxing guide declares that only six of Antonio's foes have bitten the rosin.

On the other hand, although Tony has battled against good men often, there are few black marks against him. He has fought men of the highest reputation in his class—featherweights, such as Mike Dundee, Freddie Jacks, Red Cap Wilson, Dick Loadman, George Caney, Danny Fursh, Jack Bernstein and many others.

Made for Kabakoff.

He is rated a hard man to hit, but not very dangerous to a shifty foe, from a knockout viewpoint. This is the type Kabby can handle to perfection as he can turn loose all his great speed and skill. This mastery was shown to perfection against Herman, the clever Californian, who also carries a dangerous punch. Kabby was at his best in this bout although local critics declared that he had been slightly outpointed by Herman.

George Butch Signed.

On the same card with Kabby and Caponi, the management announces there will be two other 10-round affairs. One will be that between the popular and aggressive George Butch, who has been pitted against Frankie Conway of New York, a boy who twice outpointed Johnny McCoy in bouts here.

The other 10-round affair will bring together Johnny Lucas and Jimmy Kerns of East St. Louis, both well known to local fame.

Peewee Kaiser May Lose Out.

Peewee Kaiser's first fight since his operation for tonsilitis is scheduled to take place in Chicago, May 29. Peewee is on the same card with Benny Leonard and Pinkey Mitchell, who battle for the new "junior welterweight" crown, recently voted to Mitchell.

Peewee meets a very shifty little bantamweight in Harold Smith, who gave Patsy Flanagan a real scare and outpointed him, in a bout some weeks ago.

The recent decision of a Chicago Judge in refusing to restrain authorities from interfering with boxing bouts may result in stopping all Chicago shows, however.

Urban Groebl, the recently graduated amateur heavyweight, will probably be seen in his second professional contest at the Coliseum, next Tuesday. No opponent as yet has been found for him, however.

$50,000 Deposited to Be Paid to Dempsey If He Signs to Fight Wills

NEW YORK, May 24.

IF Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, will sign articles to meet Harry Wills, colored challenger, for the Queensboro Club of Long Island City, Simon Flaherty, commanding, he can turn around, walk to the bank of the Manhattan Co., Long Island City, and pocket $50,000 as his very own.

Flaherty issued a statement last night setting forth that Harry Verner, a producer of plays, had deposited with the above bank that amount of money made payable to Dempsey the moment he signs. It is theintention of Flaherty and the men back of him to promote the bout in Astoria, at a spot said to be two minutes walk from the subway.

The bout, should Dempsey sign, will be held on Labor day. The Cheseboro Whitman Co. of Astoria has guaranteed to erect a giant arena, seating 150,000, ready for Labor day if given the word on or before June 5.

Eastern Teams Wallop the West

Giants and Yankees Lead Triumphant March in Intersectional Series.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 24.—In the main, the East had all the best of it during the two baseball invasions that ended yesterday. American League teams from the East won the majority of their Western contests, while the Eastern Nationals, battling on their home grounds, sent the Western invaders back with few victories.

While the Giants were making a clean sweep of the Cardinal series, Brooklyn climbed over Chicago into fourth place by downing the Reds, 7 to 1. Boston helped lower the Cubs by beating them down, 6 to 4, and the Pirates continued their joy ride in Philadelphia, again beating the Phillies, 7 to 6.

Stuffy McInnis, first baseman, who was waived out of the American League, and then signed up with the Braves, is going great in the National League. Stuffy has just about rounded out the infield. His work with the stick is one of the outstanding features in the league. He poled three hits in four times at bat and helped beat the Cubs yesterday.

Harold Traynor of the Pirates continues to be a dangerous man in the pinch. Traynor usually hits when they count. Yesterday he bagged four, including a home run and a triple.

COONEY IS CAPTAIN OF ST. LOUIS U. HIGH TEAM

St. Louis U. High will play the Chaminade nine this afternoon at 3:15 o'clock on diamond No. 6, Forest Park. The game will constitute the return battle with Chaminade, and the Billiken Juniors are eager to square the count with a victory today, as the county team captured the first battle of the series by a score of 12—11.

Coach Tom Boland will make his hurling selection from Heinkel, Dyer or Gross.

At a meeting of the letter men held recently Tom Cooney, center fielder and lead-off man, was elected captain of this season's baseball team. No election was held last year and the choice of a leader for this year's team had been indefinitely postponed.

The Chicago Americans won an exhibition game from the Saginaw club of the Michigan-Ontario League yesterday by the score of 14 to 6.

Soccer Trophy Awarded to the Paterson Club

NO FINE FOR AMATEURS

CLEVELAND, O., May 24.—Reports of various committees yesterday occupied the attention of the delegates to the tenth annual meeting of the United States Football Association, now in session here at the Hotel Wintón.

The system of playing the national challenge cup competition was discussed, but no extensive alterations were made. St. Louis delegates proposed a three-game final series. The cup trophy was awarded to the Paterson, N. J., club, which played a tie game with the Scullin Steels of St. Louis in the final, the Scullins having forfeited the replay.

A proposal to limit the number of Clubs in the national series to 64 from the Eastern and Western division was defeated, as was also a motion to increase the entrance fee for teams from $10 to $20.

No Fines for Amateurs.

An important ruling by the Amateur Cup Committee, approved by the council forbids the finding of any amateur player. The sole punishment that can be meted out is suspension of the guilty player.

All the rulings of the Cup Committee, except on suspensions and closing of grounds, were held to be final. In the future it was decided that the national commission must employ a paid secretary.

A special committee was appointed to examine the financial report of the recent tour of this country made by the Dick Kerrs ladies football team of England. This trip was a failure in almost every respect and has soured most of the delegates against several proposed tours by foreign teams, a matter that will be considered today.

The convention will close today with the annual election of officers. It is expected that all of the present officers will be again chosen for the ensuing year.

Wray's Column

They Deserve It.

AN ingenuous person asked how a racing association could afford such expensive affairs as Derbies, one of which costs the promoters $50,000. He thought it an enormous amount of money to be given for such a purpose.

The gentleman hasn't turned over his racing calendar since 1904, when that $50,000 World's Fair handicap at the Fair Grounds was considered about the most daring bit of racing finance ever attempted.

But times have changed and $50,000 stakes are as common as hard-hearted landlords. That's because, instead of being a new overhead, Derby days have become sources of income.

* * *

Derby Day Costs D. O. P. $300,000.

THE Kentucky Derby last Saturday attracted 70,000 persons. The low admission price was $2.20 and the high $4.40, average $3, or three times what it cost to see the World's Fair handicap in 1904, 19 years ago.

At the average admission price last Derby day meant a total gate of $210,000. Add to this the club's per cent of the pari-mutuel betting turnover of $1,410,000 and the total "take" for the association last Saturday was $280,000, not counting the income from the many privileges. Three-hundred thousand dollars would be about the gross receipts of Derby Day.

That ought to explain why a $50,000 stake means no more than $5000 one did 20 years ago, so far as the promoters are concerned. Nor, so far as the public is concerned, does it get any more for its average setback of $3.30 than it did for its one buck of ancient days.

* * *

Living on a Volcano.

LIFE on the slopes of Vesuvius has nothing on that of the racing magnate in Kentucky, who is living over a crater. And it threatens to become active. Underneath the carnival spirit there is a serious note of opposition to Kentucky racing, from the country and from the city, too. Merchants, because of the added business, are strong for Derby day; but others ominously wag their heads while some begin to orate when the subject is tapped.

There is much sub-surface wire-pulling. The political support has to be kept in line by various costly methods. So that not all the "drag" from the pari-mutuel, not all the gate from the Derby gets into the treasury. The State gets a large bite and the city has to be placated. Various trouble-makers have to be satisfied; and so the life of a racing promoter is very much that of a team shovel—dig, dig, dig.

* * *

But as long as 75,000 visitors continue to let go of $3,000,000 spending money in a three-day period, the opposition of Louisville business circles is not going to be altogether whole hearted. The one sure sign that the racing volcano will not blow up is the dollar sign.

* * *

Father Time Hard Hit.

JOE McGINNITY, the "Iron man" of other days, is not even rusty. At the age of 52 he pitched a four-hit game, a blow that sent Father Time reeling back to his corner.

Athletic longevity is almost daily handing the Old Guy a belt. On every hand, in almost every line of physical endeavor, are men still at or near the top of their fields, holding their own with youth. Saner habits, saner training methods, less alcohol and the general improvement of the race explain the betterment. In due time, with the amputation of the frenzy from our present frenzied athletics, the prime of man reasonably may be expected to extend from 20 to 50 years.

Up to a decade ago, save for exceptional cases, the star burned out in from 5 to 10 years, according to the nature of the pastime and the care he took of himself.

A ballplayer who lasted 10 years in the big leagues was a wonder and a fighter who maintained himself for three or four years at the top was almost unheard of.

Today we have leaders of the league who have been playing 15 years. Old Cy Young was a major league hurler for 22 years. Johnny Kilbane has been a ring champion for more than a decade, and Frank Kramer was a cycle champion when he retired at the age of 43.

Looks like five-score and 10 will be the average expectation of the future.

* * *

Rough on Wills.

SAM LANGFORD chased the great fighters of the world for many years, but although the greatest man of his day in the opinion of many, he went to seed without being given a chance at the title.

There is now a strong probability that Harry Wills, another dusky person with a wallop, will pass out via the same method—neglect.

They are talking of matching him, true; but Harry is up against the Caucasian argument. Champion Dempsey fights Gibbons July 4. Firpo and Willard meet July 7. And there is almost no doubt that the winner of July 7 will meet the winner of July 4 on Labor Day.

That stymies Wills for all the big outdoor dates. If, after Dempsey cleans this field, they do not dig up another white marvel, we are prepared to admit that even fight promoters have changed.

They do not want a dark champion, because he may be good enough to keep it dark. And that spells no matches or poor houses.

By Bert Igoe,
The Post-Dispatch's Eastern Boxing Authority.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Two auto loads of boxing writers dropped in on Monsieur Eugene Criqui, French featherweight challenger at Manhassett, L. I., yesterday afternoon to see what Kilbane's challenger had to show.

Criqui boxed three hard rounds and he loomed up as a close worker, upstanding in his attack and a smart hitter with either hand. With the utmost ease he smacked Leon Poutet and Mario Gaul about, and both were bleeding from the nose when Criqui had had his fling.

In watching him carefully, we thought we detected one fault in Criqui's work—at least a fault that a swift right hand hitter like Kilbane might make capital of. Criqui, unless he was pulling his punches, shoots his right cross over too long a distance with a slight drawing back of the shoulder.

Kilbane will cross and knock "dead" the man who tries such an imperfect right cross. However, that was one fault, and Criqui, as we have pointed out, may have been saving his men.

He worked out under the hot sun, and perspired like a man in excellent condition. As Criqui went through his paces Madame Criqui puffed artistically at a long cigarette. At times she'd flick away the ashes with a jeweled pink finger.

Criqui, with no barbed wire approaches to his cottage and outdoor ring, does not draw the curious and admiring as Carpentier did. The ladies do not come in such great numbers. But then, Criqui is not a movie idol and—this goes even if Mme. Criqui reads it—Gene is not as doggone handsome as Georges.

SCHAUER TO REPORT TO ST. JOSEPH CLUB

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 24.—President George K. Belden of the St. Joseph Western League club announced last night that Rube Schauer, right-handed pitcher, formerly with New York in the National League and Philadelphia in the American League, would join the Saints Saturday, when the club returns home. Art Olsen, first sacker in 1922, has decided to rejoin the club and will also report Saturday. "Doc" Newton, right-handed pitcher formerly with Baltimore in the International League, has also been obtained in efforts to strengthen the local club.

Little Chance of Dempsey-Wills Go

Eastern Expert Sees in Suggestion a Mere Plan to Force Firpo to Sign.

By FAIR PLAY.
(Copyright, 1923.)

NEW YORK, May 24.—The heavyweight plot thickens. In quarters where the news is apt to be straight it was reported today that Jack Kearns has slipped word to his dear friend Rickard that Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City is nix. And that goes for the rest of Jersey. The wooden bowl across the Hudson river has been Rickard's trump card ever since it was built. Now Kearns has rendered it valueless.

What's the answer? Well, there is one answer that comes right to the mind. But it may not be the complete answer. The quick answer above referred to relates to money. Kearns is shying from the puerile maximum price of $15 per seat, which is all the Jersey law allows.

So far so good. But what is the rest of the answer? A big noise was made about a 150,000 capacity stadium to be built in Long Island for the Dempsey-Wills battle. Yet Kearns knew, and probably everyone else, that the New York Fire Department, building department and so on and so on would not permit a wooden bowl to be built and that no concrete stadium could be completed by Labor day.

Just Kidding About Wills Go.

And Rickard, Kearns and everybody else, has a strong idea that Gov. Smith will not permit a mixed heavyweight bout to be fought in the State.

Therefore the rest of the answer might be that Kearns didn't have any idea of putting his man against Wills, that Rickard hadn't either and that the whole scheme was designed to induce Firpo to step into Rickard's office and put his name to the dotted line beneath Willard's flowing penmanship exhibition.

If this was the idea, Luis Angel bit. Wednesday he signed for a July 7 battle and today sailed for Cuba and Mexico.

MILK FUND BOXING SHOW PLANNED BY WOMEN OF SALT LAKE

By the Associated Press.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, May 24.—Local clubwomen who plan a milk fund boxing show for Salt Lake City in the near future announced today they would take steps to have Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, as one of the contestants. It is proposed that Dempsey box six or eight rounds.

IRON MAN M'GINNITY, AT 52, HOLDS TEAM TO FOUR HITS AND WINS, 1-0

WATERLOO, Ia., May 24.—"Iron Man" Joe McGinnity, aged 52, 25 years ago the idol of the New York baseball fans, ended the losing streak of the Dubuque club in the Mississippi Valley League, of which he is maneger, when he held Marshalltown to four hits and Dubuque won, 1 to 0, yesterday.

WILLARD TO BEGIN TRAINING FOR FIRPO

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—Jess Willard, contender for the heavyweight boxing title held by Jack Dempsey, announced he would immediately begin training to keep in condition for his match with Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine boxer, July 7. He will hold light workouts during the remainder of his stay here, which probably will be of about 10 days, and then go East to take up hard training.

Huston Can't Buy Dodgers This Year

Brooklyn Not for Sale Until After Season and Perhaps Not Then, Ebbets Says.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Col. T. L. Huston, who on Monday sold his half interest in the New York Yankees to Col. Jacob Ruppert, will not be able to acquire an interest in the Brooklyn Nationals, at least this season.

Col. Huston's retirements from the Yankee's ownership aroused immediate reports that he might buy into the Brooklyn club, but Charles H. Ebbets, president of the Dodgers, and his two partners, Ed and Stephen McKeever, yesterday denied that their interests were now for sale.

"There will be positively nothing doing in the way of selling my interest in the Brooklyn club until after the 1923 season," Ebbets said. "Because of my health and other considerations, I feel that I may sell after this season. Then again, I may not. I have been in baseball all my life and realize fully how hard it will be for me to quit after participation in the game. While I may sell, the probabilities are that I will not."

Ed McKeever asserted that: "You will see the same old lineup three years from now that you see today—Ebbets and the McKeevers," while his brother declared: "I am going to stay in baseball until I die and then leave my interest to my family."

Chester Fowler, a promising young outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, has been released to the Oklahoma City Club of the Western League.

10 Pikers to Run In Valley Meet

Washington's Hopes in Conference Competition at Ames Rest on Sprinters and Hurdlers.

Coach Rider will take a squad of ten Piker athletes with him tonight to compete in the annual Missouri Valley Conference track and field meet at Ames, Io. The preliminaries will be held tomorrow and the finals Saturday.

The Pikers, who finished fourth in the Valley Indoor meet in March, have won all their meets since then and are expected to place at least fourth and possibly third in the Valley classic. The Pikers have a group of stars for the speed events, but weight men are lacking. Orville Mitchell, star pole-vaulter, and Buddy Cantwell, high jumper, will not be able to make the trip because of injuries.

Thus the Piker hopes rest almost entirely on their sprinters and hurdlers. Much is expected from Ralph Blanchard, who will be entered in both hurdles and the broad jump. Joe Bier is generally expected to win the 440, in which he placed second last year, while Anderwert, who ran the 100-yard dash under 10 seconds in the Municipal meet last week, should at least place.

Coach Rider today said that on the strength of previous showing this year, Nebraska or Kansas should win, with Kansas Aggies and Washington battling for third place.

Mile relay — Hoagland, Bier, Crowder, DuComb.

440-yard run—Bier.

220-yard low hurdles—Blanchard.

Broad jump — Blanchard and Thumser.

880-yard run—Williams.

One-mile run—Capps.

Two-mile run—Schwartz.

Half-mile relay — Anderwert, Blanchard, Hoagland, Bier.

SPALLA CHALLENGES DEMPSEY FOR TITLE

By the Associated Press.

MILAN, May 24.—Ermino Spalla of Italy, holder of the European heavyweight boxing title, today challenged Jack Dempsey to a bout for the world's heavyweight championship. Spalla, once a sparring partner in Dempsey's camp, won the European title from Vanderveer, the Hollander, here last Sunday.

PENN STARS CONSISTENT

Yale Will Have Chance if All Athletes Do Their Best, Camp Writes.

By Walter Camp.

(Copyright, 1923.)

NEW YORK, May 24.—The possibilities for unexpected results and strange happenings are greater this year than at any time in the history of the intercollegiate track and field games, which will be held at Franklin Field, Philadelphia, the end of this week. This fact results from the unusual distribution of stars. With the crack men splitting up the points among a number of institutions, Yale, California, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Princeton, Penn State and perhaps others have a chance to win the meet if their lesser lights come through up to the top of their form.

Among the outstanding stars, Tootel of Bowdoin can outdistance anyone in the hammer throw. There is Leroy Brown of Dartmouth in the high jump, who unless something extraordinary should happen, has command of that event. The pole vault, barring accidents, should be at the mercy of Sherrill and Owens, both of Pennsylvania, provided Sherrill's bad ankle holds up. There is no man in sight who should beat Jimmy Connolly in the mile. Taylor of Princeton should have a cinch in the low hurdles. Helfrisch of Penn State should have the half packed away in his pocket, with his two teammates, Enck and Edgerton, backing him up.

Penn's Athletes Consistent.

Outside of these athletes, however, there are a good many complications. Much will depend on how the second, third and fourth places are distributed. For example, the writer does not believe that Yale can win, but if all the Yale men performed at their best, the Blue might have a chance.

Penn's athletes have been more consistent in their performances on Franklin Field than others. Among Yale's possibilities are Kusnak in the hundred; Chapman in the quarter, Douglas in the mile; Captain Campbell, who might give even Helfrisch trouble in the half if he were at top form. Milliken, who might squeeze in a point or two in the pole vault, and Cummins and Schloop in the broad jump. Bench might place in the discus, Jordan in the shot put and Cruickshank in the hammer, while Storrs and Bench are good javelin throwers.

Penn is in a fair position. In addition to the Red and Blue representatives already noted, Lever is a good sprinter and Needs does well in the high jump. Thurman must push Hills of Princeton in the shot put, while Hamer has a chance to do well in the hammer throw and the javelin event.

California's Chances Questionable.

Princeton has come so near to getting up to the top that the Tigers are feared by many. Thompson is good in the high hurdles, Emery should place in the hammer and Grewes should be well up in the javelin.

What California can do is a doubtful question, despite the fact that the Berkeley men have won the last two meets. At any rate, the California team will have a much harder time than in 1921 and 1922. Muller should get second in the high jump, Boren may get a fair place in the broad, Norris and Gouinlock may place in the pole vault and Witter in the shot put. Sorrenti may surprise people with the javelin. California has lost some of her star performers and there are many topnotchers in the events where she is good.

Penn State has more than a look-in, while Cornell is a dark horse and may furnish an abundance of surprises.

AUSTRALIA-HAWAII DAVIS CUP MATCH AT ORANGE, N. J., IN JULY

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The Davis Cup first round match between the teams of Australia and Hawaii will be played on the courts of the Orange Lawn Tennis Club at Orange, N. J., July 26, 27 and 28, the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association announced yesterday.

The committee stated that the selection of a metropolitan club for the match was made at the suggestion of both the Australian and Hawaiian teams.

Pacific Coast cities had been seeking the match since it was decided to abandon the original plan to play it in Honolulu.

LEAGUE'S BEST HITTER HURTS KNEE, RELEASED

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 24.—The release of Outfielder J. Palmateer was announced yesterday by local W. A. officials.

Palmateer, although leading the league in batting with an average of .379, was forced to quit the club because of an injured knee.

Bat Manufacturer Dies.

BRIDGETON, Me., May 24.—William E. Mains, old-time baseball player and for many years a bat manufacturer, died today at his home near here. He played with the Portland (Ore.) club of the Pacific Coast League, and later was with the Cincinnati Nationals for two seasons.

Pirates Release Carlson.

By the Associated Press.

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 24.—The Pittsburg National League club last night announced the outright release of Pitcher Harold Carlson to the Wichita Falls club of the Texas League. Carlson, who has been at his home in Rockford, Ill., for several days has accepted the Wichita Falls terms, it was declared, and will leave at once to join his club.

MUSSOLINI OUSTS NEAPOLITAN AND AIDS FROM FASCISTI

By the Associated Press.

ROME, May 24.—Premier Mussolini yesterday played a master stroke when he took upon himself the grave responsibility of decreeing the expulsion from the Fascisti of Capt. Padovani, commander of the Neapolitan Fascisti, and Padovani's followers.

The expulsion is regarded in official circles as having been ordered when the Premier had to choose between lack of discipline in the ranks of the Fascism or striking with an iron fist. The man of whom he made an example was one of the Premier's dearest friends, and one to whom the Fascism owes its success in Southern Italy. Padovani and his adherents recently resigned in protest against permitting the Nationalist Deputy Rocco to become a member of the Fascisti.

INVESTIGATORS GO TO COLONY

Aged Father of Girl in Group Questioned.

By the Associated Press.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., May 24.—Judge Dingeman and State officials transferred the grand jury inquiry to the grounds of the House of David late yesterday. Their visit was to question Pulaski Drake, aged father of Countess Drake, the youngest girl of one of the recent group marriages. They found the prospective witness so uninformed they were not able to take the testimony on the age of the daughter, which rests upon the conflicting testimony of school records and the age given at the time of marriage.

Under the Michigan law, a girl under 16 years of age is incapable of contracting marriage. A probable recess of two weeks was suggested by Judge Dingeman following the close of the present week's hearing. The State has a large mass of evidence which it wished to put into shape for further work.

Judge White refused today to accept for filing a petition asking for immediate receivership of the House of David, at Benton Harbor. The petition was signed by Mrs. Isabel Pritchard, two daughters, and a son-in-law, of Chicago, and Mrs. Hazel Wuerst of Hammond, Ind. The petitioners also noted they represented "two hundred" seceding members of the colony.

I. C. CUTS TELEGRAPHERS' PAY

Other Roads Announce Slight Increases for Some Employes.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 24.—The Illinois Central Railroad today notified the Railroad Labor Board that it had reached an agreement with its telegraphers, the employes having accepted a decision cutting an average of 3.42 cents an hour from their scale. The carrier withdrew all pending disputes with telegraphers over rules and wages, declaring the controversies adjusted.

An increase of 2 cents an hour was granted by the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad to machinists, boiler makers, electricians, sheet metal workers and their helpers, the board was informed. The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. has increased the pay of 4836 clerks from 1 to 3 cents an hour, the board was advised, while the Central of Georgia raised the monthly salaries of its bridge and building foremen, assistants and section foremen $5, its bridge and building mechanics 2 cents an hour and established a flat rate of 18 cents an hour for track laborers.

TRIMBLE HEADS STATE BANKERS

M. R. Sturtevant of St. Louis Elected Vice President.

By the Associated Press

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 24.—E. Trimble, Springfield, Mo., was elected president of the Missouri Bankers' Association yesterday afternoon at the session which closed the organization's two-day annual convention here. M. R. Sturtevant, vice president of the Liberty Central Trust Co., St. Louis, was chosen vice president, and E. E. Amick, vice president of the First National Bank, Kansas City, treasurer.

Establishment of branch banks by financial institutions was condemned. Branch banks would create too much of a monopoly, the resolution contends.

10 Per Cent on Claims Against Bank.

By the Associated Press.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., May 24.—Preferred claims of the defunct Farmers Savings Bank will be paid after June 19 after court has passed on the claims, it has been announced. About 10 per cent of the deposits are to be paid on that date, it was stated yesterday. Of the $211,000 loans of the bank, $170,000 remain outstanding, it was added.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The Evening Post in its copyrighted financial review today says:

"The tendency toward recovery which made itself felt in the stock market on Monday afternoon was resumed today in rather impressive fashion. Short covering appeared to be a factor, but buying of a substantial and diversified character also was reported and this undoubtedly increased anxiety within the bear party. Other factors which increased confidence were the announcement of the details of the Mexican debt settlement and Mr. Morgan's statement with reference to the forthcoming Austrian loan. Prices were better from start and the improvement gathered strength during the afternoon and carried through well to the end. At close, gains of from 1 to 3 points were numerous through the list. Bonds also were higher and call held at 4½ per cent throughout.

Exchange Market Quiet.

"The foreign exchange market continued to be devoid of striking features. Sterling sagged ½ cent to $4.62¼ and then recovered half the loss. Some British buying of American securities was rumored, this being offered as an explanation of the slight heaviness in sterling. Rumors of this kind are, however, difficult to confirm. French francs lost 1¾ points at 6.64¼ cents and the other continentals were irregular with Norwegian kroner at a new low of 15.88 cents. Trading was quiet after a fair turn of business at the start.

"Renewed strength appeared in the cotton market. The opening was firm, quite wiping out yesterday's late reaction, and although fairly wide fluctuations developed subsequently, the tone was unmistakably strong. More rain in the growing areas was a supporting factor, but it was clear that the tone was generally more confident. Trading in the May delivery expired at noon with that delivery up 47 points on the day at 28.67 cents while the July future showed a net gain of 43 points at a late price of 27.15 cents.

Foreign Bank Statements.

"Although the margin is slight the Bank of England is able to report a near high record in its ratio of reserve for the post war period. At 20¾ per cent the ratio compares with 20 per cent a year ago and 14¾ per cent at this time in 1921. The changes of the past week include reductions of £196,000 in circulation and of £4,000,000 in deposit liabilities. The French Bank statement shows that the Government has borrowed 200,000,000 francs. Thi samount is not, however, particularly significant in view of the fluctuations which have occurred in the tottal for this item throughout the year."

Chinese Loan Meeting.

NEW YORK, May 24.—American bankers are inclined to discount the probability of success of the meeting of English holders of Chinese 8 per cent treasury bills, called for May 28 in London to consider a Chinese loan. Cable reports state the meeting has been called by Birch Crisp, representing a group which has not joined the Four-Power consortium consisting of Great Britain, United States, Japan and France.

STANDARD OILS STRONG FEATURES ON THE CURB

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 24.—With the exception of the oil stocks it took the curb market the best part of the first half session today to absorb the realizing sales which naturally followed Wednesday's advance. Standard Oils were the strong features, but a number of independents were also bid up sharply.

Advances of a point or so occurred in Standard of Indiana, Prairie Pipe Line and Vacuum Oil, while Standard of Kentucky, Imperial Oil of Canada and several of the higher priced issues made still larger gains. Maracaibo and Gulf Oil among the independents were conspicuous and the new issue of Barrington made a new top above 11.

In the afternoon the upward movement gradually spread to other sections. Durant of Indiana regained its 2-point loss of the morning and subsequently got well above the Wednesday close. Reo was another of the motor stocks that was favored in the buying.

Short covering brought about a further advance in National Supply of Delaware. Lower prices were reached in Glen Alden Coal, despite the recent declaration of a $2 dividend.

—SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The short interest was routed in today's market and paper profits which have accumulated on the bear side after weeks of decline were cut down or swept away.

Buying orders did not, however, by any means represent entirely the retreat of a bear party. There was also buying back of stocks by people who had been out of the market for some time.

The rise became fairly sharp in the closing half hour. Baldwin above 130 was up nearly five points from its low of the forenoon, Studebaker had a similar gain. Steel common crossed 98 while the buying in California Petroleum carried the stock forward nearly nine points. The finish was very strong, up to the top figures.

There was very little in the way of outside news today. When the overcrowded short interest realized that Wednesday's late demonstration against the steel stocks had failed of its purpose to restart the general downward movement, it began to bid for stocks.

What had been said about growing scarcity of California Petroleum shares seemed borne out by their further rapid uprush, well above any previous high. The short account built up in Phillips Petroleum on the suggestion had a hard time of it.

Talk of an increase in the New York Central dividend was back of the buying in that stock. Other rails gave a good account of themselves, getting up two to three points from their lows early in the week.

It took an hour or so to convince the shorts in stocks like Studebaker, Steel common and Baldwin that their position was precarious, but then a rise took place.

The high prices were made in the final dealings.

There was some profit taking in the early leaders of the oil group, but operations for the rise in American Can and in the railway stocks were most conspicuous in the last hour.

Among the rails, next to New York Central, the display of special activity at rising prices in the Southern issues was the noteworthy incident. Steel common crossed 97 and American Can got above 96.

The Bond Market.

The market had the stimulus of the announcement of J. P. Morgan & Co. as to the proposed Austrian loan.

Liberties were quiet, but firm with the most activity in the second and third 4½s. High grade rails, however, were in active demand at advancing prices. Practically the whole list responded. The impressive thing about the advance was its uniformity.

Industrial and utility bonds were firm, but not so active as the rails. Foreign bonds as a rule were firm.

PRICES ARE MIXED ON GRAIN EXCHANGE

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, May 24.—Grain futures closed mixed but little changed from previous day. The early wheat market had some more bullish crop news on winter grain belt. The market was quiet affair.

In the local cash grain market corn was steady to 1c higher. There was good general demand. Oats were ¼c off to ¾c up and demand good. Wheat was steady on soft quality considered. Demand was slow. Hard was higher. Corn was better helped by report of export business and report of necessity of replanting.

The early range of prices was not wide, with the nearby deliveries showing a tendency to rule near previous day's basis. Liverpool closed ⅜d off for July and ¾d down on October, and this exerted influence on domestic values.

There were 41 cars of wheat local and 19 through in today; 31 cars of corn local and 1 through and 36 cars of oats local and 16 through.

July wheat opened at $1.41⅝, September $1.13⅝, July corn 80¼c and September corn 77⅞c.

The three northwestern markets combined today had 211 cars of wheat, compared with 310 a week ago and 422 last year. Minneapolis today receiving 104 cars, Duluth 107 and Winnipeg closed.

Local wheat receipts, which were 72,000 bushels compared with 31,200 a week ago and 165,600 last year, included 41 cars local and 19 through. Corn receipts, which were 45,500 bushels, compared with 14,300 a week ago and 84,500 last year, included 41 cars local and 1 through. Oats receipts, which were 10,400 bushels, compared with 48,000 a week ago and 64,000 last year, included 36 cars local and 16 through. Hay receipts were 34 tons local and 5 through.

Stocks in St. Louis public elevators today were 498,191 bushels of wheat, 219,724 bushels of corn, 273,748 bushels of oats. Grain stocks comprised 55,690 bushels of No. 2 red winter wheat, 326,958 bushels of No. 2 hard winter wheat; 410,090 buhsels of No. 2 mixed corn, 94,479 bushels of No. 2 yellow corn, 80,626 bushels of No. 2 white corn; 240,422 bushels of No. 2 white oats, 7196 bushels of No. 3 white oats; 232,055 bushels of No. 2 rye; 26,652 bushels of kaffir corn.

COTTON FUTURES HIGHER ON THE NEW YORK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, May 24.—The cotton market opened firm at an advance of 27 to 47 points on covering and a scattering demand encouraged by relatively firm Liverpool cables and prospects for further showers in the South. July contracts sold up to 27.20c and October to 24.36c, but there was a good deal of realizing, and selling became more active after the call on reports that a southern authority estimated the condition of the crop at 72.3, the increase in acreage at 11 per cent and the indicated yield at 12,640,000 bales. These figures were considerably higher than the report of yesterday and evidently led to liquidation by some of yesterday's buyers, with the result that July soon reacted to 26.90c and October to 24.13c, or about 20 to 30 points from the best. Early estimates placed the May notices issued this morning at 11,300 bales, but May held about 140 points over the price of July.

The final evening up of May commitments was accompanied by rather violent fluctuations. There was some selling after 11 o'clock which sent the price down to 27.70c, or 50 points net lower, but as soon as this had been absorbed there was a sharp rally and the last sale was at 28.49c, with May showing a premium of about 150 points over July when trading in the delivery ended at midday. Later months were firmer after May went out on covering by July shorts and scattered buying of new crop deliveries, which was promoted by unfavorable weather reports from the South and another private crop report making the condition 69 and the indicated yield 11,250,000 bales. July sold up to 27.25c and Oct. to 24.50c, or 50 to 52 points net higher.

Private rain reports from Central and Western belt sections and bullish spot advices contributed to the afternoon advance which extended to 27.31c for July and 24.74c for October or 58 to 75 points net higher. The market was a few points off from the best at 2 o'clock but the tone was firm on continued covering and commission house buying.

Liverpool Cotton Barely Steady.

LIVERPOOL, May 24.—Cotton—Spot, fair demand; prices barely steady; good middling, 15.70d; fully middling, 15.60d; middling, 15.50d; low middling, 15.25d; good ordinary, 14.75d; ordinary, 14.45d. Sales, 4000 bales, including 2000 American; receipts, 2000 bales, including 1000 American. Futures closed barely steady. May, 14.70d; July, 14.34d; Oct., 13.14d; Dec., 12.76d; Jan., 12.64d; March, 12.46d.

New York Sugar.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The raw sugar market continued quiet early today. No sales were reported and prices remained unchanged with Cubas offered at 6½c cost and freight, equal to 8.28c for centrifugal.

Raw sugar futures were firmer on covering and buying by trade interests and commission houses prompted by the firmness of the spot market and expectations of announced coming demand. Prices at midday were 5 to 8 points net higher.

There was only a moderate inquiry for refined sugar and prices were unchanged at 9.50c to 9.90c for fine granulated.

SHORT COVERING FACTOR IN CHICAGO WHEAT TRADE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Wheat market was oversold today. There was a dip at the start on local pressure induced by weak Liverpool cables. Good buying on resting orders developed at $1.17 for July and $1.15 for September, and there was a scramble on the part of shorts to cover. On the bulge there was wheat for sale, but it seemed to be off of the market on any reaction. Milling demand for wheat remains quiet. Sales of 15,000 bushels of contract wheat were made to go to store.

Wheat weakened in the later today. The local crowd overbought themselves and they were unable to unload all of their wheat before the clase because of the lack of demand. Local cash sales were 11,800 bu of wheat, 26,000 bu of corn and 68,000 bu of oats.

Wheat broke in the later trading, the market being overbought, and prices closed ⅛c to ¼c lower, May, $1.18⅝ to $1.18¾; July, $1.17⅛ to $1.17⅜; Sept., $1.15¼.

Corn showed strength in the later trading. After the opening dip there was short covering, especially in July. Later there was some outside buying inspired by reports of much replanting being necessary in parts of Illinois because of seed failing to terminate. Domestic shipping damand was slow.

Corn closed unchanged to ⅜c higher, May, 79⅝c; July, 79½c; Sept., 78⅛c to 78c.

Oats eased under selling by country houses and later rallied on covering by shorts. Shipping demand was slow.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, May 24.—The local wool market was very quiet today. Prices here were steady with little fluctuation.

HOG RECEIPTS ARE LIGHT AND PRICES RANGE UP

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., May 24.—Receipts today, estimated: Cattle and calves, 2500; hogs, 9000; sheep, 2000; horses and mules, 100.

SHEEP—Another right fair supply of sheep and lambs arrivevd and the market was again on a lower basis, most of the offerings showing a drop in values of 50c from the Wednesday basis. Best spring lambs sold at $15.75@16, and they had to be strictly good to bring the price, fair to medium grades went at $13.50@15.50, poor and culls $9@13, mutton sheep of handy weight $6.25, heavy and plain ewes $4.50, choppers and bucks $3@3.50 and canners $1@2.

CATTLE—Thursday's trade was about steady in steers and yearlings, although cows and bulls were somewhat sluggish and veal calves sharply lower after a good opening. Receipts were off from previous days and quality was plainer. The run included about 40 cars of western steers.

Cattle for week—The native beef steer market has been on an active basis throughout the week and average prices close 25c higher, with some of the best showing a 40c rise. Best light yearlings are also about 25c higher, with others steady to strong. Common and medium butcher cows were hit for a 50c decline, while the better grades show a 25c and in some cases 50c loss. Canner and cutter cows close barely steady and bulls all the way from 25c to 50c lower. The better grades of stocker and feeder steers held their own under a light supply, although an increase in the offering of the plainer kinds broke prices for these 25c to 50c. From a $9.75 top Monday veal cavlves scored a good advance, a small lot reaching $11 early Thursday. A sharp decline later that day, howeer, reduced late tops to $10 and $10.25. Receipts were of fair volume for the week and quality materially improved.

Quotations—Beef steers, native, bulk, $8 to $9.75; top for week and highest for weighty steers this year $10.40 per cwt., paid for 1350-pound drove; light yearlings, bulk, $7.75 to $9; two cars of yearling steers up to $10 and $10.15; butcher cows, low, $4; high, $7.25; bulk, $5.50 to $6.50; cutter cows, range, $3.25 to $4; canner cows, range, $2.75 to $3.25; beef and bologna bulls, bulk, $5 to $5.75.

Buyers preferred the strong-weight hogs and there was a right good demand for hogs from 200 lbs. and up. The lighter kinds, however, shared in the dvance, all classes of hogs showing an advance of 10c over yesterday's close. Hogs from 150 to 240 lbs. in weight sold from $7.50 to $7.60, the last figure representing the top of the trade. Buyers fought the advance hard, but the light run forced prices upward.

Pig receipts were not as heavy as yesterday, although the supply still continued to run greater than the demand. Prices were no better than steady and the market was unsatisfactory all the way round. Light lights sold generally from $6.50 to $6.75, and strong weight pigs sold from $6.25 to $6.50. Medium weight pigs from 120 to 130 lbs. cleared today at $6 to $6.25, and light pigs and peewees from 110 lbs. and down sold from $5.25 to $6, according to the weight and quality of the offerings.

Trading in rough hogs was practically unchanged, packer sows selling steady with yesterday at $5.75 to $6. Stags also were little change, selling from $4.50 to $5 mostly.

HORSES AND MULES—Demand for the better grades of horses and mules here this week was equal to the supply, and the market ruled fairly active at steady, and in some cases, strong prices. The plainer offerings were less active, and values often barely steady. Receipts were fair for the period, commission arrivals running slightly better than 800 head.

RECEIVERSHIP HEARINGS FOR 7 HOUSING TRUSTS POSTPONED

Cases Are Set Over to June 7, in Circuit Judge Hartmann's Court.

Hearings on the temporary receivership orders for seven of the 13 St. Louis housing trust, against which receivership suits were filed May 4, last, by State Finance Commissioner Millspaugh, were postponed today until June 7, in Circuit Judge Hartmann's Court. The hearings are on whether the appointment of Commissioner Millspaugh as temporary receiver shall be made permanent, and on a temporary order enjoining the companies from removing any assets from the state.

The cases set over are those of the Federation of Home Builders of America, Missouri Loan and Saving Co., Guardian Home Savings Trust, Commonwealth Home Finance Co., American Union Housing Trust, Universal Home Builders Estate and the Guaranty Home & Investment Syndicate. It was stated service had not been obtained on another company, the Standard Loan and Savings Co.

Three other housing trusts, the Republic Housing & Investment Organization, the Federal Home Builders Trust, and the Home Loan and Investment Trust, have consented to a permanent receivership. One receivership order was vacated and the case of the thirteenth company, the Union Home Builders, is in Federal Court.

INVASION OF BIRDS CHECKS DANGER FROM PINE BEETLE

OLYMPIA, Wash.—It is now believed the pine beetle menace has been checked by an invasion of birds, which, fond of moths, caterpillars and borers, have arrived in northwest forests this spring in such numbers as to invite investigation by naturalists and foresters generally. It was revealed that these feathered friends of the forests are hard at work in a great beetle harvest which has an interesting angle. Woodpeckers locate the boring beetles far under the thick bark of fir, hemlock and cedar. After pecking out the fat, juicy beetle, the woodpecker starts another hole. Chickadees, nuthatches, thrushes and many other varieties of birds follow the woodpeckers to eat the larve and eggs which ahe uncovered by the chiseling. The unusual visitation of birds is general in the Northwest States and the forests are sure to benefit by the insect destroyers.

Two-Year Building Agreement in Chicago.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 24.—The building construction employers association has signed a two-year agreement with the Landis Award Committee, it has been learned. The Associated Builders of Chicago gave their support to the Landis Award Committee sometime ago. The two organizations represented the majority of Chicago contractors.

ASSAILANT OF POLICEMAN NAMED AS ESCAPED CONVICT

A photograph of Joseph Friedman, one of four men charged in warrants with burglary and assault to kill in connection with the shooting and wounding of Patrolman Lawrence Treinen in an interrupted burglary, has been identified by Chicago police as that of a convict who escaped from the Chester (Ill.) penitentiary, and Friedman, who was at liberty on a $10,000 bond, has been rearrested.

As is known, Patrolman Treinen was shot when he surprised four men who were about to enter the rear door of a pants factory at 503 North Eighteenth street in the early morning of May 15. He later identified Friedman and three others who were caught in the vicinity.

Following their usual custom in such cases, the police broadcast pictures and descriptions of the men arrested, and today received word that Friedman, under the name of Joseph Burns, escaped from the Chester prison in September, 1921, while serving an indeterminate sentence of from 1 to 14 years from Murphysboro, Ill. The date of the sentence and the crimes of which Burns was convicted was not mentioned.

A $15,000 bond in the Federal Court which was furnished by Friedman following identification of him as one of six men who held up a mail truck at Springfield, Ill., April 1, was withdrawn after Friedman was re-arrested today.

HELP HUNGARY PLAN APPROVED

Reparation Commission Acts on Rehabilitation Program.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, May 24.—The Hungarian rehabilitation plan has been approved by the Reparation Commission, but only after the League of Nations supervision, as in Austrian relief, had been eliminated, and Hungary had been bluntly informed that the commission's final action on the detailed proposition for an international loan and governmental reform would depend on Hungary's good behavior in the meantime, in delivering coal and cattle and otherwise carrying out the execution of the treaty, with the exception of cash payments.

M. Barthou had to cast his second vote, as French president of the commission, in order to obtain adoption of the plan.

Priest Causes Arrest of Brokers.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 24.—The Rev. Father D. Gartland of St. Augustine's Roman Catholic Church, Union Hill, N. J., yesterday caused the arrest of Edwin A. Gagnier and Howard H. Boyd, stock brokers, on a charge of misrepresenting the value of United States Metal Cap and Seal Co. stock, on which he claims he lost $7650. Father Gartland said he paid $9 a share for the stock and claimed it is practically worthless.

Urges Free Bridge Use by Railroads.

C. E. Smith, consulting engineer in the Department of Public Utilities, advocated use of the Municipal Free Bridge by railroads entering St. Louis from the East, in a speech Tuesday night before the Baden Improvement Association at Riverview Inn. Other speakers were E. Kappel, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the association; Miss Laura Wessel and Alderman Kuhs, of the First Ward. A dance followed the dinner and speaking program.

WHY WE SELL GOODYEAR TIRES

We could sell you so-called "long discount" tires at "bargain prices" if we liked.

We could offer you "special deals" or delusive "guarantees" on unknown brands and make money at it, temporarily.

But we want to stay in the tire business a long time, and succeed in it; so we sell Goodyear Tires instead.

Our profit is smaller on them but we know they satisfy our customers, and satisfied customers are what we are after.

If we sell you a Goodyear Tire we follow that tire with service that will help you get from it all the mileage built into it at the factory.

As a Goodyear Service Station Dealer we sell and recommend Goodyear Tires and back them up with standard Goodyear Service

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls, or answers by mail, cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity, when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

J. V.—Calvary Cemetery is a Catholic one.

A. E.—Fur can be cleaned by rubbing into it thoroughly sawdust which has been moistened with benzine. When the sawdust dries it can be easily shaken out of the fur.

YETTA V.—The addresses you requested are as follows: Jane and Katherine Lee, 1556 Broadway, New York, N. Y.; Mary Pickford, Hollywood, Cal.; Jackie Coogan, Hollywood, Cal.; Pearl White, New York, N. Y.

O. N. T.—In congratulating a bridegroom on his marriage, you might say, "I hope your good luck will stay with you always," or "I certainly do congrtulate you." A man might say to the bridegroom, "Good luck to you, Bob, old man."

A BET.—The population estimate for 1923 for the city of New York is 5,927,625; for St. Louis it is 803,853. According to the 1920 census the population of Belleville, Ill., was 24,741, and that of Alton, Ill., was 24,682.

INTERESTED.—To become a certified public accountant you must be 25 years of age, have resided in the State one year, have had a high school education or its equivalent, and also three years' experience in an accountant's office.

R. C. F.—Waldo C. Moore of Lewisburg, O., is president of the American Numismatic Association. The association is composed of collectors and dealers in coins. Topics such as the recent history in foreign and national coinage are discussed at the meetings of the association.

CONSTANT READER.—Ha Ha Tonka Park is in Cambden County, Mo. This tract was once considered by the Missouri Legislature for a State park. It is located 30 miles from Lebanon, Mo. Inquire at the Information Department of the Union Station to find out the railroad which passes through that section of Missouri.

F. G. S.—To distinguish the true diamond from the false, it is necessary only to wipe the stone carefully and trace a line on it with an aluminum pencil, and then rub it briskly with a moistened cloth. If the line continues visible the stone is false. If on the contrary, the stone is a pure diamond, the line will disappear without leaving a trace, and without injury to the stone.

SALLY.—In roasting pork wipe the pork, sprinkle it with salt and pepper, place it on a rack in a dripping pan, and dredge the meat and bottom of the pan with flour. Bake it in a moderate oven three or four hours, basting every 15 minutes with the fat in the pan. Make a gravy as for other roasts. Other roasts of meat are prepared in a similar manner.

R. R.—The word "balance" is a much abused word. As an accountant's term the "balance" is that which must be added to the less, or subtracted from the greater of two amounts, as receipts and expenses, to make them equal, so as to "balance" the account. It does not properly denote what is left of anything after a part has been taken away. That is the "rest" or "remainder."

A. J. A.—A suitable remedy to clean old paint from brushes is amyl acetate, which is a liquid with a pleasant odor of fruit drops. If amyl acetate is poured over a paint brush, the varnish or hardened paint dissolves almost immediately and the brush is again rendered serviceable. If necessary the process is repeated. In removing paint and varnish from wood, the paint, no matter how old and hard, may be softened in a few minutes so that it can be easily straped off, by applying the following mixture: Water glass five parts, soda lye 40 degrees B. (27 per cent) one quart, ammonia water one part. Mix this.

GERT.—1. The following is a formula for a finishing polish for furniture: Alcohol 8 ounces, shellac 2 drams, gum benzoin 2 drams, best poppy oil 2 drams. Dissolve the shellac and gum in the alcohol in a warm place, with frequent agitation, and, when cold add the poppy oil. This may be applied, on the end of a cylindrical rubber made by tightly rolling a piece of flannel which has been torn, not cut, into strips 4 to 6 inches wide. 2. Chicken is not eaten with the fingers. You cut off as much of the meat as you can and leave the rest on your plate. 3. Coffee is usually served after the dessert.

J. F.—A good washing powder can be made from 100 parts of crystal soda, 25 parts of dark yellow rosin cured soap and 5 parts of soft soap. The two latter are placed in a pan along with one-half of the soda, and slowly heated with continual crutching until they are thoroughly melted without, however, beginning to boil. The fire is then drawn and the remaining soda crutched in until it, too, is melted, this being effected by the residual heat of the mass and the pan. The mass will be fairly thick by the time the soda is all absorbed. After leaving a little longer with occasional stirring the contents are spread out on several thin sheets of iron in a cool room to be then turned over by the shovel at short intervals in order to cool and break down the mixture. The soap will then be in a friable condition and can be rubbed through the sieve, the best results being obtained by passing through a coarse sieve first, and one of finer mesh afterwards. With these ingredients a fine yellow-colored powder will be obtained.

LEGAL INFORMATION.

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

H. E. B.—In the State of Missouri, you can refuse to serve a negro in your restaurant, if you wish to do so.

MRS. L. F.—You cannot have your divorce case tried in private, but it can probably be tried with very little publicity, if it is not contested by your husband. You should consult a lawyer.

MRS. L. R. S.—State your claims for the insurance of your brother to the United States Veterans' Bureau, 6801 Delmar boulevard, St. Louis, and they will advise you what can be done toward obtaining the insurance.

C. A. M.—You can ask the Clerk of the Court whether the lawyer filed a motion for a new trial for your brother. Under the circumstances you cannot compel the lawyer to return the $25, which you paid him, if he is unwilling to do so, but he could not sue you for the $25 balance.

ANXIOUS TO KNOW.—1. A person who is not a party to a deed of trust and is given the deed of trust to take to the Recorder's office and release it, would incur no liability by doing so. 2. "Straw men" may incur liability if they sign warranty deeds without having a perfect title, but they are usually supposed to be "judgment proof." Also they are protected by the deeds to them, if the deeds to them and the deeds by them are both warranty deeds. 3. The estate should be administered through the Probate Court in the usual way.

PARTNERSHIP TO STEAL AUTOS IS CONFESSED

Two Men, One a German Alien, Said to Have Admitted Arrangement to Disguise Cars.

Formation of a partnership to steal automobiles in towns near St. Louis and bring them to the city to be altered in appearance and sold, was confessed yesterday, operatives of the Department of Justice said, by two men arrested Saturday by the police of the North Market street district. They had been operating since May 1, it was said.

The men held are Louis Klein, a German alien, and Albert Miller, proprietor of a garage at 1625 Chambers street. Both resided at Miller's home, 1401A O'Fallon street. Four cars stolen in Granite City and Edwardsville were recovered.

Federal operatives said the men confessed that they took only Ford and Dodge automobiles and changed the motors and general appearance of the cars in garages here. In addition to Miller's garage at 1625 Chambers street, two private garages had been rented at 4175 Washington boulevard and 1922 St. Louis avenue, it was said.

At the Chambers street garage the police discovered the chassis of a Ford coupe stolen recently from John Kruecer of Edwardsville. The motor of that car and chassis of two other cars stolen in Granite City were recovered in the Washington boulevard garage, it was said.

In the confession attributed to Klein, he stated he came to this country in 1914, at the outbreak of the World War, to escape military service in Germany. He admitted serving a 10-months' sentence in Chicago last year on conviction of an automobile theft. He stated, according to Federal agents, that prior to that conviction he and a partner had stolen automobiles in Chicago and Minneapolis, machines stolen in one of the cities being taken to the other to be sold.

LARGE SALES OF SPRING CLIP WOOL AND MOHAIR IN TEXAS

AUSTIN, Texas.—Large sales of spring clip wool and mohair have been made in Kerrville and Del Rio, two concentrating points, during the last few days, according to information received here. At Kerrville 600,000 pounds of mohair was purchased by Winslow & Co., of Boston, Mass., from the Shreiner Wool and Mohair Co. Shipments of the whole lot was made immediately. The price was not made public. The mohair was of high grade, it is stated. Approximately 400,000 pounds of mohair of the spring clip are still to be sold at Kerrville.

At Del Rio the Del Rio Wool and Mohair Company has just sold 450,000 pounds of wool and mohair. J. H. Cauthen, representing the Goodall Worsted Co., of Sanford, Me., purchased 228,000 pounds of mohair at prices ranging from 50 to 60 cents. H. F. Ruel representing Studley & Emery, of Boston, bought 260,000 pounds of short wool at 50 cents per pound. Henry Burns, representing Hallowell, Jones & Donald, of Boston, purchased 105,000 pounds of spring wool at from 50 to 55 cents.

The John Rosenaw clip of long wool, aggregating about 50,000 pounds, sold for 57½ cents per pound, which is believed so far to be the best price received for spring wool in West Texas.

The wool market is active, while there are few buyers for mohair and prices are somewhat low.

ROCKS GROW IN TREES

HOQUIAM, Wash.—The destruction of a huge band saw in a lumber mill here this week by a stone found ingrown in a tree trunk has revealed some curious reports of similar origin. Near Monroe a year ago a hemlock was felled and in the junction of the first limb with the trunk was imbedded a big piece of granite. At Snohomish there is a stick of timber with a rock grown into the hard wood-heart. A hand-hewn beam in the forestry building at the State University contains a rock. The missives lodge in the tops of young trees in spring when avalanches of snow and earth hurl them from cliffs. In time the growing tree envelops them, is the explanation offered by foresters and lumbermen.

One Dead, $40,000 Loss in Oil Fire.

By the Associated Press.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 24.—One life was lost and damage estimated at $40,000 was caused early today, when an 80,000 gallon-tank of gasoline exploded and burned in the yard of the Wofford Oil Co., here. Although 2,000,000 gallons of gasoline and crude oil were stored in 71 other tanks surrounding the blazing liquid the fire was confined to only one tank. Frank Williams, negro, was working on a pipe line leading to the tank when it blew up and his body has not been recovered.

Sturgeon Run Best in 10 Years.

DELAWARE CITY, Del.—Delaware River fishermen are having the best run of sturgeon in 10 years. Nine sturgeon, which sold for more than $2000, were caught recently. The most valuable fish was netted by Capt. Jack Tugend. It was a cow fish with 100 pounds of roe and brought $350.

CENTRAL FIGURES IN BRITISH POLITICS TODAY

The events of the last few days have indicated that Great Britain probably has had her last titled Premier. Lord Curzon, by rank and party service, should have succeeded to the vacancy created by Bonar Law's resignation. But he sits in the House of Lords. The exigencies of British politics require that the head of the Government shall sit in the House of Commons, where the chief opposition can put him on the question griddle. The chief opposition party is now, and is likely to continue to be, Labor and there are no Labor members in the House of Lords. So Curzon's ambition could not be realized and the great honor of Premier goes to his younger rival, Stanley Baldwin, who is a commoner. (1) Marquis Curzon of Kedleston, who loses England's highest political honor. (2) A very recent portrait of Stanley Baldwin, who gets the coveted place.

INTERVENES WITH CHINESE BANDITS FOR LIBERATION OF PRISONERS.

The Rev. Father William Lenfers, missionary of the Society of the Divine Word, according to dispatches, has taken part in the negotiations between the Chinese Government and the bandits that are holding Americans and others in custody for ransom. Father Lenfers, who has been in that country for years, penetrated to the mountain camp of the bandits to learn their terms. He was allowed to see and talk with the prisoners, and brought back the first word from them of their present safety but future peril. The mother house of the Missionary Society of the Divine Word is at Techny, Ill.

ST. LOUIS GIRL'S GROWTH IN OPERA

Miss Helen Moore, of 2615 Sublette avenue, is to have the important role of Adah in Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta," which will open the Municipal Opera season in Forest Park next Monday. She will sing "'Neath the Southern Moon," the most tuneful air in the opera. This will be her second season with al fresco forces.

ANOTHER FOREIGN FILM STAR "INVADES" AMERICA

Signorina Ginetta Traini, most famous of Italy's actresses in the silent drama, will appear in a series of productions to be made in California.

How to Understand Your Husbaud

By Winifred Harper Cooley

(Copyright, 1923.)

The Ideal Husband.

"I SEE that Lord Duzenbury told the reporters that the most amazing thing that he saw in America was the downtrodden American 'husband!'" said a millinery designer.

"I'll say he was right. Aren't husbands easy marks in this day and age?" chimed in the chief fitter. "Honestly, when I see the dear things come across with $150 per gown, and know they are footing the bills for everything Friend Wife orders without a murmur, I almost wish I had one of them myself!"

"And how complacent wifie usually is! She walks away with the best things in the store, with a mere 'charge it,' just as if she was a privileged being who deserved all the luxuries, when she never earned a dollar in her life, and probably lives in a hotel and has no children!"

"Yes, and half the time she is getting the gowns to go to Palm Beach with! And when summer comes she beats it to the Adirondacks and leaves poor hubby to swelter in solitude. Yet, does he ever murmur? He does not!"

"He is the Great American Goat! That song, 'Everybody Works but Father' was imbecile; it ought to have been 'Nobody Works but Father!' or else 'Everybody Works Father!'"

"You said it! American husbands are dead easy, and the poor fish don't even know they are giving all and getting nothing. Why, in all the old countries the man is the boss and is obeyed, and even if he is fond of his family and is a 'good husband' and provides for them, he is getting all that is coming to him. His wife don't gallavant around the globe, leaving him alone!"

European visitors invariably comment on the consideration and unselfishness of the typical American man. Of course, generalization always is partially untrue. The Domestic Relations Courts and divorce records show many faults and crimes of married men. But it is undeniable that our husbands have a tolerant, generous and amiable spirit and act as though a wife were more or less of a luxury, to be slaved for as a matter of course.

The business man is weary at night, but he good naturedly allows himself to be dragged out to social functions. He is bored by opera, but he dons evening clothes and sleeps drearily through it beause his wife insists that it is the correct thing to do. He takes the family out motoring on Sundays and pays for dinners for all the neighbors if his spouse conceives the idea that there is an obligation.

He seldom murmurs at bills or insists on her working at anything, for he has a fundamental belief that she is an ornament to his home and a sort of queen, too fine and good to take her share of the dirt and turmoil! He may wish they had a big, cheery house with open fireplaces, but if she likes a small flat down in the heart of the city he fits himself into that mode of living. When he gets home at midnight, after a fatiguing day of work and an evening at a directors' meeting, he may be greeted with a request that he go out again into the snowstorm to buy a lunch at the delicatessen two blocks away. Does he object, complain or refuse? No! He puts on his coat again and sallies forth good-naturedly!

Truly, he is the goat. "Let George do it" was invented for him.

If a wife wants to travel and leave him for six months at a stretch or enjoy cool breezes all through July and August while he is toiling in town, he seldom objects, but genially declaims, "Poor old girl, there is no reason why both of us should have to stay in the city in hot weather!"

His philosophy seems to be that a woman does him such honor merely by being his wife that she has discharged all obligations covering the period of their natural lives! She may be an inefficient home maker and a wholly idle person, but after all she is his wife; what else matters?

We know a man who courted a girl eight years. She was coquettish and hesitated to settle down. Finally they married, and she never has settled down! He is complacent, devoted, loving. She is kind and fond, but has her innocent flirtations, although he never looks at another woman. Probably he is an exception—about 115 per cent perfect; but many a modern husband is amiable and good-natured to the point of exasperation—from the standpoint of the women who are unwed but would like to marry.

What other men think of these paragons we do not know, but possibly it is viewing their enslaved state which makes the 13,000,000 bachelors stay so!

HEROINES of HISTORY

SIGNIFICANT INCIDENTS IN THE LIVES OF FAMOUS WOMEN

By MARK STUYVESANT

How Julia Ward Howe Wrote "Battle Hymn of the Republic"

"Mine eyes have seen the coming of the glory of the Lord,
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored,
He has loosed the fateful lightning of his terrible, swift sword,
His truth is marching on!"

FOR two generations no one has read these lines without thrilling to their beauty and feeling the depth of their stirring spirit. And surely the splendid woman who wrote the magnificent "Battle Hymn of the Republic" should go down as one of the distinguished women in American history as well as letters.

Julia Ward was the daughter of Samuel Ward, one of New York's most prominent bankers.

She was born on the site of what is now the United States custom house at Bowling Green, New York. This was at the time the most fashionable residential section of the city.

In 1843 this popular young girl, who was born in the very best society in America, married into a fine Boston family. Her husband was Dr. S. G. Howe, whose work among the deaf and dumb made him a prominent figure in the United States.

Immediately her house became the meeting place for all the distinguished people of Boston. Of this Mrs. Howe wrote:

"When I think of it, I believe I had a salon once upon a time. I did not call it so, nor even think of it as such; yet within it were gathered people who represented many and various aspects of life. They were real people, not lay figures distinguished by names and clothes."

It was in the early days of the Civil War, when Mrs. Howe was visiting in Washington, that she went to see the Federal troops reviewed.

The brave fellows were singing "John Brown's Body." Mrs. Howe could not control her emotions as she watched them swinging along and heard them singing with joy in their hearts because they were giving their lives to keep united a great nation.

As she listened to their strong young voices the tears streamed down her cheeks.

Her friend, James Freeman Clarke who knew that she had literary talent was standing next to her, and said:

"I will."

That night she slept. Early in the morning she awoke and—as though the words had come in a dream—quickly penned the splendid battle hymn, which was sung all over the country.

Many thought it should have been the national anthem, for it was sung around camp-fires, in prisons and by tired, marching soldiers.

Until she was 70 years old Mrs. Howe was seen on the lecture platform—for she worked for woman suffrage and international arbitration. She often appeared before the Legislatures of the various states, helping improve the laws of her country.

And always on these occasions she was asked to read her splendid "Battle Hymn of the Republic," which she had been inspired to write, and which today stands out majestically as one of America's great poems.

There is a preponderance of women in every borough of London.

CHAPTER XXIX.

Benjamin Remembers His Knack o' Jangling Words.

THE Lady Gloria and John Shale entered the drawing-room to find that Sir Rupert had lifted little Benjamin on to a couch, and was busily engaged stopping the flow of blood from the wound in his side.

"Egad! Shale, 'tis time you had a wash up," he laughed; "you look as if you had been fighting a regiment and, faith, so you very nearly did, in sooth."

Shale looked at himself in the mantel mirror and, observing the blood upon his face and the muddy and tattered condition of his clothes, he started in amazement.

"Gad!" he muttered. "I am indeed a sorry sight. And these are all the garments I possess. Here's a pretty pickle for a man to be in."

Lady Gloria looked at him tenderly.

"Nay, m'lord. Have you forgotten already that you are Lord Anderley, and that no more need you wear these homespun garments, or even that—that tall, furry hat, which I have treasured me these few days."

Shale gave a sigh of relief.

"Ah, yes, of course," he said. "Once more I will parade myself about my estates in silken breeches and satin coat—though, in truth, I shall be sorry to part with these old rags. They have served me well."

Sir Rupert was looking at him curiously.

"So you are actually the real heir to Anderley," he said. "Faith, 'tis plain that most 'mazing likeness to—to the other must bear a blood relationship. So you are the true son of the Lady Anderley and the fencing master who was the lion of the French court 30 years ago. I've heard my father speak o' his wonderful power wi' the blade."

Shale bowed his head.

"Aye, I am his son," he said in a low voice.

Sir Rupert turned to Lady Gloria.

"Faith, you'd better dispatch a messenger posthaste to the Lady Genevieve to tell her the good news," he said. "Though I'll warrant me she knew who the heir to Anderley Hall was all the time. 'Tis ever her way to be prepared for emergencies."

Gloria smiled.

"In truth, it takes much to rouse Aunt Genevieve," she said, "but I think this news will make her most excited."

She turned and, ringing a bell, ordered a footman to send a courier to Anderley Hall to tell the Lady Genevieve that the son of her sister and the new heir to Anderley had been found, and his name was John Shale.

While she was speaking to the footman, little Benjamin opened his eyes and stared at Shale.

"Gad!" he muttered. "So you are Lord Anderley, after all? 'Tis more than my poor brain can understand. First Simon doth shoot Anderley, then Anderley doth pose as Anderley, and I am haunted by Anderley, while at the same time I do tell Anderley that he is accused o' killing Anderley. Faith, 'tis a puzzle."

Shale and Sir Rupert laughed heartily.

"Ah, Benjamin," quoth the former, "I see you still have the knack of jangling words and phrases, most entertaining."

"Where did you encounter him?" asked Shale curiously.

"In the garden, m'lord. When you did chase me in the woods I hied me to the Grange to see if you would really come here, and, faith, when I arrived at the gate and looked me for the signpost which had stood there, I could scarcely believe my eyes, for it was gone, and nothing but the splintered stump of it was left. So I did pursue my investigations further, and entered me the grounds of the Grange. I was crossing the lawn near the old hunting box when I encountered Simon."

"Aye, go on," sighed Shale, watching him intently, as indeed were also the Lady Gloria and Sir Rupert.

"Well, Simon he greeted me with much abuse," went on the little man. "And he swore most solemnly that an' I moved a foot towards the house he would pump me full of lead, and knowing Simon, I did believe him and hastily withdrew my carcass to the thicket beyond the lawn, there to watch my chance to reach the house unharmed. Accordingly, after some few minutes, I essayed me another attempt, and once more I did encounter Simon, who did not wait to threaten, but pulled the trigger of his pistol and winged me in the side. Then he departed as quickly as his legs could carry him, leaving me for dead. And for myself I believed that I was dying and, though I am not over righteous, I deemed it unwise to enter the next world without denouncing Simon, and so struggled across the lawn to the window there and tapped upon it in the fashion you know."

"You have done well, Benjamin Greenleaf," he said, "and I shall remember it ever."

"Faith, so shall I," grinned the little man, "and master, an' you'd be grateful, wilt do me a favor?"

"Say it, and it is done," said Shale.

"Well, master, there's that flagon of brandy on the table. Now, I am a sick man, m'lord, mighty sorely wounded and methinks 'tis most providential that yon decanter should be there now——"

Amidst much laughter, Sir Rupert reached for the brandy, and pouring out a stiff glass passed it to Benjamin.

Suddenly Gloria spoke.

"M'lord—your arm, it is bleeding most grievously from that wound Sir Claude Aylesbury gave you!"——

Shale looked down at it.

"'Tis nothing but a scratch," he said, then added quickly, "m'lady, hast any notion where that—that knave, Peter, hath gotten to?"

Gloria started and bit her lips at her forgetfulness.

"Why, m'lord, he—he was imprisoned there by Sir Humphrey, who said he was an accomplice of—of—"

She paused.

"Of yours, m'lord."

Shale laughed heartily.

"Ah, well, suppose we visit the vault and see how he hath been conducting himself," he suggested.

Gloria smiled roguishly.

"Why, yes, m'lord, methinks 'tis time he were released and, moreover, I suspect me he will be most grievously upset pondering o'er your fate. 'Twas always plain he had a strange liking for you, m'lord."

Shale laughed.

"'Tis one of these unaccountable things, m'lady. I cannot understand anyone having a liking for such a dolesome wretch as I, yet, m'lady, it gives me new heart to think that there are one or two who do regard me in somewhat friendly fashion."

He looked at her.

"Aye, m'lady, but—but methinks 'twas for want of a better word. There is one such word, but 'tis seldom spoke of in company."

"Truly, m'lord, the setting of a scene is nigh as important as the scene itself. Pray, do not let me keep you from—your cellar."

"'Tis good advice, Sir Rupert," he said—"m'lady, wilt lean you on this fearsome-looking arm o' mine?"

She took it gently.

"Nay, m'lord, I will but hold it thus that you may not feel the pain o't so intense."

She dropped a pretty curtsey to Sir Rupert, and then looked up at John Shale with happy tears shining in her eyes.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Boxer's New Brother and Sisters

By Thornton W. Burgess

Pity those who pleasure find
By keeping ugly thoughts in mind.
—Old Mother Nature.

TRIPLETS! Three babies all of the same age! Is it any wonder that Boxer nearly fell out of the tree in which he was perched when he discovered that Mother Bear had such a big family? It was plainly to be seen that Mother Bear was very, very, very proud of those three little cubs. And such funny little cubs as they were. This was their first time outside their home under the old windfall, and their little eyes were round with wonder at everything they saw. At first they simply sat down and stared and stared and stared, first at one thing and then at another.

When Boxer recovered from his surprise he began to grow a little uneasy. What if Mother Bear should discover him up in that tree? His first impulse was to climb down and get away from there as fast as he could. But Mother Bear would be sure to hear him climbing down, and she might reach the foot of that tree before he could get away. Perhaps the best thing to do would be to stay right where he was.

So Boxer did just this. Mother Bear was so occupied with her babies that beyond continually testing the Merry Little Breezes with her nose, and listening for suspicious sounds, she did nothing else. You see, those three babies were too small to follow her any distance. She had simply brought them out for their first look at the Green Forest, and to play around their home. She looked as if she was the proudest mother in all the Green Forest, and very likely she was.

Seeing that Mother Bear evidently intended to stay right close to those little cubs, Boxer began to feel easier in his mind. Then as fear left jealous thoughts crept in. It was for these clumsy, homely, nearly helpless babies that he and Woof-Woof had been driven out into the Great World by Mother Bear. It was to these that Mother Bear had given the love she had once held for Boxer and Woof-Woof. Boxer's eyes grew red with jealous anger.

"I don't see what she wanted of them anyway," said he to himself. "If ever I catch them alone, something is going to happen to them. What good are they, anyway? They can't even walk without tumbling over their own feet. And how homely they are! My gracious, how homely they are! And Mother Bear is perfectly silly over them. Some day I'll catch them alone and teach them it doesn't pay to drive others out of their own home."

Now, all this time it had never once entered Boxer's head that those funny little triplets were any relation to him. If anyone had told him that they were related to him just as was his twin sister, Woof-Woof, he would have been as surprised a Bear as ever lived. But they were. One of them was his own brother. The other two were his own sisters. But Boxer didn't know it, and probably never would know it. To him they were just three little strangers, and he didn't love them a bit. In fact, so jealous was he that he did just the other thing.

So as he sat there high in that hemlock tree, watching the three little cubs and Mother Bear, he planned how he would get even with them for driving him out of his old home. They were not nice thoughts at all that Boxer had. But somehow he seemed to get a lot of pleasure from them. Some people are that way.

Spring Vegetables

Asparagus.

ASPARAGUS is a delicious spring vegetable that is equally good whether served hot with plain melted butter, a cream or a Hollandaise sauce or cold with a vinaigrette sauce. It is economy to tie the asparagus into bunches after carefully washing it, then evenly cut off the tender end. The stalky portion can be cooked separately until tender and used for another dinner. After 15 minutes' cooking asparagus should be carefully watched, as even two minutes' overcooking will destroy the color and flavor. Asparagus should never boil hard but should just simmer in boiling salted water.

To Serve.

Arrange on buttered toast or the toast may be dipped into the water in which the asparagus was cooked (this water should be used for soup), season with pepper and salt and pour over them melted butter or a Hollandaise sauce, using chicken bouillon cubes instead of water.

Asparagus With Eggs.

After asparagus is cooked lay the stalks into a baking dish and season with pepper and salt, then pour over a little melted butter. Beat three or four eggs just enough to break the yolks and pour over the asparagus. Place in moderate oven until eggs are set (about eight minutes). The lower end of the stalks, if cooked tender, will do nicely for this dish, which is good served with ham.

The Stalk End.

If you have graded the asparagus and cooked it in two separate bunches both will be tender. The tips can be served the first day and the stalks put on ice. When ready to prepare these chop them together with a bit onion, heat, season with salt and pep per and add the beaten yolk of egg. Thoroughly stir the mixture, range it on sippets of toasted and pour over it a little melted

Bachelors who anticipate joining the ranks of the mated may perhaps find the following superstitious bridal lore of interest: A January bride will be a prudent housekeeper and good-tempered. A February bride will be an affectionate wife and a tender mother. A March bride will be a frivolous chatterbox, given to quarrelling. An April bride will be inconstant, not intelligent, fairly good-looking. A May bride will be handsome, amiable, of a happy disposition. A June bride will be impetuous and generous. A July bride will be pretty and smart, but somewhat quick-tempered. An August bride will be both amiable and practical. A September bride will be discreet, affable and much liked. An October bride will be pretty, coquettish, loving, but jealous. A November bride will be liberal, kind, but wild of disposition. A December bride will be good-looking, fond of novelty, entertaining, but extravagant.

THE SPRING WASHING

BLANKETS.

DO not rub woolen blankets. Use a soap solution made by cutting up a cake of good nonalkali soap and boiling in about two quarts of water until dissolved. Soap chips or flakes can be substituted, using about two cupfuls in three quarts of water. In either case add two tablespoonfuls of borax and an equal quantity of ammonia.

Hardening and shrinking are two evils to be avoided, therefore woolen blankets should not be rubbed—a kneading motion will effectually cleanse them. They should be hung in the shade, and all water must be of the same temperature—lukewarm.

Do not try to wring them by hand: run them through the wringer. If it must be done by hand do not wring in the usual twisting motion. This is apt to break the fiber. Squeezing between the hands is better. An easy way to rinse blankets is to hang them on the line and play the hose on them until thoroughly rinsed. It is less strain on the blankets as well as on the person washing them. The water can be squeezed from the edges as it settles there, to hasten the drying.

PILLOWS.

Immerse the feather pillows in a tub of hot suds. Swash them thoroughly in the water. If the ticking is badly soiled use a small brush. Splash them through several rinsing waters. Squeeze out between the hands as much water as possible, shake vigorously and hang out to dry. A bright, windy day should be chosen for this task. When perfectly dry beat lightly and shake well. It is advisable to hang pillows out in the air for several days after washing, but do not hang in the sun, as this draws out the oil and gives the feathers an unpleasant odor.

ROAST VEAL

A dressing of bread crumbs seasoned with butter, onions and sage is nice with roast veal. A few slices of bacon laid on top of the roast give it a nice flavor and supply the necessary fat for basting. Potatoes peeled and roasted with the veal are tasty.

Important Points in Storing Winter Clothing

IN town it is easy to take advantage of the many offers of cold storage offered at fair prices by the big shops. And even in the small towns such conveniences are available. But away from town is where the most expert knowledge is required to store things in the best and most up-to-date ways.

In putting away men's clothing, every suit should be cleaned, pockets and trouser cuffs emptied and brushed, buttons and repairing done, then carefully pressed. Do not hang them in the open air, for at this season the earliest flying insects are ready to deposit eggs in woolen garments that later make trouble. After the garments are ready, do them up securely in newspaper, tagging each parcel. The print is one of the moths' pet aversions. See that trunk, or chest, is wiped out with damp ammonia cloths before the garments are put into them. When the packing is done, moth balls or powders may be scattered among the bundles. When all is packed, close the trunk or the chest tightly. Then place in a cool, dry rooms or closet. All cloth dresses and coats should be cleaned in the same way and pressed to destroy any moth eggs that may have been deposited in them while hanging in the closet after warm weather has set in.

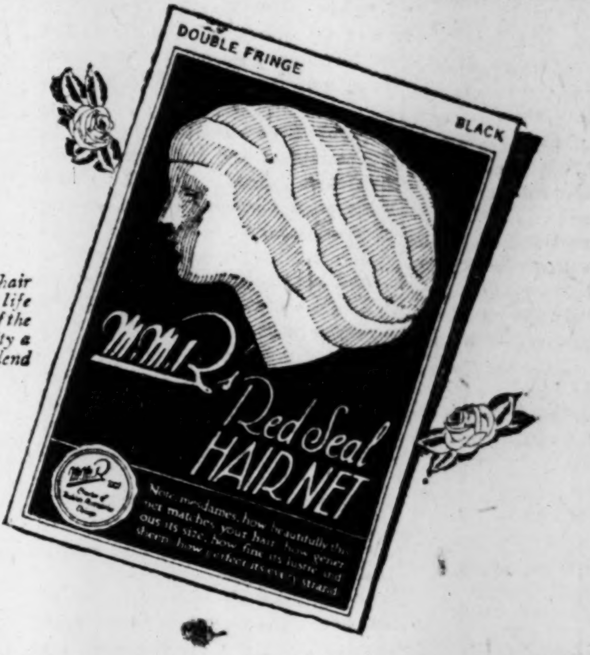
Sealskin is the easiest fur to take care of, for moths do not seem to attack it as they do other furs. So, if brushed, then wrapped up in newspaper and put in the trunk, it is likely to come out all right. But if in doubt, an old-fashioned method is to use a large hardwood barrel. Fasten hooks around the inside. Then place an open bottle of chloroform in the bottom and put on the tight-battened cover securely. Old-fashioned people were sure that this method excelled any other, and trusted all their fur treasures to the care of the barrel.

In putting away velvet dresses, remove all shields, and lace collars, wipe the dust off with a soft cloth. Then, after stuffing the sleeves with soft tissue paper, fold with tissue paper between the folds. Then wrap in newspaper. The tissue paper keeps the velvet from creasing and fine wrinkling.

Jetted trimmings should be covered with tissue paper, while any steel trimmings should have magnesia dusted into them. Then cover with the tissue paper, which will keep them from tarnishing.

White lace or net gowns should be put away in well-blued cloths to keep them from turning yellow.

Instead of buying silk dresses when long skirts came back into style to be ruined in crossing muddy streets, the women of Capitol Heights, a suburb of Washington, D. C., led by Mrs. Grace Stansbury, donned overalls and improved the streets and nearby roads.



MMR has perfected a hair net of longer wearing life which yet lacks nothing of the daintiness and invisibility a hair net must have to lend beauty to the coiffure

MMR has found the one successful way

ALWAYS, MMR, designer of women's fashion accessories has been specially interested in the hair net. For he feels that it adds so much to the beauty of a woman's hair.

But he believes that a hair net can be more than just a perishable trifle, worn today, replaced tomorrow. New possibilities of longer wear MMR finds for this dainty feminine accessory.

And so, in MMR's Red Seal hair net you have a delicate, invisible thing which still is very sturdy, capable of the longer wear you would so much like.

How can such fragile strands of hair be expected to give much wear?—you ask. MMR has found a way—the only successful way.

Just by painstaking, unending care in the details of making! Perfection in every step of design and handiwork!

Such small details as the length of hairs, for instance; MMR will have only the longest. And they are selected with utmost care for color, sheen and texture.

The mesh of a hair net is a vital factor in its wearing strength. It must be woven a certain size, numbering so many knots, so many spaces. And the knots are tied firmly, just so far apart.

MMR insists on correct shape and ample size, because these, he says, have much to do with the wear a hair net gives.

Thus, you see, MMR's hair net is perfectly made in every step. And so it gives not only practical value in the longer wear it offers but an added beauty to the hair which a less perfectly made net can never give!

In its durability and greater wear, MMR's Red Seal hair net presents a new economy, which you will surely appreciate. Begin to enjoy it now; give this net a thorough testing. At all drug and department stores here, 2 for 25c.

for Graduation

Twenty million proud users approve this gift

Eversharp and Wahl Pen will serve the graduate for life—will meet his every writing need, business and social.

The very weight of numbers suggests Eversharp. Only America's finest pencil could have twenty million users. And such popularity argues well for its reception as a graduation gift. Remember, Eversharp can't be copied. The rifled tip and the lead index are Eversharp features. One assures a firm lead free from slip or wobble; the other tells always the length of lead in the barrel. And Eversharp perfect balance suits the hand to a T.

Matching the beauty and accuracy of Eversharp is Wahl Pen—the greatest modern step forward in pen construction. It holds more ink, because the barrel is all metal. It cannot crack or break. The screw threads will not wear out.

Give both, matched in gold and silver. Buy them in the velvet-lined gift box. Eversharp, $1 to $10—Wahl Pen, $4 to $10. Solid gold at higher prices. Look for the name on each.

THE COWBOY AND THE BULL.

THERE'S a question that is worrying the populace today,
And of it all the papers have been full;
It is bringing agitation to the sporting population—
Can Cowboy Willard rope the Pampas Bull?

Though the Bull is wild and woolly, and declares he's feeling bully,
In the weights the Cowboy will enjoy a pull;
Midst the mesquite and cactus he has had a lot of practice

But if he is successful it will be a bit distressful

PLENTY OF ROOM.

Despite the birth records, Jess Willard still says he is 38, or is 38 still, whichever way you want to put it. That's his story and he's going to stick to it.

And, we take it, he will still be 38 when Father Time knocks him for a row of headstones.

FAVORITE STORIES

By Irvin S. Cobb

A LITTLE BEDTIME TALE.

IF you have for a friend a clergyman who is slightly deaf, it is proper to tell this story on him, adding that you were present when it happened. As a matter of fact, it has been attributed to every distinguished churchman in this country who is hard of hearing. However, it goes better, I think, when you make the central character a Bishop—my preference being a very dignified Bishop—who is attending a dinner party.

Seated next to him, on his deafer side, is a young lady who, being naturally diffident, is now deeply awed by her proximity to so famous a man. She hesitates to address him, preferring to wait for what she regards as a favorable opportunity; yet she craves conversation with him.

Toward the end of the meal, fruit is passed about. The nervous guest seizes on this for her cue. Gently she joggles her great neighbor's elbow.

"I beg your pardon, sir," she says, "but are you fond of bananas?"

"What did you say?" he asks.

Blushing, the young woman raises her voice:

By now, all the others at the table are listening. The Bishop considers for a moment and then replies:

"Well, my dear, if you wish my honest opinion, I have always preferred the old-fashioned nightshirt."
